PURPOSES OF M A R A

To improve the relations between members of the architectural profession and the general public through a program of education and cooperation.

To encourage the active participation of architects in civic affairs generally, to the end that the general public may become better acquainted with and more fully appreciate the contributions of the architectural profession toward the peace, health, culture and security of society, and to the end that all Missouri architects may become more keenly conscious of their obligations to the public, and their duty as members of the profession, and as citizens, to contribute their full share toward the preservation of the peace, health and safety of the citizens of this State.

To encourage its members, by both precept and example, to obey the laws of the State of Missouri, requiring and providing for the registration of architects, and to assemble and disseminate such information through the State of Missouri, as will tend to induce the public generally to obey said laws.
To All Members:

It is with a blend of hope and concern that new leadership accepts the reins of M.A.R.A. for the coming year. You have elected us your officers and directors at the recent Annual Meeting in St. Louis. We appreciate the honor. We are aware of our responsibilities.

Several projects started in previous years will be continued. These require strong and alert committees. Elsewhere in this issue you will note a listing of new committees. We have applied our best judgment to the appointment of our committees. We recognize the importance of active committees in an organization of almost 700 members.

We need some of the time, talent, faith and a modest amount of means from each registered architect who is or will be a member. Only in this way will M.A.R.A. continue to grow in effect and scope. This first letter is my plea to you, personally, for your time, talent, faith and means.

We proudly include in this issue of the MISSOURI ARCHITECT a listing of all members. This is a new all-time high in M.A.R.A. membership. It is hoped that all names and addresses are correct. We know that this is impossible due to frequent changes of locations. Our staff has done its best to hold errors to a minimum and to list latest information. If you find an error in your listing, please advise our state office.

We congratulate last year’s officers and directors for strong leadership that has brought M.A.R.A. to its present high position. Our hope is to maintain and improve achievement of the past. We need your help the Missouri Association of Registered Architects, commonly referred to as M.A.R.A., which also means "More Architects Rejoin Annually." With your help we will see M.A.R.A. bigger, stronger and healthier than ever.

Looking forward with pleasure to being your president for the coming year, I am

Sincerely,
Maxwell T. Sandford

1965 M. A. R. A. Convention

The 1965 MARA Annual Meeting, held May 14-15, Bel Air East Motor Hotel, St. Louis, was well attended by architects and their guests from the State of Missouri. Numerous topics of interest to the architect were discussed in detail. Recognizing its role of leadership in the architectural profession in Missouri, MARA members presented reports on activities of the association during the past year.

Committee work was greatly expanded and included community planning, proposal for a state architectural school, interprofessional agreement with the other design professions, legislation pertaining to architects, natural beauty of the state, long range planning for the profession, registration, ethics and membership.

During 1965 MARA expanded its influence with record membership budget and convention attendance. The Missouri Architect, published quarterly, has quadrupled in the last two years and is considered one of the leading professional publications in Missouri. Approximately eight proposals for amendments to the Missouri statutes were formulated by the officers and board of directors.

The $300 student award was presented to John Kreishman, Washington University. The award is made with the stipulation that it be used for tuition at a school of architecture.

The well rounded program for Architect's Day was under the direction of Donald Wilson, St. Louis, program chairman.

To open the festivities Friday evening, officers and directors were host to a cocktail party, courtesy of members of the St. Louis Producers' Council, to which grateful appreciation is extended by the approximate 350 guests.

Attorney General Norman Anderson was speaker at the Saturday luncheon. His remarks stressed the important role in leadership to be assumed by MARA for the architectural growth in the State of Missouri.

A panel discussion, moderated by William Curran, was held during the afternoon Saturday. Panel members included Dave Pearce, architect; John Burruss, Jr., attorney; and Paul Buchmueller, member of the State Registration Board.

A cocktail party, preceding the annual banquet, was held Saturday night amid the delightful setting of the fifth floor terrace of the Bel Air, which overlooks the Saarinen Arch.

Carthage Marble Corporation, host for this unforgettable segment of the annual meeting, is sincerely thanked for providing this pleasant party.
The guest speaker, Felix Candela of Mexico, gave an exciting presentation of his thin shell concrete structures.

President Edward J. Thias presented the MARA award for outstanding achievement to Mr. Candela and to Professor Roland Bockhorst, Washington University, for his dedicated work in architectural education. Past President Richard Stahl presented retiring President Thias the MARA award for outstanding service to the profession. Thias previously served as vice president of MARA, chairman of the legislation and membership committees and as editor of the Missouri Architect for two years.

The banquet was attended by about 175 people.

New officers for the coming year, elected by the board of directors are: Maxwell Sandford, Kansas City, president; Edwin C. Waters, III, Springfield, vice president; James T. Darrough, Columbia, secretary; and Donald D. Buller, Sedalia, treasurer. New directors are Donald F. Wilson, Jr., St. Louis and Arthur R. Jablonsky, Poplar Bluff.

The new president, Maxwell T. Sandford, indicated that his program for the new year would be for the continued improvement of the Association.

Gimmick Firm Names

A topic receiving lengthy and spirited discussion at the business session of the annual meeting was the use of play on words in firm names. A few firms have devised firm names by using various forms of the words “architect” or “architecture.” These names are being used publicly in telephone listings and other announcements.

This practice is regarded by M.A.R.A. leadership as highly unprofessional. A firm name should include the name or names of registered architects in that firm.

M.A.R.A. has sent a letter to the Secretary of State asking his cooperation in this matter. Further, the M.A.R.A. letter urges the Secretary of State to determine if firms offering architectural services are staffed by registered architects.

Fortunately, there are only a few instances of gimmick firm names in the State of Missouri. It is hoped that these firms will take immediate steps to revise their firm names to include the names of the registered architects in the firm.
New Registration Board Members

John David Sweeney, St. Louis, and William A. Cornwell, Joplin, have recently been named to the Missouri State Board of Registration for Architects and Professional Engineers. These appointments were made by Honorable Warren E. Hearnes, Governor of Missouri.

Mr. Sweeney was appointed chairman of the board. He fills a vacancy created by the resignation of Bruce Williams, PE, Joplin, who has served many years in that high position.

Mr. Cornwell will take the place of Hari Van Hoefen, eminent St. Louis architect, who had resigned from the board. Mr. Cornwell will be one of three registered architects serving on the architect division of the registration board.

Both Mr. Sweeney and Mr. Cornwell are M.A.R.A. members of long standing. Mr. Sweeney served the profession as president of M.A.R.A. and is the current president of the Missouri Inter-professional Council.

M.A.R.A. extends grateful appreciation to Hari Van Hoefen and to Bruce Williams for outstanding service as registration board members over many years. Our Missouri registration board has ranked high among the state architectural registration boards within the nation.

M.A.R.A. stands ready to assist Mr. Sweeney and Mr. Cornwell in any feasible way as they move into their new positions, the purpose of which is to strengthen the architectural profession in Missouri in the interest of the general public. This can be done only by careful examination of the training, experience, ability and integrity of those who aspire to be registered architects in Missouri.

LAVA

Santa Fe Pattern

SOCORRO PATTERN

Quarried in New Mexico from recently discovered deposits, LAVA is estimated to be thousands of years newer than other deposits and therfor much cleaner and burdened with far less impurities.

Santa Fe pattern, portrayed strikingly above, is richly textured material selected to a generally flat plane moderately convex or concave. This texture came about as each molten layer slid forward over another already cooled. Color is a dark brown ranging to brown to black, thus giving an assortment of pleasant brownish blacks.

Santa Fe Pattern averages 2½" to 4" in wall thicknesses. Also available in the Socorro Pattern, the “chunky” or “lumpy” version which also features the rich brownish blacks.

As seen in the church chancel pictured above, Lava emulates a strong hand-carved effect, still maintaining nature’s rugged simplicity. More information on Lava is available from:

YOUR VALUABLE ENGINEERING DRAWINGS NEED THE PROTECTION OF Hamilton UNIT SYSTEM FILES

You get assured maximum protection for low cost with these interlocking file-storage units. Complete, convenient classification and storage for drawings of all sizes, all activity levels. Rugged steel construction and traditional Hamilton built-in quality. Instant accessibility, too, in the 10-drawer unit with Hamilton’s EXCLUSIVE TRACING LIFTER that makes every tracing a top sheet—ends fumbling and torn, crumpled drawings. Look into Hamilton Unit System Files—the stack that packs efficiency and protection-plus in little more than 2 1/4 x 3 1/2 feet of floor space.

*For example—just 16c a day provides protection for valuable drawings. That’s figuring conservatively on 20 years of useful life for a Hamilton Unit System File containing one 10-drawer active file and three 5-drawer semi-active files.

Unit System Files are interlocking and combine to provide greatest safety and systematic access to:

- ACTIVE DRAWINGS
- SEMI-ACTIVE DRAWINGS
- INACTIVE DRAWINGS
- SMALL-SIZE TRACINGS
- STORAGE

For perfect filing of roll tracings, easily integrated Hamilton Moducor Files can be stacked adjacent to Unit System Files.

Quality masonry work calls for both joint reinforcement and control joints. Blok-Mesh reinforcement and Blok-Joint control joint meet the most exacting specifications.

Blok-Mesh is available in either a truss type, for maximum strength, or a ladder type for greater economy on lighter requirements. Both come in choice of wire sizes, widths and plain or galvanized.

Blok-Joint is the original cross shaped rubber extrusion for forming control joints. It is available in the standard size for use in any wall thickness or with a wide flange for speed and economy in 8" walls. Both types are used with standard metal sash blocks and conventional caulking for complete weatherproofing of the joint.
