Glazed Brick for the price of Face Brick

I don't believe it

It's true. Now you can have a glazed brick building for the same price as face brick when you specify HANLEY Jumbo Norman Glazed Brick.

Let's be fair. If you use common face brick as a comparison we'd lose. But take a good quality standard face brick (8" x 2 1/4" x 3 3/4"), buff or grey, compare "in wall" cost with HANLEY Jumbo Norman Glazed Brick (11 5/8" x 2 3/4" x 3 5/8"), and more often than not, the price will be the same or even less.

Think of it, now you can have all the advantages of Glazed Brick and not pay a premium price. If you're still in doubt ask your HANLEY representative to prove it.

electronomical

Start with a building of economical construction. Add a total-electric concept that will light, heat, light-and-heat, cool, and even melt snow. Consider the economy of low cost electricity. Now you have an "electronomical" building with all the comfort and efficiency of the most expensive type of commercial construction.

This was done for Lee Way Motor Freight, 5036 Gardner, by architects Folger & Pearson, engineers L. W. Morris, and electrical contractor Monarch Electric. You can do it, too. Give us a call at GR 1-0060 and we'll tell you how.

Infra-red lights heat people in dock area...melt snow on outside walkways, too.

Top efficiency is promoted by office lighting 150 foot-candles above average.

Perimeter baseboard heaters supplement the primary heating system.

Infinite electronic controls keep temperature within 1/2 degree in all offices throughout the building.

Kansas City Power & Light Company

Office lighting helps heat the building, too.

UNISTRUT “MET-L-STRUT” raised floor systems provide the wall-to-wall quality of materials and installation necessary to the overall operating efficiency of sensitive data processing equipment.

We're fussy about quality—from the strong, adjustable pedestal and rigid UNISTRUT grid to the precision built, all metal encased panels.

What other features should you look for in a raised floor system?

There's nothing new or exciting about brick...except...

like in this new college complex:

The use of an Acme Brick Double Wall System in curtain walls simplifies growth plans for the new Bee County College buildings at Beeville, Texas.

First of all, construction time was saved. Walls were finished as they were topped out. The use of Acme King Size Brick meant the laying of 1/3 fewer brick. And brick can be removed for future expansions without jeopardizing the structures.

Two more plusses: Insurance rates will be lower because of Double Wall Brick construction, and utility costs will be held to a minimum because of the superior insulative qualities.

And the beauty, warmth and informality desired by the architect is there right from the start.

Nothing new or exciting? Look again!

The seven one-story buildings, totaling 120,000 sq. ft. of floor space, have 10" brick double walls: library-administration, fine arts-auditorium, science, physical education, vocational, shop, central mechanical plant.

The photograph above shows the simplicity of Double Wall construction: the finished outer wythe, the cavity (which may be insulated), and the inner wythe which gives the beauty of exposed brick.
