6 PLANS FOR 6 VACATION HOUSES

American-Standard bathrooms in color

make it easy to change your color scheme as often as you like

See how easy it is to change your bathroom from blue and chartreuse to blue and copper . . . or blue and yellow when you start with American-Standard colored fixtures. That's because American-Standard colors blend with more color schemes . . . let you change your bathroom by just changing your accessories.

Have a second bathroom! Every modern home needs one. Chances are there's enough room in your home to have one. Actually, an American-Standard bathroom can be fitted into a 3' x 8' area . . . into a closet or that space behind the stairs. The colored fixtures shown here are ideal for either a master or second bathroom.

For lasting quality insist on American-Standard fixtures. They will give better service, longer service. In the bathroom illustrated, the bath is of rigid cast iron with a smooth, thick coat of enamel . . . toilet and lavatory are of easy-to-clean vitreous china. And American-Standard fittings are designed to assure smooth operation, dependable service. All fittings are finished in non-tarnishing Chromard.

Even with no down payment, pay as little as $2.18° a week for the bathroom fix-tures shown. Your local American-Standard retailer will help you arrange easy payment terms. He is listed in the Yellow Pages of the phone book under "plumbing fix-tures" or "plumbing supplies." Or for the big Home Book-packed with helpful bathroom, kitchen and heating ideas-send 10¢ in coin to cover handling to American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp., Dept. PA-25, Pittsburgh 30, Pa.

Have a "new bathroom." It's easy . . . for example just change your accessories from chartreuse to copper.

These blue fixtures go with so many colors that it's easy to change your color scheme as often as you like.

Be sure your retailer installs American-Standard fittings on your fixtures. They combine smart beauty, long service.

HOME MEANS MORE...WITH CARPET ON THE FLOOR

Where there's happy family living, carpet's in the picture. Carpet fills any room with a special kind of warmth, comfort and beauty. Luxuriously soft, restfully quiet, carpet gives your home the warm, friendly glow that invites family "gettogethers." A romp on the floor with the kids... a relaxing hour of TV...a visit from admiring neighbors—carpet adds so much.

Yes, home means more with carpet on the floor—more beauty, more quiet, more comfort. And carpet means more convenience, too, for just a whisk of the vacuum keeps it beautifully fresh and full of life.

Lovely, long-wearing carpet costs far less than you think. And it's so easy to buy on convenient budget terms. Ask your dealer to show you the wonderful colors and textures of today's new rugs and carpets. Buy carpets designed and made for the American way of life by these American manufacturers:

Artloom * Beattie * Bigelow * Downs * Firth
Gullstan * Hardwick & Magee * Hightstown * Holmes
Karastan * Leedom * Lees * Magee * Masland
Mohawk * Nye-Wait * Philadelphia Carpet

Good planning for televiewing is exemplified in this study in the J. A. Samuelson home, Seattle. Both fireplace and TV set are focal points in the room-rather than placing them on opposite walls, as so often happens, the Samuelsons planned them in a corner so the eye can enjoy fire and TV in the same glance. A trio of architects from widely separated states are represented by newsworthy Modern houses this month:

. . . VAN EVERA BAILEY, A.I.A., of Oswego, Oregon, has spent 30 of his 50 years tailoring modern homes to their occupants and their climate, using materials native to his state to great advantage aesthetically-and economically. His experiments with unorthodox plans and construction have been notably successful, and many of them are used in the summer home he occupies with his wife, writer Janet McHendrie.

... KENNETH E. WISCHMEYER, A.I.A., of St. Louis, Missouri, is represented by a merchant builder's house which reveals how many advanced ideas can be successfully incorporated in a home designed for sale to unknown owners -a very different problem than designing for a specific family. His objective here was to achieve "a compact, salable home within the reach of a fair percentage of home seekers . . . who want something fresh and distinctive, but not of extreme character." Mr. Wischmeyer received degrees from Washington University and M.I.T., and has been a very active member of the American Institute of Architects.

HIGH-FIDELITY MUSIC-APPRECIATION RECORDS

TO HELP YOU UNDERSTAND MUSIC BETTER AND ENJOY IT MORE

ON ONE SIDE there is a full performance of a great musical work, just as on the ordinary records you buy. The records will feature orchestras and soloists of recognized distinction in this country and abroad. You listen to the performance first, or afterward, as you desire, and then . . .

listen for in order to appreciate the work fully.

A NEW IDEA OF THE BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB

ALL TOO FREQUENTLY, most of us are aware, we do not listen to good music with due understanding and appreciation. Our minds wander, and we realize afterward that we have missed most of the beauties of the work. There is no doubt about the reason: we are not primed about what to listen for. Music-Appreciation Records meet this need—for a fuller understanding of music—better than any means ever devised. They do it, sensibly, by auditory demonstration.

YOU HEAR MUSIC AS THE GREAT CONDUCTORS HEAR IT... On the podium they have in mind at every moment the various themes of the work, their interplay and development, and the main architectural features of the composition. This combined aesthetic and intellectual pleasure is what every music-lover can now acquire through Music-Appreciation Records. After hearing several of these records, all the music you listen to is transformed, because you learn in general what to listen for. This enjoyable form of self-education can be as thorough as the Music-Appreciation courses given in any university.

YOU SUBSCRIBE BUT TAKE ONLY THE RECORDS YOU WANT... A new Music-Appreciation Record will be issued — for subscribers only — every month. Ultimately all the great masterpieces of music will be included. The announcement about each forthcoming record will be written by Deems Taylor. After reading this descriptive essay you may take the record or not, as you decide at the time. You are not obligated as a subscriber to take any specified number of records. And, of course, you may stop the subscription at your pleasure — at any time!

TWO TYPES OF RECORDS AT A RELATIVELY LOW COST . . . All Music-Appreciation Records will be high-fidelity, long-playing records of the highest quality  $-33\frac{1}{3}$  R.P.M. on Vinylite. They will be of two kinds: first, a so-called Standard Record — a twelve-inch disc — which will present the performance on one side, the analysis on the other. This will be sold at \$3.60, to subscribers only. The other will be an Analysis-Only Record — a ten-inch disc — priced at \$2.40. The latter will be made available each month for any subscriber who may already have a satisfactory long-playing record of the work being presented. (A small charge will be added to the prices above to cover postage and handling.)

TRY A ONE-MONTH SUBSCRIPTION — NO OBLIGATION TO CONTINUE . . . Why not make a simple trial, to see if these records are as pleasurable and as enlightening as you may anticipate? The first record, Beethoven's FIFTH Symphony, will be sent to you at once — at no charge. You may end the subscription immediately after hearing this record — and keep it with our compliments — or you may cancel any time thereafter.

Giant trees were uprooted and broken like matchsticks by winds of more than 100 miles an hour.

Many automobiles were almost submerged by floods.

Out-of-town convoy heads for the hurricane area.

Telephone Men and Supplies Were on the Way Before the Winds Died Down

Carol, Edna and Hazel, as you may remember, were no ladies. They came raging in from the sea, to leave New England and eight eastern states reeling from the wrath of wind and flood.

It was, as always, a challenge to the telephone companies. Local employees responded instantly. Companies in other states were quick to send help.

"The hurricane had not blown itself out," said one newspaper editorial, "before aid was on its way. Expert repair crews with their familiar green trucks hurried into the stricken communities with the dispatch of reserve army divisions rushing to stem an enemy break-through in a vital battle line."

Along with the will and the skill of telephone people to handle emergencies came the millions of miles of wire and the thousands of tons of equipment that were needed for the job. These were provided by Western Electric, the Bell System's manufacturing and supply unit.

One of the heart-warming things to us was the friendly understanding of the people in the storm-ridden communities.

To them go the thanks of all the telephone men and women who took part in the work of restoration.

How We Retired in 15 Years with $250 a Month

"The day Nancy and I hit Arizona, we knew it was for us. The air itself felt alive, and the sunshine-well, it was wonderful. We bought a new ranch house that cost less than the price we got for our city homeand is lots less work. Every single morning I've waked up since, I've been thankful to the monthly check for $250 that makes it all possible.

Somehow, in my forties it was hard to believe I'd want to slow up someday. Fact is, Nancy was the smart one. One day she came to me-back in 1939, it was-and took out the bank book. 'We've got to do something,' she said. 'Anyone who works as hard as you do ought to be able to plan to retire someday. We just aren't savers.'

"I knew that. Want to try a business of our own?' I asked.

"Nancy shook her head, 'You know we haven't enough money for that-enough experience, either. How much would we have to save up to retire on bank interest?"

"Well, interest rates were higher in '39, but I figured almost a hundred thousand. It was out of the question. And I shrugged it off.

'But not Nancy. A few weeks later she came to me with a little book called 'Phoenix Mutual Retirement Plans.' She said she'd read an ad about a new way to retire. It was for anybody of average means who had fifteen or twenty good earning years ahead. The ad offered more information, and she sent in the coupon.

"It was Nancy's little book that changed my mind. Here was a way I could retire-and in 15 years, if I wanted to. There was no secret, except to start soon enough. And I did. Well, my Phoenix Plan was a greater joy as time went by.

My first check for $250 came last spring. With it, Nancy and I were off to the West. I feel ten years vounger since I got here. I say it's the Arizona air. But Nancy winks and says it's being my own boss. Anyway, I wouldn't change places with our company president.

After years of "looking." Mrs. B. Billow, 538 Roscoe, Chicago, found a way to get good-looking, full-time protection for her furniture from dust, dirt, and "romping tots." Now her furniture is dressed up in fitted plastic covers.

The long-wearing plastic covers have no pores to admit dust and dirt. They provide perfect protection and save hours of work. The transparent, satin-finish Firestone Velon lets the upholstery's fabric detail and color show through. Amazed by the perfect fit and custom-tailored appearance, Mrs. Billow says. "They're so good looking, I can even leave them on for company. Ordering was easy, and they're so inexpensive. Housewives with the same problem should write for the free catalog, as I did."

HOW TO SUCCEED WHILE YOU'RE STILL YOUNG

SURPRISES many people to learn that the average age of the men who respond to our advertisements is closer to forty than to twenty. But it's not hard to understand why this is true! Most young men are satisfied with their progress in business. They find success only a matter of time. But the day comes, often with a shocking suddenness, when this easy and casual progress ends abruptly. Many a man wakes up with a start in his thirties or forties to find that his income has leveled off, and that promotions have ceased.

"I'm not getting ahead as fast as I should," he says to himself. "Where am I going to be ten years from now?"

Sheer ability and energy can carry a man to the mid-way point in business ... but only a thorough knowledge of business fundamentals can help him beyond that point.

If you realize that fact while time is still on your side - and act on it you can succeed while you're still young.

FREE-"FORGING AHEAD IN BUSINESS"

We do not claim that you must have the Alexander Hamilton Course in order to succeed in business. But we do say that you cannot succeed without what is in the Course!

So that you may judge for yourself whether or not you think the Institute can help you, we have published an informative 48-page book titled "Forging Ahead in Business," for which there is no charge.

We believe that this little book will help any man get down to bedrock in his thinking; however, there's no cost or obligation for it because-frankly-we've never been able to put a price on it that would reflect its true value. Some men have found a fortune in its pages.

If you would like a complimentary copy of "Forging Ahead in Business," simply sign and return the coupon below. It will be mailed to you promptly.

New method for with # making all cakes (REQUIRING) Kraft All Purpose Oil

Spice cakes, jam cakes, chocolate cakes... all your favorites can now be made with Kraft All Purpose Oil as the shortening.

Kraft Oil is delightfully easy to measure accurately. And you know how important accurate measurements are in baking.

Kraft All Purpose Oil blends right through the batter to make cakes unbelievably delicate in texture, moist and rich right down to the last delicious crumb. Why not send for your free recipe book right away?

Sift together all the dry ingredients except Add Kraft All Purpose Oil, liquid, and flavoring to the sifted dry ingredients.

3 Beat this mixture until it forms a very smooth

In separate bowl, beat eggs until thick and foamy.

Add sugar gradually, beating until well blended.

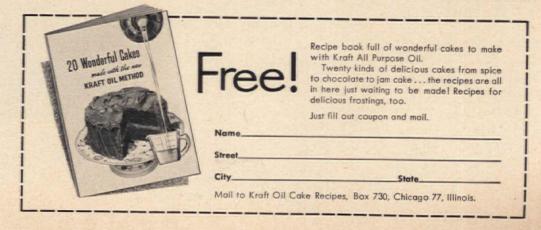

5 Fold this egg and sugar mixture thoroughly into the batter.

Pour into waxed-paper lined layer pans and bake, according to the directions on recipe.

Kraft All Purpose Oil . . . the most wonderful oil ever created or deep-frying, pan-frying, nomemade salad dressings, and now . . . baking cakes!

NEW G-E AUTOMATIC WASHER CLEANS AND RE-CLEANS WASH WATER TO GIVE YOU CLEANER CLOTHES

Here's how the new Filter-Flo Washing System removes lint, sand and soap scum!

Removable filter fits on the Activator® in the G-E Automatic Washer. Acts as detergent dispenser, too. Here you see the removal of lint, loose threads, tobacco shreds and grit. Slip out filter to empty.

1 Dirt loosens as clothes are individually dipped, flexed and cleansed by thorough G-E Activator Washing Action.

- 2 Floating lint and soap scum are carried away as washbasket continuously overflows into outer tub.
- 3 Heavy sand and silt drop out here.
- 4 Pump continually forces water up and through filter and (5) back into washbasket.

Today's best buy—G-E Automatic Washer—about $3.35 weekly. Only G-E gives you so much for your money—1. continuously filtered water. 2. big capacity. 3. Activator Washing Action. Plus famed dependability! Also see maing G-E Automatic Dryer that saves you extra iron General Electric Co., Appliance Park, Louisville 1, Ky.

Now—a new kind of washer takes dirt out of the water while you wash—the General Electric Automatic with Filter-Flo Washing.

This wonderful new system circulates and filters the wash water at the rate of six gallons per minute.

As the Filter-Flo Washing System recirculates the water, lint and floating soil are trapped in a filter which lets only the cleansed sudsy water flow back into the washbasket.

Rinse water stays clear of lint. Soap scum can't dull colors. You get a superbly clean wash... so effortlessly...

Big capacity, too! This G-E Washer has 50% more clothes capacity than many other automatics. In one load, you can wash a big family wash that might otherwise take two separate loadings. Water so quickly . . . simply by setting a dial.

wise take two separate loadings. Water Saver Control lets you select from 17 down to 11 gallons of water for small washes.

*See your dealer for his prices and terms. Specifications subject to change without notice.

Not the "linty-water" way. These dungarees looked like this—dulled and discolored by lint film after 11 washings in an ordinary washer. Lint often gets stuck in seams, too.

But the "clean-wash-water" After 11 washings the G-E way, identical dungarees looked like this lint visible! Washing in filtered leaves clothes sparkling clean.

BELLINI: Norma, sung by Maria Meneghini Callas, Ebe Stignani, Nicola Rossi-Lemeni, and the chorus and orchestra of the Teatro alla Scala, directed by Tullio Serafin

ANGEL ALBUM 3517 c, three 12-inch LPs, $17.85

One of the chief reasons why Bellini's Norma is so often missing from the repertories of great opera companies is a very simple one—there just ain't many sopranos around who can sing it! This work, a classic of melodic purity, unique in its challenging difficulty, comes along, remains a few seasons, then languishes in obscurity until the time comes for it to re-emerge. That of course, would be when the right lady singer appears—one with tremendous pipes, fabulous vocal technique, and, in short, just about everything needed to sing the title role. There is one such, an American girl of Greek origin, Maria Meneghini Callas. She can sing Norma, and she does in a scintillating performance for which Angel Records is responsible. Not only does she possess the voice and the technique required for Norma, but she has just the right musical and dramatic feeling for the part of Bellini's not-so-chaste Druid priestess. How important an asset the last is, may be realized by the fact that Bellini wrote lovely and expressive singing lines, while leaving the orchestra bare of color and interpretative aids. You will not find the score of Norma just teeming with little orchestral assists to character development. The embodiment of Norma, verily, is almost a soprano's via crucis, and a long rocky via it is. (What the music of a Verdi might have done to the libretto I hesitate to dwell upon here!) Angel's recording of this work fairly glitters with high achievement. Miss Callas is mistress of the role, without question. Ebe Stignani, as Adalgisa, lifts that part a cut or two above the best I have ever heard. Nicola Rossi-Lemeni, as the Druid chieftain, does commendable work, as do the other singers and the chorus and orchestra of the Teatro alla Scala, under the brilliant direction of Tullio Serafin.

FRENCH ORCHESTRAL MUSIC: Roussel's The Spider's Feast, Debussy's Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun, Dukas' The Sorcerer's Apprentice, Honegger's Pastorale, and Faure's Pavane, Op. 50, all played by the Orchestre des Concerts Lamoureux, under Jean Martinon.

EPIC LC 3058—one 12-inch LP, $5.95 Ingratiating, very French, very nicely done. The Debussy and Dukas pieces alone would be worth the price of the platter for their idiomatic imprint. They would, that is, if the other music had not been charmingly realized which makes everything velvet. The transparency of the orchestral sound obtained here, besides, is just what's needed for these scores.

THE LOW-COST FLOOR WITH THE LUXURY LOOK

One of the great adventures in your family life is buying a home of your own. If you're like 95% of America's home owners, you'll finance it through a mortgage—a simple matter after you answer 7 basic questions.

HERE'S . . .

What You Should Know About Financing Your Home

DONALD TAYLOR

Intil they have owned a home of their own, the average couple doesn't know an equity from an escrow, and the whole business of home financing seems remote and mysterious. No wonder, for it has been wrapped in antiquated legal terminology and, until recently, mortgage lenders have not sold their product (mortgage money is, after all, something you "buy") as other businessmen have. However, as witness the 10,000,000 families who have bought or built their own homes since World War II, financing a home is relatively easy if you have a small amount of cash, a steady job—and answers to the following questions:

- 1. How much can I afford to spend for my home?
- 2. How much money will I need immediately?
- 3. How much can I afford to pay each month?
- 4. How long should I take to repay the loan?
- 5. Where can I borrow the needed money?
- 6. What type of mortgage is best in my case?
- 7. How can I protect my investment?

1. SET A CEILING ON COSTS. Mortgage lenders generally apply two rules-of-thumb to the cost of a home they are mortgaging. The first is that the total cost of your home should not be more than two-and-a-half times your annual income. Thus if your total yearly income is $5,000, your home should cost no more than $12,500; and if your income is $8,000, you may safely plan to spend up to $20,000 for a home. The second rule-of-thumb is that monthly payments required to meet the carrying charges and to pay off the loan should not be more than your weekly income. If you earn $100 a week, the payments necessary to reduce the mortgage principal and to pay interest, taxes, and insurance should not be more than $100 a month (and some lenders feel that this sum should also cover heating fuel, utilities, and the cost of transportation to your work). Of course, such windfalls as an unexpected inheritance or a winning ticket on the Irish Sweepstakes will permit you to buy beyond your income, but you will be surprised how often the same "safe top cost" pops up when you push the button for either of the two rules-of-thumb.

Every cost item should be included, for a lot of small charges, if not anticipated, can add up to a total that throws things out of gear. In addition to the cost of the house, lot, and essential major appliances, you may have to pay for some of the following: special assessments for street improvements; grading, landscaping, driveway, and walks; house connections to utilities; title search or guaranty policy; plot survey; cost of blueprints; appraisal fee; recording of deed and mortgage; revenue stamps on bond; mortgage tax; attorney's fees. (Some of these costs are absorbed by some lenders.)

Title search and insurance will cost $100 or more. The search is required to make sure that there are no previous claims against your property, and is necessary when you get a loan for building—even though an earlier search was made CONTINUED ON PAGE 92

Here's the Kind of House EVERYBODY Wants

Merchant Builders
all over the country are finding that good design pays. This home, neither radically modern nor quite traditional, is typical of the good contemporary architecture being offered by progressive builders. Study its good points and see how they apply to your family and your needs ore and more, we're happy to say, this is the kind of house you're seeing in the better builders' developments around the country. It's a matter of supply and demand—home buyers are getting this kind of house because they're demanding it. Nobody pounds a fist on a desk and declares, "This is what I want!" It's done in a more subtle way. Whenever a smart builder puts up a pilot model like this, the public comes in droves—and they buy—while the tradition-bound builders of the mixed-up "ranchelows" cool their heels waiting for customers.

There's nothing radically different about this house. It's a good house of good design and construction. But it has most of the things people seem to want in a house these days. The architect, Kenneth Wischmeyer of St. Louis, had a good many clients to please when he sat down to plan the house. He had first of all to please the editors of this magazine, who specified a pleasant, contemporary exterior and a good workable floor plan with at least three bedrooms, a large amount of living and recreation area, and at least one and a half baths. Next, he had to please the sponsors, the General Electric Company, who wanted to show people that it is practical to install a complete kitchen and laundry, and really up-to-date wiring and lighting systems in a medium-priced house—and include it all in a packaged mortgage.

Last, but not least, came the builder who wanted a house that he could build and finance easily—and sell at a fair price. In the area which he was developing, the top price on this house would be around $24,000, and so the cost must be held within this figure.

The house measures 52' x 22'4" over-all, and there are 1,299 square feet of enclosed living space on the ground floor, not including the garage (an extra 261 square feet, bringing the total up to 1,560 square feet). There is a full basement, except for the area under the garage.

The exterior is brick veneer and wood siding. Interior walls and ceilings are dry-wall construction. Floors are of hardwood, except in the kitchen and family room (vinyl tile) and the bathrooms (ceramic tile). The house is heated by a forced warm air gas system and cooled by a central air conditioner in the basement. For a look at the interiors, please turn the page.

The Greatest Hit of the Decade -THE FAMILY ROOM—

The second living room does wonders for thousands of families in up-to-date homes such as this.

It adds elbow room for today's larger broods, and has become the real center of family life, freeing the living room for quiet reading, or for more formal entertaining

GERTRUDE BROOKS DIXSON

Decorated by Stix, Baer & Fuller, St. Louis

his home in Kirkwood, Missouri, is designed to suit up-to-the-second families the country over (see plan, page 29), families who enjoy being together, yet resent living in the jumble of overflowing activities. Here the living room (right and below) greets you with the gracious formality most women yearn for, and the restful air every man welcomes—a room that keeps its composure despite a lively brood. How? The answer lies just beyond the archway—the family room (left and above).

Such versatile rooms, included in new homes or added to older ones, assume many roles, and may be upstairs or down. In this compact house, it took clever designing to produce one so large, and so beautifully paired with the living room. The secret was letting it double as a dining room where the important family rite of dining takes place in a spacious, pleasant room open to the garden through a wall of windows. But in non-dining hours, it's the TV room, the sewing room, the guest room; it's the playroom whose tough vinyl floor takes to toys, the room where tomorrow's lessons may be prepared-or where a boy and his Dad can dream by the fire.

Though each has its own distinct character, family room and living room were treated as two sides of the same coin by the decorating staff of Stix, Baer & Fuller (who furnished the whole house). There's more excitement in the colors of the former, more pattern overhead and underfoot. But then, the family room was designed to welcome excitement. The living room, just as friendly, is a place for calm and for quiet, a mood achieved by scattering a few bright notes against a low-keyed background, and by combining modern furniture with traditional accessories.

Throughout the house, architect and builder co-operated with the General Electric company in the installation of heating and air conditioning, and in lighting done to exacting standards. Recessed vents permit uninterrupted groupings of furniture. Diffused general lighting comes from coves above windows, bookcase, and fireplace wall. Auxiliary lighting is skillful too—for example, the brass lamps flanking a sofa were placed on separate wood bases to raise them to correct height.

BEFORE: First thing you saw upon entering the room was a sow's ear of a radiator cowering under off-center windows. # WE PLAN A ROOM

FOR A LITTLE GIRL WITH GROWN-UP IDEAS

Vou may have met Miss Clyte Willis before, for the family-album item at your left first appeared in our April, 1946, issue. At that time, we showed Clyte's nursery, decorated by her grandmother, Editor Austin of AMERICAN HOME (and "Toots" to Clyte and her brother Gil). Now Clyte, aged nine, is still young enough to mother her dolls, but old enough, definitely, to have very grown-up ideas about the furnishings of her own room—for instance, AND ESPECIALLY, a real dressing table and a four-poster bed. When the Willises found a new home in an old house, these dreamed-about objects were provided.

Clyte's new room was middle-sized, but so badly cut up that furniture arrangement presented a problem if floor area was to be left free for indoor play. But, as Mrs. Austin says, "We Practice What We Preach"-and so a long look at those awful off-center windows cum radiator inspired a solution: we hid the radiator and decorated the window by means of a Super-Dressing Table-for which there was no other suitable wall. You can see at your right how false fronts spaced out the radiator cover and unpainted chests. To reduce the wide expanse to little-girl proportions. we topped the center with white glass and the side pieces with wood, painted blue. The climax was the dotted Swiss skirt, gored rather than gathered under those pigtails, and it stands out prettily as a dance frock, thanks to a lady's stiff petticoat! For background, tiered shutters, the upper set open by day. For a frame, draperies in a pert Finnish floral, lavishly ruffled in white. The same charming print dresses Clyte's doll's bed, as well as her own four-poster. On the big bed, we even used it as the lining of the canopy, providing Clyte with a lovely "garden"—the first thing she sees when she awakens each morning.

Radiator was boxed in—insulated top, grille-front. Then one unpainted chest was placed at the extreme right of the double window, one at the extreme left. Space between chests and radiator was too small for additional chests, so false drawer fronts were built. Actually, the false fronts are doors that open to give access to the radiator

HOW TO MAKE YOUR

STICK IT

SNIP IT

FRAME IT

Deal yourself a new wall treatment, worthy of important shadow-box frames and a proud place in your living room. Like other 3-D pictures on this page, the beauty is more than skin deep, for you "paint" them with baubles and remnants. Our "canvas" was a piece of 1/4" plywood, painted white. Upon this, outlines of the sophisticated King and Queen were first drawn, then inked in (outlines are part of our pattern). Next, we made a white fabric background from the thinnest of shantung (retired after service as a window curtain). The shantung was cut one inch larger than the plywood all around, then coated with a fabric adhesive and stretched tightly over the plywood. After it dried, the inked outline showed through clearly to guide our next steps-pasting on the embroidered faces (outlined with braid), and "painting" with velvet, silk, and beads. The Queen is Pattern 1585; the King. Pattern 1586, 25¢ each.

Any smart Señor or Señora can fashion this handsome Mexican couple for "pocos pesos"—plus our pattern which provides all the skill that you'll need. Bordered in bright-toned fabric, and framed in inexpensive frames stained to go with the woods in your room, their gay personalities add spirit to any setting. Use the colors we chose, or design your own variation—any clean, bright colors will be effective. Like the card couple above, they rest on plywood foundations, covered in burlap this time. Trace their outlines on the burlap, then glue their felt and fabric faces and garments in place. The wool fringe on Señora's shawl is sewn on before assembling, but the trimming on Señor's vest is applied after the vest has been donned. Add the hair, made of wool, and the hats, made from straw place mats. The bounty which Señora carries atop her head is yellow felt overlaid with chintz, but you could substitute a harvest of other vegetables or fruits. For a final touch, there's some shining trim for his sombrero, and for her, a whole slew of "jewelry" concocted of sequins and beads. Señor is Pattern 1587; Señora is Pattern 1588, 25¢ each.

A lovely bouquet can be everlasting if it's made of dried blooms mounted on cardboard in a graceful composition, tied with a big velvet bow, and framed under glass. To begin with, assemble more flowers than you'll need, for not all of them will dry as perfectly as you'd like them to. There are many methods of drying. One is to use clean, dry sand: In the bottom of a deep cardboard box, place an inch of sand; lay several dry, perfect flowers upon it, making sure that they do not touch; add more sand to cover the flowers completely; then repeat the procedure until the box is filled. Let the box remain undisturbed for at least three weeks. A second method is to press each flower individually between white blotters, wrap the blotters in sheets of folded newspaper, then let them rest for several weeks under heavy weights (large books, for example). If stems are very heavy, trim them down before pressing. In framing, make sure that the glass does not press against the flowers. For bouquet's outline and other instructions, see Pattern 1589, 30¢.

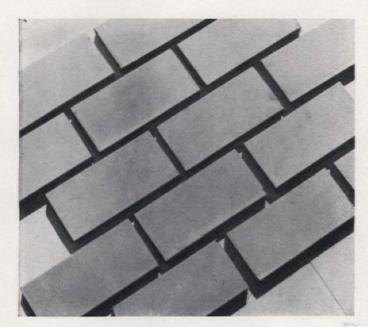

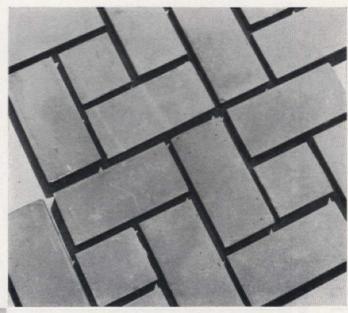

Coming attractions to focus all eyes upon a once-uninteresting wall. Principal "makings" are dried flowers and snippets of fabric from your sewing bag. Design your own Technicolor effects. No need to worry about the drawing—not when our patterns can guide you!

By the Sea, by the Beautiful Sea

The Van Evera Bailey Beach House at Neskowin, Oregon

VAN EVERA BAILEY OWNER-ARCHITECT

THIS IS BLUEPRINT HOUSE #39: Because it would be as inviting in the woods or the hills as it is by the side of the sea, we've made it possible for you to buy blueprints and a materials list from which you can duplicate this vacation house (Order Form, page 105). Such unconventional features as the chimneyless fireplace, the laminated wood floors and ceiling, and the cedar-strip walls, inspired in the Northwest, may be impractical in some other areas, so our blueprints include alternate plans for more conventional types of construction t is always interesting to see what happens when an architect designs a house for himself. He is free to experiment, and he need not compromise with a client on matters of taste and conviction. Although Architect Van Evera Bailey had built several beach houses for others, he and his writer wife had rather a different conception of what their own house should be. They wanted a small, economically built house where they both could work, yet one which would function well for entertaining. In brief, they wanted an efficient studio workroom as well as a house which could accommodate a number of weekend guesis and vacation-time callers.

To limit floor area to an absolute minimum, they turned to the economical square, 30' x 30'. Instead of stretching the house out to embrace the view, they eliminated all possible interior partitions and made the most of the view through depth. The contour of the site made possible a basement, but without this added area, the main floor is a complete house—containing living, dining, and kitchen areas, two bedrooms and bath, and unusually good storage. The finished basement, an extra dividend in usable space, holds a garage, storage space, place for the freezer, and a workroom.

The plan appears simple, yet much study was required to utilize every inch and still create a feeling of spaciousness. The kitchen, living and dining room are all one, separated from the owner's bedroom by a half partition. This gives the open iiving area more continued on page 97

A chimneyless fireplace? Stovepipe at the back with built-in fan turns down through the floor, runs under the house, then up through the middle, works perfectly. Quite a conversation piece!

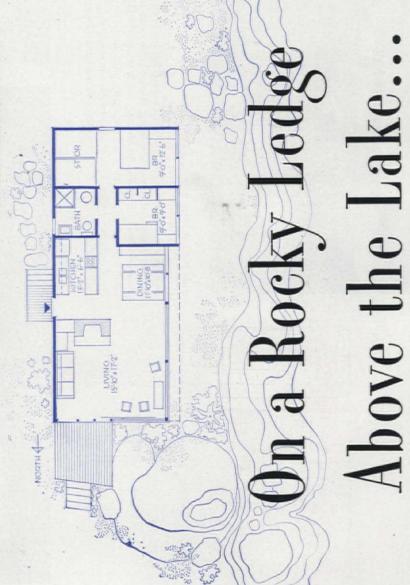

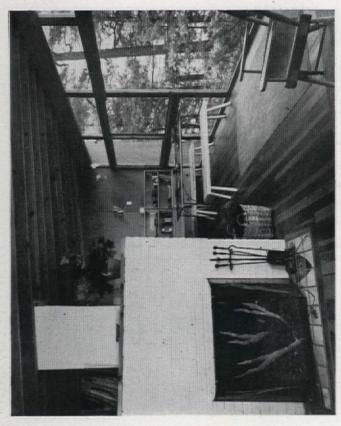

Unobstructed ceiling and full-length windows make this house seem as limitless as the view beyond. Low partition provides wall space for day bed, bookshelves, phonograph, drafting board uring the past decade or so, our ideas about summer homes have undergone a whopping change—and a wonderful one. Vacation places used to fall into two general classes: the shack in the woods. mostly for the boys, and really primitive; and the summer "cottage," as close to the Newport variety as possible—a setting for fancy parties throughout a limited "season." But the pattern of our living has changed, and the year-round weekend "away from it all" has become fully as important as the summer vacation. Both shack and "cottage" are being replaced by the vacation house, a simple but comfortable place designed and furnished for easiest possible maintenance and the most stream-lined, informal housekeeping—a place used during the summer, and for glorious weekends the rest of the year, whenever weather permits. With thousands of couples building their own retreats on a do-it-yourself basis to bring a one-time luxury within scope of an average budget, the vacation house may soon be as much a part of American life as the family car.

The very practical and pleasant example shown here was built on a wooded lakeside site two hours away from the Florys' home, and even in this northern part of the country, they spend weekends here from early spring 'til late autumn, for the fireplace has a circulating unit to provide real heat when required, and the setting is even more lovely in October than July.

MARY RITTER

We state right off the bat that we are entirely out of sympathy with the well-known decorator (who shall herein be nameless) whose fundamental approach to any problem, was "Cut off the legs and paint it white!" Nor do we give house room to those gaggling amateurs who take a chamber pot and doll it up with a ruffled lampshade and label it "cute"—the anything-for-a-laugh school. There is a fine line of taste that divides the desecration of a good antique and the inventiveness that can take a decorative but outmoded piece, examine it with a fresh eye, and put it to effective use in an interior geared to today's living. It is the latter kind of thing that has been done extremely well, we think, in the living room of the Harry Panzer home in Harrison, New York, and the den or television room which opens off

it. These two rooms, planned for the Panzers by decorators Evelyn and Harold Gordon, owe much of their distinction to antique accessories used in new ways. The fundamentals of comfort were first observed in the generous use of deep-cushioned lounge chairs and a soft carpet underfoot. Among the interesting accessories in the view above are the old tole spice cannisters which once were standard equipment in general stores—now restored and wired to make a pair of big-scale lamps on either side of the sofa. Take another look at the coffee table—it is a leaf from one of the huge old bellows of wood and leather which helped fan the fire in the village blacksmith's shop.

As distinguished an overmantel treatment as we've seen is in this room—see the detail picture below. Old decoys were split in half and fixed to the wall in an arrangement so simple it is almost modern. In harmony with it are an antique clock, a graduated row of brass postal weights, a pair of brass candlesticks.

At the opposite end of this room is the Panzer's diring area. The dining table is a good example of early "multipurpose" furniture—not so new as we think. Its top flipped up to save space, and make another chair, in small Colonial rooms. The Panzers were unable to find a matched set of four antique chairs which they really liked. The compromise, and it is a good one, is two separate pairs of Windsors drawn up to the table—two comb-back, two bow-back. Centered on the wall behind this group is an interesting "wall piece"; an oval cut from a fine old pine board on which are mounted wooden spoons and butter molds. A copper planter is fixed to the base—certainly a less hackneyed arrangement than the usual prints. Over the doorway in the den (top picture), the two objects whose curving lines suggest a pediment are pieces of harness to which the traces are fastened.

uring the three years we had owned it, we had done about everything possible to our Colonial house in Miami—except rebuild the kitchen. So, why not? The old kitchen was too doggone small—and poorly arranged. Its cabinets were too high, and their doors swung open to create a head-bumping hazard. The range was antiquated; the sink was chipped. But when I started to plan the kitchen of my dreams, a streamlined kitchen done up in strawberry pink and white, the matter of space had me stumped.

So I called upon Contractor Ted Anibal for help. "There's no problem that can't be solved," he said promptly—but he almost ate those words before we were finished, for it is not always easy as it sounds to "break through that wall" or "knock down that door." We borrowed space from the maid's room and from the dining room—and then had to knock down still another wall to give the space back to the dining room!

With this kind of improvisation, of course the job cost more in time and money than we had anticipated. But we feel well repaid for our efforts, for besides being pretty and gay, ours is a most workable kitchen. Opening from it, but not pictured here, is a combination mealplanning center and sewing room—there's a shelf for the sewing machine, drawers for threads, a built-in ironing board, and a honey of a closet for laundered, unironed things.

For information about equipment and materials in this kitchen, see "Where Credit Is Due," page 104

The cooking part of this kitchen makes me feel like a master chef. Twin built-in-the-wall ovens and warming ovens form a beautiful wall, topped off with cupboards for seldomused things. Below the ovens are commodious drawers for pots and pans. "Top of stove" cooking is done at the peninsula next to the ovensfour surface units, plus a spacious griddle-divine for pancakes, hamburgers, and so on. Below the cooking top, sliding-door cabinets hold pull-out racks for utensils. At far end of this counter, "leftover" space became a small cupboard for every conceivable condiment

Base cabinets are made of white laminated plastic, lined and topped with pink. Some are cupboards, some are drawers, and in the corner there is a three-shelf Lazy Susan. No hardware shows—and all doors open at the touch of a finger. I enjoy my electric mixer more than ever now that it is so conveniently set up (far right)—a spring release brings it to working height, but it disappears in a jiffy when not in use

Much to Contractor Ted's he-man disgust, I insisted that the rubber tile floor be pink; but when the matched-to-the-floor paper went up on the ceiling, even Ted was sold on pink as a color for kitchens! The sink is made of one piece of stainless steel which swoops right up to form the window sill. To its right is the dishwasher; to its left, the matched washer and dryer. There are ample cupboards above the various areas—and thanks to their pink glass sliding doors, there are no more bumped heads yet yearn for the fresh, contemporary table appointments you see all around?

They CAN be combined . . . color is the catalyst.

Here is one way to go about it

ashions come . . . and some of them go . . . and those who witness a fashion's birth can seldom predict its life span. Objects of fashion that weather the years, that remain joys forever "in style," belong to the category of art; those that disappear, or soon look quaint, prove to be fashions that were only fads. Even the most discriminating among us sometimes welcome the passing fashions-and why not, if we do so with discretion, since they are part of the temper of our times? But one class of things always seems to keep its status-dinnerware in a good traditional pattern is timeless as a rose. On dishes, on silver, and on napery, floral patterns always were favorites-they are classics, at home in all company. And ever since the first porcelain dinnerware was made in Europe, certain shapes and motifs have never ceased to be popular, so that many a modern-minded bride selects china designed 200 years ago. But why limit the roles traditional dinnerware can play? Of course, it performs well with its ancient costars, crystal and gleaming white damask-and should be so cast on occasion. But in this era of high color, of exciting contrast in table settings, when there is such a wealth of new things to inspire us, there's no reason why the wonderful old patterns shouldn't look better than ever in new company-and an up-tothe-second color scheme. Quite the contrary, for the very dignity of traditional china almost guarantees the success of an adventurous setting. In other words, the old favorites will back you up, invite you to have fun experimenting with splashes of color. To show what we mean, we assembled the still-life at your right, creating combinations very modern in feeling by mixing old-favorite china with accessories of all periods, effectively "pulled together" by a palette of blues (many greens, or carefully chosen purples or reds could have been employed to equal advantage). The point of departure is Spode's ever-fresh "Pink Camilla," a shape and a pattern that first appeared in the early 1800's and was itself a blend of Renaissance scrollwork, Ancient Chinese drawing, and some then-new techniques-all viewed through the eyes of skilled English designers. A midnight-blue linen cloth makes it fairly burst with excitement, shows off its imposing outlines and delicate drawing in a way that white never could. Or, a different mood, see how dainty and serene it appears against an aqua mat whose shimmering, silver-thread trim underlines the elegance of the china. With it, International's "Royal Danish" sterling flatware, a newcomer as such things go, but simple enough, bold enough, and handsome enough to have become a classic already. The same may be said for the modern stainless steel sugar and cream set which makes no apparent bow to tradition and yet, upon inspection, seems very close to the work of our best Colonial silversmiths. In glassware, we give you a wide choice-Bryce's platinum-banded "Debut" for sheer elegance, Westmoreland's "American Hobnail" milk glass for drama against dark blue, or the same firm's "Della Robbia" which gathers many colors into a nosegay. You might also use a ruby glass goblet-or ruby bowls such as the one we show nested in a milk glass fruit server.

VIOLETS . . . February's best buy at the florists. Here are two lilting arrangements for winter tables . . .
both guaranteed conversation pieces

It could be straight from the rue de la Paix, that saucy spring chapeau in the picture at left . . . no bonnet at all is it, really, but a gay little arrangement of clusters of velvety spring violets in a low bowl! That's no crinkled green straw making the hat brim, but a circlet of fresh green leaves. Those daisies are for real, too, curving up in a saucy plume at the back of our not-so-real hat. What an imaginative remembrance for a hostess or a bed-bound friend in the hospital!

The three-part centerpiece for a party table has an idea behind it, too. The central arrangement is made of violets massed in a low bowl with a swath of white carnations cutting diagonally across. Leaves are doubled back for all the world like a big bow. Then, tiny boutonnieres of violets, each with its own corsage pin, girdling your candlesticks at the beginning of your luncheon, worn by each departing guest.

Both these arrangements were especially designed for us by Alyn Wayne, official flower stylist of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. During February, you can show this page to any F.T.D.A. florist and he will exactly duplicate either arrangement for your table, or will telegraph a member florist and guarantee to deliver a duplicate of these AMERICAN HOME arrangements to a friend anywhere in the nation.

Family Food

With dozens and dozens of meals to serve a month, of course it takes art to bring smiles to their faces each time! No gal can fuss for hours over workaday dinners—not with cleaning and laundering and mothering to do, and a part to play in her community too. So Plain-Jane cooking is in order. It's an art to keep it interesting, but we think that these Plain-Jane recipes are small masterpieces of their kind. For example, plain "franks" and plain potatoes don't get much of a hand—but arrange the franks in a ring filled with a superb bread and potato stuffing, and you have Frankfort Royale—and raves from your critics. Plain lamb stew—the "white" kind—gets the long-face treatment at our house; but not Hungarian Lamb Stew whose heart-warming flavor puts you in the mood for an old-fashioned waltz. Do your vegetables need variation? Then try good old celery in a new way—a few minutes in a deep-fat fryer make it a delicacy. In art, and in cooking, little flourishes count—a bit of cheese mixed in the biscuits; a quick garnish for Pineapple Cream Pie (little nests, spoon-made in the meringue before baking, then filled with pineapple before serving). Mix-in-the-Pan Cake is a real quickie, and its deep chocolate does well under our Fluffy Frosting—an uncooked, one-egg-white wonder. We've published the frosting before, but a work of art always takes on new meaning. So Good Cooking, Mrs. Michelangelo!

now in the grocery stores. Package directions are excellent and if you follow them you'll have a cake as handsome as the one on the package...and delicious, of course, too. Only one bowl is necessary for this speedy production.

BRIEF AND BREEZY FEBRUARY with its special days is an ideal time to gather together good friends, and entertain them cozily as the fire crackles away and conversation flows.

A CHERRY PIE TOPPED by PASTRY
HATCHETS is a perfect dessert for Washington's birthday or thereabouts. Simple to make are the hatchets—if you don't happen to have a hatchet cookie cutter, just cut a cardboard pattern and place it on the pastry, cutting around the pattern with a sharp, pointed knife. Two teaspoons of grated orange rind added to your cherry pie filling give a tantalizing flavor to this perennial favorite.

A WORTHY FLAVOR MATE FOR THE PIE is a blue and cream cheese mixture—the type that also makes such a good spread. Soften and cream together an 8-oz. package cream cheese and a small wedge of blue cheese. Add a little milk or cream to make the desired consistency. It's a triumph for sure, and so good.

WHILE WE'RE IN THE DESSERT DEPARTMENT, be sure to try the new MARBLE CAKE MIX CHOPPED RIPE OLIVES enter this salad bowl into the gourmet classification. Break head of lettuce into salad bowl. Top with chopped ripe olives, chopped hard-cooked eggs, and garlic toast cubes. Toss with oil and vinegar dressing.

Did you ever try PEELED PERSIMMON or GRAPES in a tossed green salad? Use as many different greens as you can muster, and don't forget that a bit of raw spinach is very good. Very party—and the family deserves it, too. Two bowls of dressing—blue cheese and herb—will satisfy both the cheese addicts and the herb fanciers.

GARNISH STEAMING HOT TOMATO SOUP with popcorn, crisp bacon pieces, sliced ripe olives, or browned frankfurter slices. They add to the soup's natural glamor, and make it star at any meal on a cold, wintry day.

WHEN SERVING BUFFET STYLE, I like to keep gravy hot in my chafing dish. When gravy is a bit on the scarce side, try sautéing onions and mushrooms together in chafing dish and add canned beef gravy. A quick and mighty fine gravy. If you don't have a chafing dish, use a skillet.

ISCO YELLOW CAKE

easy to make-Just 2 mixing steps

STEP 1—Measure (all measurements level): 2½ cups sifted cake flour, 1½ cups sugar, 3½ tsps. double-acting baking powder*, ½ cup Crisco, 1 tsp. salt. Add ¾ cup milk. Mix thoroughly by hand (300 strokes) or in mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes.

STEP 2—Add 3 eggs, ½ cup milk, 1 tsp. vanilla, Mix as above another 2 minutes. Pour batter into two 9" layer pans (1½" deep) rubbed with Crisco or lined with paper. (For smaller pans, fill half full, bake remaining batter in cup cakes.) Bake in moderate oven, 350°F., about 30 minutes.

*With tartrate type, use 41/2 tsps.

The reason? It's a wonderful Crisco baking discovery that helps hold the air in your cake batter.

That means a higher, lighter cake. A fluffier, extra-tender cake as well.

And it's much easier than you think to turn out a rich, fresh-made, homemade Crisco cake. Just use the speedy recipe given here. In 2 mixing steps—about half the time an ordinary cake would take—you'll get a cake to rave about! A Crisco cake! A cake that's moister, fresher-keeping than any other kind!

Whether you're serving a cup of tea to one friend, or a buffet to a crowd, your ease as a hostess depends upon what accessories you own rather than upon how many, for the shops are jam-packed with clever appointments designed to do two or more jobs—and do them well. For instance: 1. There's a fourway stretch to this compartmented relish dish of handmade glass—remove the wooden cheese board, or use it separately, and you have an extra relish compartment ($12, Duncan & Miller) 2. Not by a long sight are bed trays only for the pampered. This "Serv-Rite" aluminum folding affair has dozens of uses for the hail and hearty, for those down with a "bug"-and for those sensible enough to do their reading and writing stretched on a chaise, indoors or out! The 141/2" x 19" tray holds a kingsize dinner, and doesn't mind spills. It flips up to make a stand for reading or writing, and there's a compartment for stationery and such. We show it set up to keep a convalescing youngster amused, for its construction is rugged. Your choice of ten colors not keeping foods hot, the cover of this china vegetable dish serves hors d'oeuvres, cookies, and the like, for it is gently curved up, and the ring handle aids passing ($10, from American Commercial's "Celeste" dinnerware service). 5. For a hep hostess, a set of Serv-Rite detachable tray tables comprising four goldentoned folding stands, four aluminum trays (your choice of eight colors), and a wrought-iron rack. Use the tables for large parties or for small suppers away from the dining room—or employ them to tote around your mending or your small cleaning equipment. The trays themselves are large enough, and handsome enough, to be used independently of the stands-even for your best coffee service-and they are treated to resist spilled alcohol and other beverages (complete set, $29.50, Alexander & Wilson). 6. A wardrobe of trays and platters in one. Top side has compartments for assorted cold cuts or hors d'oeuvres. The reverse has a single oval for a main course. It is made of Limba, a South American hardwood impregnated with a solvent-resistant finish. Handles fold flat ($19.95, Gladmark).

YOUR Chafing Dish

You may be the expert in the kitchen, but if you want to see sheer inspiration with eatables—and the greatest lift to an ego ever devised—then get your man in front of your good friends with a chafing dish. Out of its copper depths he can bring forth such a succession of magnificent feats you will wonder from whence the magic springs. But fortunately, there is no special alchemy associated with the chafing dish—no secret "for men only." You, too, can coax the same specialties out of it, can use it wherever a skillet is called for, to keep yourself at table instead of in the kitchen.

So look to your cookbook. Try tempting hors d'oeuvres, kept hot and handy at cocktail time. Or for all-inclusive at-the-table luncheons, serve soup, chafing dish style—any one of those hearty, delicious soups you can concoct by mixing a can of this with a can of that, and adding a flavoring of your own. You can serve a different meat course every day of the year without exhausting your imagination, and sea food that is prepared gournet fashion (Lobster Newburg, for example) will tempt the most confirmed steak-and-potatoes man. Then dessert! Once the technique is mastered, it is as much fun to whip up Crêpes Suzette or Cherries Flambées as it is to consume them. So use your chafing dish—or as excellent alternatives, the electric skillet and deep fat fryers which are marvels of efficiency and flexibility.

Kitchen Life Begins at 40

LOUISE PRICE BELL

This kitchen remodeling in the home of Actor Don Taylor of the films, TV, and Broadway was a good Technicolor production-but no extravaganza at all, for like the owners of many old homes, the Taylors wanted to salvage as much of the old as they could without defeating their purpose. The worst feature of the kitchen in the 40-year-old home they had bought was the wall dividing the cooking area from a so-called "porch." But since the "porch" was actually a part of the house, there was no great trick to tearing down the partition and building a charming and ample snack bar in its place. The ancient range and refrigerator were discarded, and their replacements conveniently lined up near the sink. But the old sink and cabinets flanking it were sound enough to be retained with the addition of doors to close in the ugly yawn under the sink. Because cabinets were plentiful in the CONTINUED ON PAGE 75

House Everybody Wants

(Begins on page 29)

The kitchen, done in shades of those new hit colors, turquoise and pink, was planned by General Electric for maximum efficiency within the realistic proportions of a small kitchen (see plan, page 29). Only careful calculating made it possible to include, along with good storage and work space, a washer and drier and a dining area set out of the bustle and in front of large windows. Like all good kitchens, air-conditioned or not, it has a powerful fan in a hood over the range, and, of course, the illumination, both overhead and under-counter, is of the best.

In the compact triangle shown above, range and refrigerator are only an arm's length apart, and Lazy-Susan cabinets make full use of the corner. Just a step away, on the opposite wall (below) is the sink with garbage disposer and dishwasher, and ample cabinets for dishes. A wall jog, provided by clever placing of the bathrooms, is just large enough to embrace the laundry equipment while leaving floor space free for the dining area. Counter tops and trim are pink, while vinyl flooring, clay tile, and wallpaper are all in shades of turquoise, a color even used on the chairs to keep them from looming too large.

· Until a few years ago, towels in the kitchen and towels in the bath always hung upon (what else?) a towel rod-space-consuming and seldom attractive. Then towel "rings" appeared, lovely, costly at first, but very thrifty of space. Soon rings in gay colors appeared even in dime stores. Then came the variations, some very imposing, and all geared to encourage you to express your own taste even in a matter so prosaic. You'll find surprises galore in holders designed just for towels; or you can improvise—for example, why not hook towels to the underpinnings of a mailbox and use the interior to stow sundries. 9. Chromium bar to clamp under sink or counter

Tired of that "missing towel" routine, and more tired still of having your dish towels in plain view? Then perfect for you is the rack pictured at top—it can go right by your sink where it's most needed. It holds a goodly supply of towels, and slides out of sight when dishes are done—a great boon, for no matter how clean they may be, dish towels are bedraggled by nightfall. If your kitchen or bathroom sink isn't closed in, the chromium bar, directly above, clamps under it to hold towels without taking up wall space.

A GOOD TIME OF YEAR IT IS TO HAVE ROAST PORK, and we're assured of a goodly supply. A flavor trick of mine is to sprinkle rosemary sparingly over the roast before putting it into the oven. Season as usual. Don't forget about stuffed pork chops—most males love 'em!

CRATED COOKED BEETS and HORSE-RADISH add a zesty flavor and color to apple sauce. Serve with the roast pork. Very good, you'll agree.

CRUSHED PRETZELS USED FOR BREADING CHOPS, fish, or in a meat loaf are really a plus in flavor and texture. Pretzel curlicues are good dipped in melted sharp cheese and dotted with celery or caraway seed.

BRUSSEL SPROUTS AND CELERY are complimentary flavor mates and offer a pleasant change.

A NEW PACKAGING FOR TEA BAGS assures you fresh tea—a boon to those of us who enjoy flavorful tea, and want it pronto! The package containing the bags is wrapped in aluminum foil to protect the flavor of the tea while it stands unopened on the grocer's shelf—or your own.

A STACK OF HOT PANCAKES with a dab of DEVILED HAM between and on top gives a new twist to an old favorite. Served with maple syrup or brown sugar, it's a pleasing Sunday morning breakfast thought.

BE VENTURESOME the next time you serve SCRAMBLED EGGS and prepare them this way: Pour contents of a can condensed celery or mushroom soup in a bowl and stir; add eight eggs, slightly beaten, and a dash of black pepper. Mix thoroughly. Heat one tablespoon butter or margarine in skillet and pour in egg mixture. Cook over low heat until done. Your family will feel indulged.

skillet-salted walnuts are a treat for everyone, and take so little time. Heat one tablespoon butter in a skillet and add one cup walnut halves. Stir constantly over low heat until nut meats are heated through. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt. The nut meats become crisp as they cool.

HERE'S A FLAVOR COMBINATION with taste appeal a-plenty and really quick and easy to do. Just heat canned cling peaches in their syrup and top with a spoonful of sour cream.

CANNED PEARS are a favorite of ours and a little magic touch or two makes a conversation piece of a simple dessert. Place the pears on a baking sheet. Top with meringue sprinkled with coconut. Bake until delicately brown and serve hot.

HAVE YOU DISCOVERED THE ICE CREAM RECIPES on packages of instant pudding? What a joy it is to make ice cream this easy way. Merely mix the pudding with milk and cream and pour into refrigerator tray. The more cream you use . . . the smoother the ice cream.

new social areas where, in comfortable chairs, cozily grouped, you can enjoy the garden in various moods. They all love every flower and shrub, but each member of the family has his own specialties. Mrs. Armstrong's is roses. Mr. Armstrong's is prizewinning dahlias. Sue's is azaleas, some very special, many of them originating with "gift" potted plants.

In addition, they all collect bibelots for the garden. In the garden room you can find an ox yoke, a Burlington jug, and other objects discovered when Sue's parents visited her camp in New England. There's an eagle plaque from Valley Forge, and a copper caldron bought in Lynchburg, Virginia, where Sue went to college. There's a Virginia earthenware jug and a little castiron boy made in the South to cut plugs of chewing tobacco.

There's shadow as well as sunlight in this garden, for the Armstrong's son gave his life in World War II. In a way, this garden is his family's memorial to him-a garden they all built together, and in which they feel as if they were together once more.

It has the look of an old Southern smokehouseand it began as a sandbox! When Sue (now grown up) was a baby, a good sturdy canopy sheltered her sandbox until shade trees could take over. Weldwood Plankweld—a wonderful new kind of real wood paneling—goes up quicker than you can say "Do it yourself!" Comes in 6 fine woods—all guaranteed for the life of your home!

Just imagine your fireplace wall, or a corner of your dining room, recreation room, bedroom—or maybe your kitchen—paneled in lovely natural wood. The warm, rich texture of wood makes a superb background . . . wood walls help you blend different periods of furniture, and unusual colors and materials . . . fine wood adds that touch of visual excitement so sought after by professional decorators and designers.

And Plankweld's so easy to put up, you'll be amazed. Each panel is edge-grooved; starting in a corner, you put up the first panel against the wall and slip a special metal clip into the groove; the clip is nailed directly to your old wall (no furring strips, no nailing through the panel itself). Then you fit the next panel into the groove of the first (concealing the nails and clips) and so on. What could be simpler!

No staining—no waxing! Plankweld is already prefinished by skilled craftsmen who blend and apply finishes with the expert knowledge that only the years can bring.

Guaranteed for life. Plankweld—like all Weldwood wood paneling—is unconditionally guaranteed for the life of the building in which it is installed.

YOURSELF and SAVE!

Aladdin houses are designed so that they can be built by ANYONE. All the lumber is cut to EXACT size at the mill. Each piece is marked. You get detailed drawings showing how the parts fit together. And the lumber you get is top grade-THOROUGHLY DRY. No matter how much money you spend you can't get finer quality. Thousands of Aladdin houses-many 30 to 40 years old and still in excellent condition-are proof of this.

49 YEARS HOMEBUILDERS TO THE NATION

HOW YOU SAVE UP TO 30% ON LABOR-18% ON WASTE!

You don't have to stop to measure and cut Aladdin lumber. That has been done by precision machines at the mill. Even if you hire a carpenter to help you his time is spent in BUILDING—not measuring. Is it any wonder you save hundreds of dollars! Aladdin was the first to originate this easy, "Do-it-Yourself"

Readi-Cut System of building 49 years ago. Today, more than ever before, Aladdin Readi-Cut Houses are being built by Aladdin customers who save up to $20 a day for every day they work on the job. You, too, can build your own Aladdin home!

WHAT READI-CUT MEANS

The picture below shows how each piece of Aladdin lumber is cut to EXACT size at the mill—mitted and bevelled for perfect fit. Aladdin houses are designed to meet the most exacting building standards in both construction and materials.

EXCITING NEW HOME DESIGNS FOR 1955!

Being a neighbor is a matter of give and take on both sides. It takes time, tact, and a liking for people to learn all the rules. Seem a big order? Never mind, you've years to do it in

MARIE S. WEILLER

Inless you live smack in the middle of your own fifty acres, your behavior affects the lives of those living near you, and whether or not you are a good neighbor depends upon how you handle this human relationship which is both casual and intimate. Coming from a city apartment to a home in the suburbs, it has taken me a year or so to appreciate what a neighbor can be: A good neighbor is neither a relative nor an old friend. He is both more and less. You'll find that a sound relationship with the folks next door depends less upon basic congeniality than upon etiquette.

We and the Wilsons next door both keep our walks swept, our lawns reasonably neat, our radios and TV's low. Neither of us indulges in nightly wild parties. In fact, they are just the sort of family we had always hoped to find as neighbors. Their Alice and Johnny are about the same ages as our own two children. Mr. Wilson is a busy young lawyer who knows more about home repairs than most handymen, and Mrs. Wilson has the sense of hospitality of her native Virginia. In no time at all, we were swapping ladders and recipes.

None of us would have believed that after six months we would get on each others' nerves! During that crisis in our relationship, we sat in our back yard when they sat out front; we toyed with the idea of a fence for privacy; we considered it a piece of luck if they took their children to the beach. I am nearly certain that they felt the same way. We never had an open quarrel. For that reason, the reconciliation was not too painful. But it took a long time. Little by little all eight of us learned that being neighbors takes a set of good manners all its own.

You might sum it all up in one rule: don't do too little, and don't do too much. If you offer help to a neighbor, don't prostrate yourself. I would accept from one of my neighbors an offer to pick up a loaf of bread when she shops, or a lift into town, much more readily and happily than the loan of a precious tablecloth, or an offer, let's say, to take complete charge of my children while my husband and I jaunt off for the weekend.

After all, when a neighbor accepts a favor, she is under obligation to you. Yes, she will think so whether you do or not. Everyone appreciates a small thoughtfulness, but no one wants to accept a favor he cannot, or is not willing to, repay. So curb your generosity a bit-give your neighbor a few flowers at a time instead of stripping your garden.

When you become a neighbor, you will be one for many, many years. Neighborliness may ripen into friendship, but that ripening cannot be hurried. It is vintage stuff. Remember that especially when you are the neighbor who pays a call. Most of your neighbors are glad to have you visit them. If they should not happen to be in the mood, however, they have enough polite veneer to conceal the fact that they have been unpleasantly interrupted. Usually, though a woman may be in the middle of housework, she is honestly glad to stop and chat for a bit. But when it becomes an almost daily occurrence, the visitor is overstaying her welcome. After a few months, whenever Mrs. Wilson rang my bell. I was afraid my face betrayed my thought: "Here she is again!" I want my neighbor to be the raisins in my bread, not the dough of it. So if you want me, or your own neighbors, to be glad to see you, don't call too often, don't stay too long. Let things take their own course. Be sure that some of the suggestions for visiting, or for baking, sewing or darning together, come from your neighbor.

I make it a general rule to stay only briefly if a neighbor has visitors from off the block. My neighbor can see me any day; her sister from the next town, her aunt from upstate, are pleasures she can have only once in so often. I chat for a few minutes, then take my leave. by the simple device of declining her invitation to sit down, however cordial it sounds.

I also make it a rule not to stay for a real visit when her husband is home, unless I have something to discuss in which his interest is vital. Given two women and a man, you generally do not have a romantic triangle: you have two women discussing recipes, home permanents and patterns, plus one thoroughly bored male. He shifts from TV to newspaper to thermostat, restlessly sitting it out. Unless I happen to have my husband with me, and the two men are hitting it off, I state my business and say "good-by."

Although Mr. Wilson and my husband are very congenial, we don't rely entirely upon unexpected visits. Sometimes we extend a definite invitation to the Wilsons to spend an evening with us. As we sit quietly together over a few drinks, without interruptions of kids or chores, we really become friends.

It takes a long time to find out whether a group of neighbors can form a permanent pattern of friendship. Don't try to force the pattern. It will be best all round if you select one that will fit you as comfortably in three years as it does today.

When you are in your own home. and a neighbor calls, be casually friendly. Don't stop in the middle of baking a cake. Tell her what you are doing, ask her to come along into the kitchen while you finish-but get on with the job. If you were to call on me, and caught a glimpse of ironing being done, you would, I'm sure, feel much more flattered if I'd park you on the step-stool and finish it, than if I treated you like a V.I.P. when you bought the land. Title insurance merely protects you up to the value of the policy, in case any title flaw should arise despite the search. A survey of your lot, to fix exact boundaries, may be needed too. An average one costs about $50, shows what's yours and what's your neighbor's. It also helps to avoid some nasty problems-for example, if your neighbor's driveway or fence is on your property and remains there unchallenged, he gets "squatter's" rights after a certain number of years, a fact which can cause trouble if you want to sell. The cost of preparing bond and mortgage may be $100 or more, and the FHA charges a $20 fee for its work on mortgages it insures. Recording legal papers may take $10; notary fees, $1 per document. Your lawyer (and you should have one) will probably charge $25 or more, and you may have to pay a similar amount to the lender's attorney for investigating your credit and reputation.

2. LEAVE SOME CASH FREE. Your policy lender will tell you how much ready cash or its equivalent you need for the down payment and the expenses involved in the mortgaging. But, even though you may not expect to complete your dream house down to the last bibelot and bush right off the bat, don't forget to provide for the essentials.

The required initial cash investment in your home ("cash" may include the value of the lot if you own it free and clear) generally increases with the value of the house. The Housing Act of 1954 lowered the amounts of the down payments required for FHA loans; increased the percentage of the appraisal value for which a mortgage might be insured; and extended the maturity date to 30 years. Chart I shows the story for FHA loans. (If you are a veteran, you may be able to get a VA-guaranteed loan with a still lower down payment-or no cash investment at all.) Not all lenders make FHA loans, and those that do may insist upon larger down payments than the FHA's minimum. Some lenders will not lend you more than twice your annual income. Before going too far with your plans, shop around among various lenders in your area (see answers to Question 5). However, it is wise not to borrow more than you need just because someone is willing to lend it to you!

3. KEEP MONTHLY COSTS WITHIN 25% OF MONTHLY INCOME. This is rule-of-thumb No. 2. It means total monthly costs—hazard insurance, water rates, heating, gas, electricity, as well as the money needed on account of the mortgage (principal reduction, interest, taxes, mortgage insurance premium).

Chart II shows the minimum amounts for FHA-insured mortgages on a 20-year basis. Although FHA permits 30-year mortgages, many lenders do not make them as yet, so it is wiser to base your preliminary calculations upon the 20-year figures. The amounts in Chart II include interest at 41/2% per annum, plus repayment of sufficient principal each month to repay the whole loan in 20 years-and they also include 1/12 of the annual mortgage insurance premium. They do not include real estate taxes, fire, and other hazard insurance. The lender will add 1/12 of the annual cost of these expenses to the above monthly payments, and you will agree in the mortgage document to pay the sum total.

4. TAKE AS SHORT A LOAN AS YOU CAN AFFORD. A bond and mortgage is a debt for which you put up your home as collateral. In general, the sooner it is paid off, the better, although in some cases, there are financial benefits in having a mortgage.

It is expensive to lengthen the term of repayment. For example, if you borrow $10,000 at 5%, you pay out a total of $1,323.20 in interest if you repay the loan in 5 years. But if you take 25 years to repay it, you pay a total of $7,538 in interest—a difference of $6,214.80 in interest charges—more than 3/5 of the principal! Of course, the monthly payments of $188.72 for a 5-year mortgage of $10,000 (see Chart III) would be more than the average young family could afford, and the $58.46 required for a 25-year loan would be much easier to meet if you follow the advice given in Answer 3. But a point someplace between the two extremes is probably the most satisfactory. Chart III shows the figures, and it also shows what a big difference the small matter of 1/2% in interest per annum can make over a long period.

If you can anticipate future rises in income, be sure to get the type of mortgage that allows you to repay the loan faster than the specified time-without penalty.

5. SHOP FOR YOUR MORTGAGE. It pays to shop around for mortgage money just as it pays to shop for anything else. Some lenders make more generous loans, or at lower rates, or for longer periods. Don't hesitate to ask about terms and costs. A lender is selling his money, and welcomes the borrower who is a good risk, whose property is good security.

If possible, start with an institution with which you have already had pleasant dealings-a bank account, an insurance transaction, a previous loan. You may find, however, that the lending institution restricts its activities to certain neighborhoods and that the home you plan to acquire is out of their area. In that case, the lender you know will CONTINUED ON PAGE 94

Ever since this little fellow's first breath of life was spanked into his body, he has depended on air. And like all of us, he will depend on air the rest of his life.

At the hospital the air in his incubator was carefully regulated. Now the air in his new home will be controlled by Airtemp Year 'Round Air Conditioning.

For this fortunate youngster's health and comfort are held as a sacred trust. His parents realize that air is more vital to his life than food or water. They also realize that ordinarily this vital air is filled with smog, dust, pollen, and germs.

So they want to protect their precious baby from this contaminated air and from excess heat and cold, humidity and dryness. With Airtemp they can keep him always in the 70-to-80-degree Comfort Zone. And everything about the air will be controlled-automatically-the filtering, temperature, humidity, and circulation of fresh, pure air to all parts of his new home.

So this baby is getting off to a fine start in an Airtemp air conditioned homebecause he has parents who care.

AIRTEMP CAN BE INSTALLED IN YOUR PRESENT HOME ...

If you have a forced air furnace, you can add Airtemp Cooling for surprisingly little cost - in no more floor space.

OR IN YOUR DREAM HOME OF THE FUTURE ...

Normally, you can get a mortgage loan through the following types of institution: banks (including Federal, state, savings, and industrial banks); savings or building and loan associations; mortgage companies; insurance companies; finance companies; endowed institutions; and private and state benefit funds.

6. BASIC MORTGAGES—AND VARIATIONS. There are, today, three main types of mortgage: conventional, FHA-insured, and VA-guaranteed. Terms of a conventional mortgage are matters to be settled between you (the mortgager) and the lender (the mortgagee). Most lenders on conventional mortgages insist that you make a down payment (called "initial equity") of at least one-third the house value. This may include the value of your lot if you are building.

With FHA-insured loans, smaller down payments are permitted since the Federal Housing Administration insures the lender against loss in case of default by the borrower. (The FHA does not lend the mortgage money, it merely insures the loan on approved properties for a nominal sum.) Presently, the ceiling on FHA mortgages is \$20,000 and down payment requirements range from 5% of the value of a low-cost house to 20% of the cost of a \$25,000 one. The interest rate is  $4\frac{1}{2}\%$  (plus a  $\frac{1}{2}\%$  premium for mortgage insurance).

In the case of VA-guaranteed loans, the Veterans Administration protects the lender against loss. The required down payment is even lower than for FHA-insured loans, and the interest rate is now  $4\frac{1}{2}\%$ .

Virtually every mortgage is selfamortizing nowadays—which means that principal and interest are paid off by regular monthly payments throughout the mortgage term. Under some such mortgages, the monthly payment remains the same throughout the term; with others it declines —the monthly principal payment remaining fixed, but the interest decreasing as the balance of the principal becomes less.

New mortgage features: One FHA feature now common even in uninsured mortgages, is the practice of including in monthly payments amounts earmarked for insurance premiums and taxes, including any special assessments. Other relatively new mortgage features now common are clauses permitting the loan to be repaid, without penalty, at a faster rate than specified; provisions that allow deferment of monthly payments for a limited time under certain conditions; and "package" provisions for acquiring items of household equipment out of the house loan.

Open-end mortgages: No one should buy a home without considering the advantages of this type of mortgage which has come into widespread use in the past few years. Under its provisions, when the loan has been reduced, the homeowner may re-borrow additional sums to repair, modernize, or make additions to the house. The "open-end" is particularly beneficial for families who can't afford all the space or modern facilities they want in a home at the time they buy, for it is cheaper than borrowing money for modernizing on a short-term basis. With an open-end mortgage, payments on the modernizing advance are spread over the remainder of the mortgage term and usually do not add a burdensome amount to the regular payment.

7. PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT. Because your hazard insurance premiums must be considered as part of your monthly carrying charges, you should start early in the game to consider what insurance you will carry.

The lender will insist that you carry enough hazard insurance to protect his loan. You will certainly want enough to protect your investment (your equity) as well. If the house would cost $10,000 to replace. be sure that you are covered for the full amount. "Extended coverage," which protects against wind, hail, explosion, riot, aircraft accidents, and smoke damage without fire, costs little more than simple fire insurance.

You can guarantee ownership of your home to your heirs: several insurance companies have a mortgage plan which ties life insurance in with the loan so that, should you die while the mortgage is in effect, your beneficiary receives the home free and clear, plus all the principal you have paid up to time of death. Term life insurance, independent of the mortgage, can accomplish the same thing.

Neighbors

Are you about to go out? Are you expecting company? Then tell your neighbor. She won't mind-there will be plenty of other chances to visit you peacefully. When those chances come, enjoy them. A neighbor can be a delight if you behave naturally from the start. Take, for instance, the matter of refreshments. If you have a pot of coffee on the stove, offer her some. Unless you always have time to be formal, offer her cookies right from the jar. You will see her often, so that if you start out too elaborately, you may not enjoy it indefinitely, and she, poor woman, will have to reciprocate with equal fuss.

Whatever it is, do only what you can do without strain. If you are in the habit of wearing a housedress all morning, keep it on when she drops in before noon; if your living room isn't tidied up for the day, don't apologize or run around plumping up pillows and concealing dirty ashtrays. What's good enough for you is good enough for any drop-in caller.

If you have time for a short visit, but would like to get something done later, don't protest when she makes her first move to leave. She will understand perfectly if you say: "I'd like to sit here and talk all day, but I've promised Butch to mend his cowboy suit before lunch." Don't forget she is a housewife, too, and probably has a "Butch" of her own.

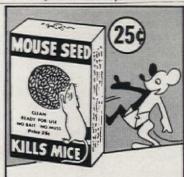

How she brings up her children concerns you only when they are around your home. It is up to you to see that they fall in with whatever rules you have set up for your own.

Johnny Wilson is allowed to take his wagon into his living room-but not into ours. I told him so the first time he wheeled it onto our rug. Now that he knows, he usually parks it outside. Some day I'm sure he'll forget, or just take a chance and bring it in. I will send him home, not forever, but for the rest of the day. He is bound to wonder whether I mean what I say. Now that he knows where he stands with me, we will always have a good time together. But I do try to stay out of his hair. I let him know that I am supervising. but I don't breathe down his neck.

If one of your neighborhood children ever really steps out of line—smashes a window or crayons the wall—do, if you can, deal directly with him, not with his parents. I imagine that if there were any statistics available on the subject, we would find that more neighborhood quarrels have started over the behavior of children than over any serious adult program. Don't tattle to his folks unless you are at your wit's end; and even then, try to get the child's point of view. Don't forget that he is a neighbor, too.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids New Way Without Surgery

Science Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain-Shrinks Hemorrhoids

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form under the name of *Preparation H.** Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

than 600 square feet, adequate living space, indeed! Only the guest room, bath, and short connecting hall are partitioned. Where soundproofing was not a consideration, plywood was used to eliminate space-consuming stud walls, and the necessity of double wall covering.

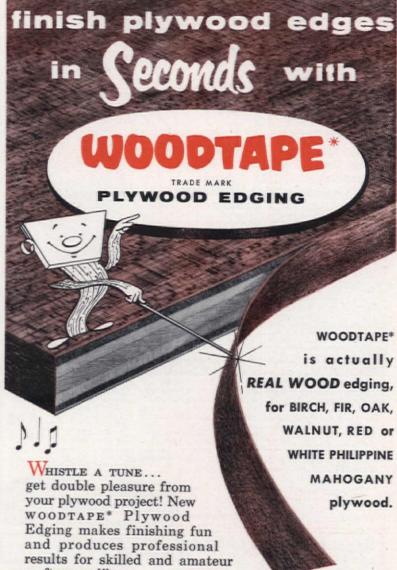

Orientation of living areas is most important, for summer breezes in this region are consistently from the north. and protection is needed for outside comfort. Hence the outdoor living area, with wooden deck and sand terrace, is located in the lee of the house, conveniently near the kitchen.

The most spectacular ocean view is to the southwest, so that corner of the house is devoted to large living room windows. To further dramatize the view, the roof is raised at this corner, and the flooring, laid on the diagonal, points towards the sea.

In this lumber country, the natural choice of material is wood: reasons of economy dictate the grade. Except for trim, all woods are used "in the rough." For example, the floor is laminated hemlock in a cull grade-2 x 4's in short lengths are used, the slash grain, when turned on edge, becoming the more desirable vertical grain. No joists or subflooring are needed. The roof is of rough-sawn fir, also laminated. This provides insulation and structural strength, and eliminates ceiling beams. Placing ceiling 2 x 4's on the diagonal permits cantilevering out beyond the south and west walls to protect the windows without the clutter of outside supports.

In the exterior, the 12" wide cedar siding is common grade. This same lumber, in scrap lengths ripped down to one-inch-wide pieces, is used on the interior walls where, protected from the elements, the wood's naturally variegated colors give an effect like tweed fabric. Another method of achieving a "tweedy" look, and one which requires less labor, is to apply inch-wide cedar strips about 1/8 thick, over a cheap grade of plywood.

With wall space at a premium, Mr. Bailey designed a chimneyless fireplace set in the view corner. Low enough so that guests can look over it, and splayed out so it can be seen from all sides, it gives the general effect of a beach bonfire. The metal firebox has a double back, is connected below the floor to a horizontal pipe leading to a fan (which creates the draft) and to a chimney in the center of the house. More economical to build than a conventional masonry fireplace, it is also a very efficient heating unit and a marvelous conversation piece, although it has its drawbacks during power failuresfor you can't use it unless the fan is in operation.

Flowers for Your Heart

or those of us who have "take it easy" hearts, light good. be a diverting hobby, and sometimes a veritable godsend for an aching mind. I know it works, after having been given three months to live more than ten years ago.

Rule one is-don't grow vegetables. They tend to induce a do-or-die-feeling; a determination to raise perfect crops at any cost. Remember, when cultivating the soil one is not fighting a battle, but, rather, co-operating with Nature.

Second-take it easy, literally. Use a mat, pad, or low, light chair so you can sit while digging, planting, cultivating. It may look lazy to observers, but what of that? It's your heart, your life to do with as you please; also your garden.

Third-in digging, don't use a spade or spading fork, or try any deep or "double" digging, as professional gardeners call it. (Even a hardy heart can be harmed by too strenuous digging.) Instead, use a light trowel; short, pointed stick; or old kitchen knife. Bulbs are good things to start with-gladiolus, etc. in spring; crocus, scilla, etc. in fall. Just loosen the soil, make a hole two to several inches deep, put in a bulb (growing end up), rest a bit, and plant another. Simple, isn't it?

Fourth-stop as soon as you feel the least tired, even if you've planted only two bulbs. Maybe you'll do more tomorrow; maybe not. The point is, you have had the fresh air and sunshine; you have planted something with your own hands. Even if those two bulbs are all you plant, you will have the reward of two flowers where there were none before.

Or get a packet of seeds of your favorite flower, and rake (perhaps "scratch" is a better word for it) the ground with your sharp stick or other tool. Scatter the seed thinly and evenly, and smooth and tamp the soil gently with the heel of your hand. (Don't wear gloves; dirt's good for you, and you can wash up later.) As shoots appear, don't pull a weed until you're sure it is a weed. Even then, you might grow some wonderful weeds! That's all there is to it and, as I say, it works. I know it does.

Get Ready for the Growing Season

Any old wire coat hangers hanging around? They come in handy in various ways, come time to work out in the garden. If, for example, you plan to propagate hardy chrysanthemums, or any other perennials, vines, or shrubs that can be increased by the "stem-layering" method, simply cut a hanger into five pieces, as shown here, bend the straight lengths into V's, then use one or more of the resulting "staples" to pin down a stem so that a joint (or several joints in so-called "serpentine layering") is in contact with the ground. Covered with an inch of soil and kept moist, the joint will take root and grow into a new plant that can later be cut free from its parent stem and transplanted.—RUTH ANDREWS

Attractive, permanent plant labels (and what gardener ever had too many of them?) can be yours for less than a cent apiece if you utilize a few ordinary items such as roundnose and cutting pliers and a small drill; inexpensive hardwood tongue depressors (from a drugstore); wire coat hangers; shellac or clear varnish. Cut a depressor into two labels, CONTINUED ON PAGE 100

Fertility is largely a matter of health and heritage. And that certainly applies to flower and vegetable seeds.

Which is why it's so important to you that Ferry's Seeds are given regular "physicals" for high germination... also that they're the products of a breeding program keenly interested in improving seed quality wherever possible.

For 99 years, Ferry's Seeds have been demonstrating that they can produce more... more garden color in flowers, more delicious fresh vegetables. Let that be your tip to buy from the Ferry's Seeds Display at your dealer's.

each about 3" x 7%", and drill a hole near one end of each one. Cut coat hanger into three pieces, one long, two shorter, and bend a hook in one end of each. Attach a label, then squeeze hook or loop closed so it won't fall off. After writing plant name or other data, coat label with shellac to make it weatherproof. (Of course, you can use ready-made wooden labels of any desired size, but the depressors are smooth, clean, light, and cheap.)—ROGER F. TRACY.

The use of plant bands made of wood veneer, paper, compressed peat moss, etc., may be an old story to you, but did you ever think of making your own during these quiet (in the garden) winter months? Save tin cans that would otherwise go out with the rubbish; collect your favorite can-opener, scissor-bill tin snips, an ice pick or prick punch, and some black asphaltum paint. Cut off top and/or bottom of each can and trim any jagged edges with the snips. Cut can lengthwise close to side seam, turning it into a springy cylinder. Make some of the bottoms I" or I½" high to form "cups," and punch a few drainage holes in them. Then paint cans and cups with the asphaltum. Until you need them, you can nest the different sizes together for compact storage.

To use, set a can in a cup a size smaller, so there will be a generous overlap after the cylinder expands and sets itself firmly. Fill with soil and plant in the usual way. Later, when ready to set out the seedling or rooted cutting, squeeze can gently until cup drops off; hold it just above prepared hole; spread can slightly, and the plant will slip gently into place with minimum disturbance of the root ball. Firm soil around and over it; water; gather up cans and cups for another day—and there you are.—R. W. PRATT

Deep-rooted Family

randpa needs a drink of water!" . That cry, for years to come, will be a signal for some youthful member of the family to turn the hose on-not Grandpa himself-but the handsome white pine tree that is permanently his in our "family grove." In a way, the whole planting that adds so much to our property is his, for it resulted from a suggestion he made when our second son was married. "Why not plant a tree for the kids?" he said. "Wonderful!" cried bride and groom. Then, "I want a white birch." requested Alice, and a white birch was duly planted.

Since then, as our other children have married and had children, similar plantings have marked the important occasions until, after only fourteen years, the grove is already both a thing of beauty and charm and a living, vital family record. Not that our property needed more trees to shelter and screen it, but the fourteen that we have added mean more to us than all the mostly bigger and older ones that were here before.

In addition to Jack and Alice's birch, there are, for our other children, a blue spruce, a silver maple, and a dust-green, pungent juniper. And for our grandchildren there are, so far, white pines, a balsam fir, another silver maple, a tamarack, a hawthorn, a flowering-quince, and a mountain-ash. That last was planted near our south window for our very first grandchild, a girl, whose baby soul was even then winging its way to heaven. She is gone, but the tree lives on, and a little of her with it. . . . And then there are a black ash, planted for me, and "Grandpa," my husband's white pine that I mentioned before.

The almost even distribution of evergreen and deciduous kinds adds interest to the collection and provides year-round beauty. So, in telling about, and thus sharing, our experience, and urging other families to establish their groves, we suggest that they follow the same general scheme and program that we did.

Of course, my husband and I keep an eye on our tree children—as all good parents and grandparents should. "Marjorie looks pretty dry," he may say. And I, agreeing, may add, "And Bobby hasn't been doing well, I'm afraid; probably needs a dose of fertilizer or some top-dressing." But the care has been a labor of love and no phase of our home-making has been more satisfying or rewarding.

Bringing Up Blueberries

ould you like to grow your own blueberry pies? You can, you know, for blueberries will grow even in ordinary garden soil, if you properly acidify and feed it. The bushes make an attractive background, are interesting against walls. and have pleasing fall foliage, and colored twigs in winter.

To make a soil properly acid (about 4.5 on the pH scale), work in ground sulphur a month or more before planting. In light soil, 1 lb. per 100 sq. ft. (in heavier loam, 3 lb.) will lower the pH reading about one point.

Plant two- or three-year bushes early spring or late fall in holes 10 in. deep; fill with 50-50 mixture of soil and peat moss or sawdust: the fine roots need a light, porous medium. In fall planting, heap it up around the stems so frost action won't heave them. The best fertilizer is ammonium sulphate applied, not at planting time, but about July 15 and August 1 (the first year) 11/2 ounces (3 tablespoons) to a plant. Increase the amount gradually to a minimum of 8 oz. a year, applied the first of April, June, and August. Maintain a 6-in. mulch of straw, sawdust, shavings, etc.; in dry weather, soak the soil well every ten days. Proper pruning is essential to good yields and growth of wood. Figure on one main stem for each year of a plant's growth (up to 8 or 9) and cut off short twigs. As to varieties, Rubel, Pemberton, Jersey, and Atlantic are excellent, but newer ones like Coville, Berkeley, Earliblue, and Herbert may gradually replace them. Don't pick fruit before it is fully ripe, which, with most varieties, is three to five days after the color comes. To outwit birds, cover the plants. I drape tobacco netting over crosspieces nailed to posts set between the plants; 11 yds. wide, it costs 40 cents a pound (12 yards).

 Cyclone Fence guards your children well. It prevents them from racing impulsively into traffic. It protects them from stray animals. It curbs your children's wanderlust.

When Cyclone Chain Link Fence encircles your yard, you always know where your children are . . . how they are. Cyclone Fence pays for itself in peace of mind alone.

Cyclone Fence protects property, too. And, with Cyclone, you get a quality fence. It is made of heavily galvanized steel which assures longer-lasting fence. Cyclone's own men usually erect this fence; but, if you wish, you can do the job yourself.

Singing & Playing

BRAHMS: Orchestral Music-New York Philharmonic-Symphony, under Bruno Walter.

COLUMBIA SET SL 200, four 12-inch LP discs, $23.80

The music here comprises the four Symphonies, the Variations on a Theme by Haydn, the Overtures, Tragic and Academic Festival, plus Hungarian Dances Nos. 1, 3, 10, and 17. (No. 17, I believe, was orchestrated by Anton Dvorak.)

Considerable value in this set: quantity as well as quality. The quantity is all to the good for Brahms lovers. The quality likewise, especially the symphonies in the sensitive hands of Bruno Walter, a Brahmsian of long and honorable standing. He favors the poetic, the human side of the music, whereas other conductors rather stress epic bigness, sometimes over-reaching themselves.

The Toscanini version of the Brahms-Haydn Variations is for me, at least, the definitive performance. Mr. Walter, however, informs the work with much delicacy and charm.

VERDI: Requiem, performed by Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony, with soloists Herva Nelli, Fedora Barbieri, Giuseppe di Stefano, and Cesare Siepi, with the Robert Shaw Chorale.

RCA VICTOR SET LM 6018; two 12inch LP discs, $11.90

This is truly one of the divine accomplishments. Verdi's deeply emotional work, written in memory of Alessandro Manzoni, can scarcely expect a better rendition. So moving, in fact, is the piece and its performance, that one can easily overlook Mr. Di Stefano's occasional lapses from musical or, more specifically, rhythmical grace. You see, he does make up for that with some perfectly enchanting singing.

PROKOFIEFF: Alexander Nevsky, Cantata, Op. 78, performed by the Vienna State Opera Orchestra and Chorus with mezzo-soprano soloist Anna Maria Iriarte, Mario Rossi, conducting.

VANGUARD VRS 451, one 12-inch LP,

Derived from a score to a Soviet motion picture, this Cantata finds Prokofieff in a vein more descriptive than ordinarily. Its subject, a heroic one, presents the composer with many dramatic opportunities, which he utilizes to the fullest. It's pretty rousing stuff, and everywhere the CONTINUED ON PAGE 103

Singing & Playing

Prokofieff skill with instrumentsand voices-is at its highest. The performance lacks none of the vitality wanted by the music.

SIBELIUS: Violin Concerto in D minor. played by Ginette Neveu and the Philharmonic Orchestra, Walter Susskind conductor.

JOSEPH SUK: Four Pieces, played by Miss Neveu, assisted at the piano by her brother Jean.

ANGEL 35129-one 12-inch LP, $5.95 Ginette Neveu, who was killed in plane crash over the Azores in October 1949, had made many friends in this country only a short time before. Her violin playing, sound, technically brilliant, poetic, had elicited all sorts of praise from public and press. The tragedy, in which her brother Jean, too, was killed, brought a most promising career to its end. The qualities that characterized her work then are in evidence in this recording, and, if anything, her bowing is even more lucid, her tone more sensuous than I remember it. Naturally, Sibelius is exceptionally well done by. So, for that matter, is Sukand the Angel sound is all you would wish it to be

THE ART OF ROLAND HAYES: a sampling of Six Centuries of Song, Machaut to Villa-Lobos.

VANGUARD VRS 448-9, two 12-inch LP dises, $11.90

Roland Hayes is still one of the world's finest interpreters of songs. His versatility alone is reason enough for his brilliant career, not to omit the deeply searching intelligence that accompanies all that he does. Here, though the voice isn't quite what it once was, the celebrated singer captures the essence of every song, simple Afro-American things, Lieder, French pieces, and a whole treasure house works, each given its complete expression here.

SONG RECITAL: Sung by Elizabeth Schwarzkopf, soprano, assisted at the piano by Gerald Moore.

ANGEL 35023, one 12-inch disc, $5.95

Praise seems to be the order of this record column. Any why not, with so much good playing and singing to talk about? Miss Schwarzopf is well on the way to the top of her art. She is as compelling a singer as you'll find anywhere today, though I have the notion that she has still more to give-greater powers than she herself suspects. Anyway, in these Lieder by Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Strauss, and others, she is a prime interpretative artist. The fact that the resourceful and gifted Gerald Moore is at the piano helps to guarantee that. Simply delightful, these performances. I wish there were more of them.

Homeowner Homer Hails New Shopsmith

"It's everything a home power tool should be -and then some!" boomed Homer, flipping the guarded ON-OFF switch. "It's safe-accurate and doggone easy to operate!"

"This is what gets me," gloated Homer, twirling the Speed-Dial. "Set it for any job and the speed adjusts automatically. And it's familysafe, too, with all belts and pulleys enclosed."

"As a saw, SHOPSMITH" can't be beat! Has a big 9-inch blade and 3/4-hp. motor, Supports full-size plywood sheets. And it changes to a 12-inch disc sander in 30 seconds!"

"As a drill . . . and a lathe . . . SHOP-SMITH makes the experts envious and the envious experts! And with Power-Mount I can add a jointer or jigsaw in seconds!"

"Best friend a home ever had," said Homer, finishing up his hi-fi TV cabinet and moving SHOPSMITH to the next job, "And you don't need a workshop-just a 2 x 6 foot corner.'

Suddenly YOU make the decisions!

All at once you've joined the millions of busy girls with lives of their own, minds of their own. Some are away at school. Some are brides. Many go to work. But all of them (like you) have big and little decisions to make every day of their lives - decisions that usually revolve about: "What's best for me?"

You'd be surprised how many women like you have made one of the decisions you've undoubtedly been considering. They've changed to internal sanitary protection! That always seems like such a big step when you first think about it, yet once you use Tampax,* you'll find it natural and easy. You can't even feel the Tampax when it's in place!

Tampax has many other advantages. It does away with the uncomfortable, bulky belt-pin-pad harness. It's easy to dispose of, and so small that a month's supply slips into the purse. It eliminates odor. It's fastidious-wearer's hands need never even touch the Tampax.

This popular, doctor-invented product comes in 3 absorbencies (Regular, Super, Junior) at any drug or notion counter. Try it this month! Tampax Incorporated, Palmer, Mass.

New FIREPLACE

circulates heat, will not smoke, damper seals air-tight!

Here is the only fireplace especially designed for modern homes. It is the new Heatilator Fireplace that gives you all 3 of these features...

Circulates Heat. Draws cool air from the floor level, warms it and circulates it gently to far corners even to adjoining rooms. Provides cozy comfort in cool spring or fall weather or in emergencies.

Will Not Smoke. Because the Heatilator unit is a scientifically designed steel form, it does away with guess - work and rule - of - thumb construction. Adds little to the cost of the finished fireplace.

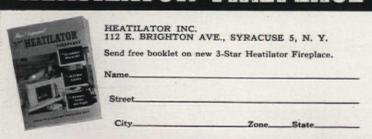

Damper Seals Air-Tight. The new Pressure-Seal Damper seals airtight when the fireplace is not in use. In cold weather it prevents costly house heat from escaping up the chimney—stops cold drafts from blowing into the room. In summer it is an absolute "must" to prevent waste of cooled air in air-conditioned homes.

The All-Purpose Fireplace

The Heatilator Fireplace is ideal for living rooms, basement rooms, camps or cabins. Be sure you get the genuine, proved Heatilator Fireplace. Look for the name on damper handle and dome. Ask your building material dealer or mail coupon for free booklet.
