GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE IN ANY DIMENSION

The dimension of form: Modern gas heating—cooling is flexible. It can be designed to fit all structural shapes and sizes in homes, schools, office buildings, apartments, you name it. There are almost no limits to the application of gas.

The dimension of gas: Gas is clean, an important aspect of modern design. Gas is totally comfortable. Gently moving heated or cooled air keeps your buildings fresh, comfortable, pleasant to be in. Gas is dependable, a virtually uninterrupted source of energy. Gas is economical. Estimated annual costs of heating with gas are lower than with any other automatic fuel.

Clean, comfortable, dependable, economical. Enhance the effectiveness of your design submissions by designing with gas. There's big magic in the live Gas flame.

Your local Gas Utility representative is ready to assist you with engineering service and cost analysis.

improving and extending the uses of concrete

Helping architects, engineers and builders to realize ever broader success with concrete has been a major objective of cement manufacturers. Through their Portland Cement Association, now observing its 50th year, they have contributed to construction progress, quality and economy by sponsoring large-scale service programs.

Research conducted in a $10 million laboratory installation has helped concrete meet the needs of a new era.

Users of concrete, faced with continuously changing construction technology, have depended on the continuing flow of PCA technical literature. They have benefited from the services of over 375 field engineers and numerous other specialists working out of 38 district offices.

In the future, as in the past, the continuing job of the Portland Cement Association remains service . . . service that aids every user of cement.

This steel window won't rust.

It's finished
in polyvinyl chloride.

Polyvinyl chloride is impervious to moisture. We put it on our window four times as thick as paint, using a Ceco-researched method, an exclusive process. This is a resilient finish. It doesn't crack or chip. It gives. We call it Cecoclad. There is no other finish like it.

The Cecoclad window is in the price range of a galvanized-and-painted steel window and a hard-coat-anodized aluminum window. The Cecoclad window needs practically no maintenance. Your client can keep it looking brand new by washing it down with water when the glass is washed. That's all.

We'll be glad to sell you whatever window you want. We make them all. But if you'll take our unbiased advice, you'll specify the Cecoclad window. It's incomparable.

Send for colors, test data, specifications, samples and comprehensive list of projects built with Cecoclad windows throughout the country. The Ceco Corporation, general offices: 5601 West 26th Street, Chicago, Illinois 60650. Sales offices and plants in principal cities from coast to coast.

Lightweight Construction with Haydite

Apollo Savings & Loan Association
430 North Michigan, Chicago, Ill.

Architect: Fred H. Prather
General Contractor: Turner Construction Co.
Concrete Supplier: Vulcan Consumers
Masonry Contractor: Crouch-Walker Co.

WESTERN HAYDITE, an expanded shale lightweight concrete aggregate is being used with excellent results in lightweight concrete floors, structural frames, and prestressed products. It is manufactured by the Western Brick Company, a division of Illinois Brick Company.

WESTERN HAYDITE was used throughout the Apollo Savings and Loan Association building for the lightweight concrete-cellular steel structural floor system, as well as for fire protection of columns and beams. A six bag per cu. yd. mix of structural grade WESTERN HAYDITE and sand produced strengths in excess of 3750 psi with a weight of 108 lbs. per cu. ft. The combined use of WESTERN HAYDITE lightweight concrete, Illinois Brick Company's Autoclaved Waylite Block and A-440 steel makes this a truly modern building.

The Apollo Savings and Loan Association building is designed so an additional eight floors may be added in the future. It is air conditioned throughout and utilizes a new steel, designated A-440, which allows columns to be smaller in cross-section providing additional useable space.

Technical information and sample specifications pertaining to the use of WESTERN HAYDITE lightweight aggregate and Illinois Brick Company's Autoclaved Waylite Block may be obtained by calling:

"Belden enhances creative architectural design by providing the most imaginative selection of brick."

The architect specifies Belden Brick for many reasons. Product quality is a prime consideration. Dependability . . . the ability to produce and deliver is another factor. But of equal importance, we believe the architect specifies Belden Brick because of the unlimited selection — over 200 variations in color, texture and size. Belden will continue to enhance the creative architectural design by providing the most imaginative selection of brick.
