RASSROOTS CONVENES

By the time this issue of Focus reaches you, we will have completed the 1982 Grassroots Conference which is scheduled for January 2-15 in Washington.

Outside of the national convention, Grassroots hosts the largest gathering of AIA members in any given year. Participants include IA National officers, regional directors, national staff, component executives and regional and local presidents and presidents-elect. Invited guests frequently include congressmen and other distinguished speakers on topics of interest to architects. CCAIA will be represented by C. William Bruner, FAIA, Richard Cook, AIA, chairman of the large components meeting, Executive Director Alice Inkvitch and myself.

The purposes of Grassroots are:

To provide a forum for component leaders and executives to exchange ideas and participate in discussions among AIA offices, directors, staff and their component counterparts.

To learn more about legislative issues of concern to architect/staff, and to arrange meetings with congressional representatives in order to strengthen ties between local chapters and their national elected representatives.

To visit AIA headquarters and become more familiar with staff, organization and services which IA can provide to its components and members.

To provide information and assistance to component officers and to operate as a forum for the exchange of ideas on the operation of AIA headquarters.

Of considerable interest this year will be more detailed discussion of AIA reorganization from five separate entities to three. Much of the thinking leading to the reorganization has been prompted by membership concerns for high quality services at reasonable cost, a national organization which is highly communicative with and responsive to its membership, and the separation of profit-making from not-for-profit operations in a manner which is consistent with current tax laws.

I am optimistic about the reorganization and the ultimate goal of creating profit centers through the sale of AIA publications, documents, computer services and investments, including revenue-producing opportunities, which will enable AIA to render service more by way of service to its members at the lowest possible cost.

At the regional level, I am pleased to report that the Illinois Council has voted to adopt revised bylaws in a two-step sequence which will be finalized in 1984. In essence, the new bylaws give all AIA members in our state individual membership in the Illinois Council rather than membership through their respective chapters. Recognizing that the Chicago Chapter membership represents at least two-thirds of the total membership in Illinois Council, Chicago Chapter delegates will vote on matters of finance and budget in proportion to our Chapter's representation in Illinois Council. For years, lack of adequate representation in these areas has been a source of inequity and frustration to our members. Viewed objectively, the majority of Illinois Council chapters agreed that the new bylaws fairly represent the interests of members statewide. The structure of Illinois Council now parallels that of the National AIA and the Chicago Chapter. With these revisions behind us, I look forward to an even closer working relationship with the Illinois Council. Our thanks to CCAIA members Richard Cook, Dirk Ijtham, Roy Solfisburg, Carol Ross Barney and Tom Eyerman who worked so diligently toward this end.

NEW BOOK FEATURES

CHICAGO ARCHITECTS

Rizzoli Publications has just published New Chicago Architecture, the catalog to the exhibit, Beyond the International Style: New Chicago Architecture, which was shown last year in Verona, Italy. Featured are the works of Thomas Beeby, AIA, Laurence Booth, FAIA, Stuart Cohen, AIA, Deborah Doyle, James Goetttsch, AIA, Gerald Horn, AIA, Helmut Jahn, AIA, Ron Krueck, AIA, James Nagle, FAIA, Anders Norein, AIA, Peter Pran, AIA, John Syvertsen, Kenneth Schroeder, AIA, Stanley Tigerman, FAIA and Ben Wese, FAIA.

The book is edited by Maurizio Casari and Vincenzo Pavan and includes essays by Charles Jencks, Heinrich Klotz, Nory Miller, Christian Norberg-Schulz, and John Zukowsky. The highlights of the book are twenty-two pages of beautiful color photographs of drawings, models, and buildings from the exhibit.

The ArchiCenter is stocking the book and the Chapter office has been given a complimentary copy by the ArchiCenter. Our members are welcome to stop by and take a look at the book.
AIA WORKING FOR PASSAGE OF S 186

On November 19 the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Criminal Law completed hearings on S 186, the Criminal Justice Construction Reform Act. The AIA has endorsed and worked in support of the legislation as introduced by Senator Robert Dole. In June, Richard Conklin, AIA testified on behalf of the Institute in favor of the passage of S 186. The legislation provides $7 billion in long-term funding for the research, design and construction of justice and detention facilities throughout the states and localities based upon state-approved justice facilities plans. Much of the construction is mandated by the courts. Senate action is expected during the next session of Congress once the Administration lends its support to the legislation. In the House, Rep. William Hughes is sponsoring similar legislation for justice facilities design and construction, HR 3359. Also of note is HR 4344 introduced by Rep. Stephen Solarz which supports the design and construction goals of Senator Dole’s legislation. Action is pending in the House Judiciary Committee on the Hughes and Solarz bills.

AIA members are urged to write their Senators and Representatives in support of S 186. Copies should be sent to Senator Strom Thurmond, Chairman, Senate Judiciary Committee, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC 20510 and Representative Peter Rodino, Chairman, House Judiciary Committee, U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, DC 20515 with a copy to the AIA Government Affairs Dept.

FROM THE DOCUMENTS DESK

The Chapter office has two information/reference materials of interest to architects:

The Sourcebook: An AIA notebook of environmental education resource materials spanning kindergarten through college. (See Memo #617, 12/21/81.) Our copy may be used for reference, or we will order it for you.

1981 Sweets Catalog: This complete set is available in our office for reference use. If any firm has a 1980 edition of the Sweets Catalog which is not needed, please call the Chapter office. New and smaller firms have a very difficult time getting copies and would appreciate these older editions. Requests by member firms for donated copies will be filled in the order in which they are received.

ILLUSTRATIVE MATERIAL Sought

Carole Rifkind, author of A Field Guide to American Architecture, has requested illustrative material for use in a forthcoming book, A Field Guide to Modern American Architecture. This book will classify buildings and urban plans by type, era, style, and concept in order to help readers identify American architecture and urban form as manifestations of changing American culture. It will cover the period 1940 to 80.

COOPERATIVE EFFORT ON ENERGY WORKSHOPS

To demonstrate support of the National AIA Energy Professional Development Program the Chicago Chapter, Northeast Illinois and Eastern Illinois Chapters will work together to bring Energy Workshops Level 3A and 3B to their members. Level 3A, which the Chapter sponsored in October of last year, will be repeated on April 23 and 24 at the Argonne National Laboratory.

The AIA Board of Directors has authorized that certificates be issued to participants who successfully finish the entire three-tiered series. This certificate will be in addition to the 4.2 CEU credits accumulated by those who wish to record their educational achievements, and will be issued by the AIA national office. Brochures/registration forms will be mailed from national. Also, look for more information in the March Focus.

TIMES CHANGE

In the February, 1982 issue of the Chapter monthly "Bulletin" then President L. Morgan Yost in his column addressed the subject of "Enlightened Labor Leadership". Reminded of today's battle concerning romex and plastic pipe the following quote is testimony that progress prevails: "The painters' union now will not consider the use of roller applicators or sprayers."
