In my job, you never know where hot tips are going to lead you. I've ended up scrambling over rooftops, for example. Crawling through vents in the bowels of a building. Even poking around in deserted supermarkets late at night.

This time, a tip my partner and I'd been given had led us to yet

"Well, the first thing we need to do is give you a complete physical," I said.

Seeing the stunned look on our client's face, my partner added, "He means we need to take a look around. You know, case the joint."

After we'd had a chance to look everything over and talk, we came back with our answer.

"Here's our prescription, doc," I said.

"Why don't you lease your outdoor lighting instead another unexpected place: Smack dab in the middle of a hospital.

The new medical complex at Presbyterian Hospital Matthews to be exact. Where the following baffling mystery awaited us:

"See our new building here?" our client said with a sweep of his arm. "How are we going to keep our up-front costs and long-term operating expenses down around here so the cost of the health care we deliver doesn't go up?"

It was the kind of question that would have sent less experienced people to the intensive care unit. But not me. That's my job.

of buying it? That way, your up-front expenses will be almost nil.

"Then, if you use high-efficiency heating and cooling throughout the building, you'll qualify for the all-electric space conditioning rate. And if you add high-efficiency indoor lighting, the costs for all your electric usages will go down big time," my partner said.

You should have seen the look in his eyes. It was the look of a guy whose migraine headaches had disappeared forever.

Look. The best way to cut your costs and become more competitive is no mystery. Just get on the horn and call a Duke Power Energy Specialist at 1-800-473-4000 today.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS

An overview of the North Carolina Chapter of the American Institute of Architects

The North Carolina Chapter of the American Institute of Architects is the recognized advocate for the architectural profession in this state.

With a membership of 1,530, AIA North Carolina includes more than 80 percent of the state's architects. Membership has increased dramatically, from 215 in 1955 and 695 in 1975.

The advantage in membership lies in the breadth of service provided. AIA North Carolina publishes North Carolina Architecture, a magazine distributed to the state's architects, engineers, contractors, elected officials, civic leaders and decision-makers. AIA North Carolina also publishes a newsletter for its members, AIA North Carolina Architect.

The Chapter staff, headquartered in Raleigh, organizes a number of meetings, highlighted by the AIA North Carolina Summer Design Conference. Beginning in 1995, continuing education is a requirement of AIA membership. Seminars, lectures and workshops are provided through a variety of sources. Members may also receive credit through a program of self-directed study.

AIA North Carolina has become increasingly involved in public policy development and legislation. AIA North Carolina opinions and positions are actively sought by lawmakers when dealing with legislation affecting architecture, building codes, construction and planning.

In January 1993, AIA North Carolina was honored for having the best overall government affairs program of any AIA component in America.

AIA North Carolina members work and live in every corner of the state, practicing in firms ranging from one to 175 persons. The membership is divided into geographical sections, located in Asheville, Charlotte, Durham/Chapel Hill, Eastern North Carolina, Piedmont (Greensboro/High Point), Raleigh, Wilmington and Winston-Salem.

AIA North Carolina offers its members an opportunity to participate in a variety of committees dealing with topics such as historic preservation, continuing education, environmentally-sensitive design and government affairs.

AIA North Carolina is organized to:

- Effectively represent the collective architectural membership to the general public and state government while promoting the profession
- Provide meaningful services and support our members to produce excellence in architecture
- Coordinate the building industry and profession to ensure better living standards through an improved environment
- Organize and unite the profession in fellowship

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It is with great anticipation that I begin my year as President of AIA North Carolina. For many years now, the architectural profession has been in a mode of constant change. As we enter 1995, we find the forces of change stronger than ever, not only in our profession, but in society in general. The recent shift in political power, in both the national government and the state of North Carolina, will bring many new challenges. AIA North Carolina will not sit idly by and wait for things to happen. Our board has adopted four major areas for action in 1995. Two are concerned with our influence on others and two are to strengthen us internally.

For the past several years, our area of primary concern has been governmental affairs, particularly on the state level — 1995 will be no different. With the aforementioned shift in political power comes the task of meeting many new faces and agendas, monitoring every piece of legislation and making sure our PAC and Governmental Affairs committee is strong and representative of our entire membership. We must not only be watchdogs for our profession but must actively seek legislation to make our profession stronger.

Public awareness of our profession and the value of the services we offer remains an area of critical concern. Some of the greatest changes in our profession are those that diminish the traditional role of the architect. The architect, through education and training, is uniquely qualified to provide services as leader of the design/construction team, but we find our leadership constantly eroded by construction managers, program managers and the design process. These programs and processes are here to stay and we cannot stick our heads in the sand and wait for them to go away. Rather, we must sell our services with renewed vigor. The other aspect of public awareness that we intend to pursue vigorously has to do with how architects are selected to do projects and, in particular, projects funded with public funds. Our board is committed to Qualification-Based Selection as opposed to a bidding situation where the successful architect is the one with the lowest fee. We feel very strongly that the qualified architect approach will produce a project that has a much better bottom line, long term.

AIA North Carolina is organized with a Board of Directors and twenty working committees. The work of these dedicated volunteers is of tremendous service to the membership, and several of them are directly involved in the action areas mentioned above. The year of 1995 will see a concerted effort to have statewide membership on the majority of these committees and heightened oversight by our directors, each of whom have five committees. By strengthening our internal organization, we become a much more effective voice for the profession.

John B. Knox, AIA, fishing with his daughter Elizabeth and son John at Pamlico Sound.

A message from John B. Knox, AIA, the AIA North Carolina President

Last and, in the long run, perhaps the most important concern for 1995 is continuing education. It is of utmost importance that our profession be continually educated and up-to-date on technology, codes, life safety and all of the changes impacting us in our professional and daily life. AIA has taken the steps to require continuing education for continued membership, and 1995 is the year we all must begin seeking and recording the education that we must have to not only remain members, but to be competent architects and meet the challenges that await us.

AIA North Carolina is alive and stronger than ever before. Let us welcome the opportunity to work together to face our changing world.

— John B. Knox, AIA

To Be A Successful Builder Requires Six Senses.

If you've been a builder for any length of time, then you've got a nose for what's important to buyers. But if you really want to sell them, you should use your sixth sense. Common Sense.

When you build a CP&L Common Sense Home, you heighten buyers' interest, and ultimately their satisfaction, with all the comfort and cost savings. High-efficiency, electric heat pumps circulate warm air keeping homes cozy all winter. They also cost less to operate than comparable gas systems, and homeowners get a 5% Energy Conservation Discount off their monthly electric bill.

Meet the CP&L Common Sense Home program criteria and we'll also pay you $100 to $200 per ton of installed heat pumps per new home depending on the unit's efficiency. The rewards are even greater in the Raleigh market.

So to increase the marketability of your houses or apartments, call your local CP&L Marketing Representative about our Common Sense Home program. We'll help you build your business.

NORTH CAROLINA BOARD OF ARCHITECTURE

"It shall be unlawful for any individual, firm or corporation to practice or offer to practice architecture in this state....unless such person holds a current individual or corporate certificate of admission to practice architecture."

—Chapter 83A,
North Carolina General
Statutes

The North Carolina Board of Architecture, established by the General Assembly in 1915, is responsible for enforcement of the laws and regulations governing the practice of architecture in the state. A major task is to determine the qualifications of applicants who seek to take the registration examination which is registered nationally.

The Board is comprised of seven members appointed by the governor, five of whom are licensed architects appointed for five-year terms. Two of the members of the Board are not licensed architects and represent the interests of the public at large. The public members serve at the pleasure of the governor.

North Carolina requires registered architects to hold a degree in architecture from a college or university where the degree program has been approved by the Board, or professional education equivalents outlined and defined in the Board's Table of Equivalents for Education and Experience. Beginning July 1, 1991, the professional education qualification shall be a National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB) accredited professional degree in architecture.

Architects are licensed in North Carolina for the express purpose of safeguarding life, health and property. By virtue of their education, professional training and passage of the Architectural Registration Examination, architects are uniquely qualified to perform this vital function.

NCARB

National Council of Architectural Registration Boards

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards was established in 1920 to assist member boards in carrying out their duties, foster the enactment of uniform architectural laws, develop examinations and establish standards for certification requirements in education and training, to perfect its procedures for verifying the qualifications of applicants and determining their eligibility for certification and establish and maintain reciprocal registration between states having registration laws.

The NCARB is a non-profit corporation with all legally constituted boards of architecture in the United States as members, including the North Carolina Board of Architecture.

To be eligible for NCARB certification, architects must submit satisfactory evidence that they comply with the standard for education, training, examination and character and have been registered by a member board.

The NCARB will, upon request of an individual architect, secure, authenticate, and record factual data of the applicant's education, training, practice and character. This record will be forwarded to any state board upon request of the applicant.

Certification shall be given to an applicant holding a council record verifying that the applicant has complied with the council's standards of education, training, practice and character; and that the applicant has passed an examination conforming to the council's standards of content, extent and length of time.

Certification by the NCARB is recommendation to all registration authorities that registration be granted to the holder without further examination. Most board members accept NCARB certification as conclusive evidence of an architect's eligibility of registration. It is, however, not a national registration.

Complete information on compiling a council record and obtaining council certification can be obtained from:

NORTH CAROLINA ARCHITECTURAL FOUNDATION

The NCAF provides scholarships to collegiate students in architecture and administers the Kamphoefner Prize.

Established in 1949, the North Carolina Architectural Foundation promotes and sponsors architectural programs and education. The mission of NCAF is to actively encourage and support quality in the field of architecture and to educate the public about architecture.

The Foundation awards the Kamphoefner Prize of $10,000 to an architect in North Carolina who exhibits excellence in the Modern Movement of architecture. The Prize is funded through an endowment bequeathed by Henry and Mabel Kamphoefner.

During its 42-year history, the Foundation's mission has evolved to adapt to various needs. Originally created to provide financial support for the then-new N.C. State School of Design, NCAF later relinquished that responsibility to the School of Design Foundation. Following the formation of the UNC Charlotte College of Architecture, NCAF began supporting both schools through the presentation of scholarships and book awards to worthy students.

The 1995 president of the North Carolina Architectural Foundation is Kerry A. Kane, AIA, of Small Kane Architects in Raleigh.

THE KAMPHOEFNER PRIZE

Marley P. Carroll, FAIA
1994 Kamphoefner Winner

Henry L. Kamphoefner, the late dean and founder of the North Carolina State University School of Design, is honored through the presentation of the prestigious Kamphoefner Prize.

Administered by the North Carolina Architectural Foundation, the $10,000 prize is given to a North Carolina architect for sustained contribution to the Modern Movement in architecture.

Henry Kamphoefner worked closely with NCAF to create the Prize which bears his name. The Prize is funded through an endowment bequeathed by Kamphoefner and his wife, Mabel. Considered the godfather of architectural education in North Carolina, Kamphoefner died in February 1990 at the age of 82.

During his 25-year tenure as founder and dean of the N.C. State School of Design, the School rose to international prominence in architectural and design education.

Born in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1907, Kamphoefner received his B.S. in Architecture from the University of Illinois in 1930 and his M.S. in Architecture from Columbia University in 1931. He opened his own private practice in Iowa in 1932, began to teach at the University of Oklahoma in 1937 and served as the Director of the School of Architecture at Oklahoma from 1942-44. He became dean of the new School of Architecture and Landscape Design at N.C. State College in 1948 and immediately reshaped the School of Design, as he called it, to encompass not only architecture and landscape design but also textile, product and graphic design.

Kamphoefner was recognized for, among other things, the quality and creativity of the faculty he brought to N.C. State and his innovative visiting lecturer program. He retired in 1973 and received the Topaz Award in 1977 from the American Institute of Architects.

AIA POLITICAL ACTION COMMITTEE

Since its formation in 1986, the AIA North Carolina Political Action Committee (AIA-PAC) has become increasingly active and successful in the political arena.

The AIA-PAC was established to assist the architects of North Carolina in gaining access to state legislators for the purpose of establishing an effective forum on issues facing the profession. Its mission is to work to create an environment in the North Carolina General Assembly and Council of State which is conducive to accomplishing the goals of the architectural profession.

Three specific objectives guide the activities of the AIA-PAC. These are:

- To solicit contributions.
- To make contributions to candidates who will be influential in determining the future course and the practice of architecture in North Carolina.
- To generally educate or inform the membership of AIA North Carolina concerning legislative and political issues affecting the profession.

The AIA-PAC is organized and operated on a voluntary, non-partisan basis to preserve and promote the status of architecture through the pursuit of its objectives. All active members of AIA North Carolina who contribute to AIA-PAC are eligible for membership in the organization.

The organization is governed and supervised by a Board of Directors composed of 21 members of the AIA-PAC, with a minimum of one member from each section of AIA North Carolina. Each Director is appointed to a term of three years, with no Director being appointed to more than two consecutive terms.

Recognized as one of the most successful architect-PACs in the country, the AIA-PAC has achieved high success rates in terms of its contributions to winning candidates and its ability to influence legislation. It has played a prominent role in enhancing the image of AIA North Carolina among state legislators and in establishing architects as a respected source of information for legislators.

To maintain established levels of candidate contributions and ensure the continued effectiveness of AIA North Carolina's Government Affairs Programs, AIA-PAC needs increased financial support from members and friends of the profession.

The 1995 AIA-PAC chair is J.J. Peterson Jr., AIA, of Peterson Associates in Charlotte.

The AIA-PAC assists North Carolina architects in gaining access to state legislators for the purpose of establishing an effective forum on issues facing the profession.

CODE OF ETHICS AND PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Members of The American Institute of Architects are dedicated to the highest standards of professionalism, integrity and competence. They apply to all professional activities, wherever they occur. They address responsibilities to the public, which the the profession serves and enriches; to the clients and users of architecture and in the building industries, who help to shape the built environment; and to the art and science of architecture, that continuum of knowledge and creation which is the heritage and legacy of the profession.

The Code is arranged in three tiers of statements: Canons, Ethical Standards and Rules of Conduct. The Canons are broad principles of conduct. The Ethical Standards are more specific goals toward which members should aspire in professional performance and behavior. The Rules of Conduct are mandatory, the violation of which is grounds for disciplinary action by the Institute.

The Code of Ethics was published in its entirety in the 1994 Directory issue. For a copy of the Code or questions, please call (919) 833-6656.

ARCHITECTURAL EDUCATION

Two universities in North Carolina offer programs accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board – North Carolina State University in Raleigh and the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

• N.C. STATE UNIVERSITY •

The Department of Architecture at N.C. STATE UNIVERSITY was established in 1948 as one of two original academic components in the School of Design. Under the guidance of founding dean Henry L. Kamphoefner, the School of Design experienced a long period of development, establishing a reputation for innovation.

The School is presently led by Dean Marvin J. Malecha, FAIA, who was appointed to the position in August 1994. Christos A. Saccopoulous, AIA, was appointed department head in August 1992.

The architecture department has enlarged its mission and curricular offerings over the years to include programs leading to the following three degrees:

• Bachelor of Environmental Design in Architecture (BEDA)

A four-year pre-professional curriculum that serves as the foundation for the two advanced programs. The curriculum includes a balance of general studies (English, mathematics, science and humanities), design studio courses and architectural support courses (history, technology, methods and theory).

• Bachelor of Architecture (B. ARCH)

A one-year professional curriculum that builds on the four-year BEDA or other equivalent program.

• Master of Architecture (M. ARCH)

Three tracks lead to the professional M.ARCH degree: Track I is a two-year program for holders of the BEDA or equivalent four-year pre-professional degree; Track II is a three-semester second professional degree program for holders of the B. ARCH degree.; Track III accepts students with degrees in non-architectural fields into a four-year program.

Both the B. ARCH and M. ARCH are professional degrees accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board. The most recent accreditation action took place in 1990, extending accreditation of both programs for five years.

The School of Design annually admits 100 to 120 freshmen and transfer students to the common first-year "Design Fundamentals" program. Students begin their architectural studies in the second year. For information about undergraduate admissions standards and procedures, contact the School of Design, N.C. State University, Box 7701, Raleigh, NC 27695-7701 or call (919) 515-2201.

Admissions to the B. ARCH and M. ARCH programs are by application to the Department of Architecture. For additional information, contact the Department of Architecture, School of Design, N.C. State University, Box 7701, Raleigh, NC 27695-7701 or call (919) 515-2201.

• UNC CHARLOTTE •

The College of Architecture at UNC CHARLOTTE was founded in 1969 and graduated its first students with professional degrees in 1976, the same year Charles C. Hight, FAIA, was named dean. In July, 1994, the school received its fourth consecutive full accreditation from the National Architectural Accreditation Board.

The curriculum provides a balance between theory and application, and general and professional education. The program is structured so a person may develop a double major or minor in another field such as engineering, earth science, business, computer or behavioral science. The curriculum is organized into two sections:

• The Foundation Program

In the first two years, students are enrolled in general education and architectural courses. The studios and seminars, which occur each semester, enable students to acquire the fundamentals of visual design, problem solving, conceptualization and environmental influences. The third year studios focus upon building designs which are site specific. In addition, student extend their knowledge of architectural history and technology while having the opportunity to pursue individual interests through architectural and general electives seminars.

• Advanced Program

In the fourth and fifth years, students select design studios and seminars in accordance with their individual study plan they developed at the end of their third year. In addition, to the design thesis, students have the opportunity to enroll in studios and seminars which focus on topics such as design theories, programming, architectural materials and technology, lighting design, acoustics, wood and metals design/making, community design, computer-aided design, advanced studies in architectural history, graphic explorations and other design issues. The Bachelor of Arts is awarded at the end of the fourth year and the professional degree, Bachelor of Architecture, is awarded in the fifth year.

Many students in the Advanced Program choose one of the college's European studio options: Spain, Italy, London and Copenhagen. In addition, non-studio architectural options are periodically made available in The Netherlands, Paris and other pertinent locations.

Students who do not desire to obtain the professional degree, may pursue a highly specialized or a general study program in the fourth year.

The College accepts transfer students for advanced standing from other NAAB schools.

More detailed information may be obtained by writing the College of Architecture, UNC Charlotte, Charlotte, NC 28223.

AIA CONTINUING EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS BEGIN IN 1995

Continuing education is now a membership requirement for the American Institute of Architects. Developed to demonstrate AIA members' lifelong commitment to learning, the AIA Continuing Education System (CES) enhances knowledge, competency and competitiveness.

In summary, the Institute's plan includes the following:

- By October 1997, members must earn 36 Learning Units (LU) in order to renew membership in 1998. LUs earned during the AIA/CES pilot program phase, which took place in 1993 and 1994, can be applied to the October 1997 requirement. AIA North Carolina participated in this pilot program.
- Members must accrue 36 LUs each year after October 1997 in order to maintain AIA membership. After October 1997, members will not be able to "stockpile" LUs for use at future membership renewal dates.

AIA members can participate in a variety of learning programs and activities through CES. Members receive LUs for each program in which they participate based on the length of the program or activity and its educational level, called quality level (QL). The following summarizes how QLs are determined.

- Quality Level 1 - Passive learning
Members earn 1 LU for each hour of involvement in an activity with a clearly defined professional purpose.
- Quality Level 2 - Interactive learning
Courses at this level offer significant interaction between the instructor (or learning resource) and student. Members earn 2 LUs for each hour of involvement.
- Quality Level 3 - Interactive learning with feedback
In addition to meeting the QL2 requirements, this course includes a method of receiving feedback on the material actually learned. Members earn 3 LUs for each hour of involvement.

How LUs Are Earned

- Members can attend seminars or programs sponsored by an AIA/CES registered provider to receive LUs. In this manner, the provider is responsible for reporting the attendance to the AIA/CES recording center.

- Members may participate in self-directed study, including reading books, watching videos or listening to audio cassettes on architectural topics.

Members who earn LUs in this manner are responsible for reporting their participation. AIA North Carolina members may obtain AIA/CES Self Report forms from Marynell Gehrke at AIA North Carolina by calling (919) 833-6656.

Where AIA CES Records Are Kept

The CES recordkeeping is performed by The American Institute of Architects, CES Project, 1735 New York Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20006. The fax number is (202) 626-7425.

This recordkeeping center monitors LUs earned by AIA members and keeps track of registered providers. Transcripts regarding LUs earned will be issued annually to AIA members.

Is CES a Requirement for Licensure?

CES is not yet a requirement for licensure in North Carolina; however, the North Carolina Board of Architecture is looking at this possibility. Four states, including Alabama, Florida, Iowa and Louisiana, now have continuing education as part of architectural licensure. Requirements for continuing education in those four states range between 12 and 20 hours per year.

The AIA Continuing Education System (CES) was developed to demonstrate AIA members' lifelong commitment to learning and to enhance knowledge, competency and competitiveness.

DEITRICK SERVICE MEDAL

The William Henley Deitrick Medal for Service will be presented to an AIA North Carolina member who exhibits extraordinary service to the community, profession or AIA North Carolina.

In August of 1995, AIA North Carolina will present the first William Henley Deitrick Medal for Service.

The medal will be presented to an AIA North Carolina member who exhibits extraordinary service to the community, profession or AIA North Carolina. The medal is named in honor of the late William Henley Deitrick, FAIA, a former president of AIA North Carolina. The AIA Tower, headquarters for AIA North Carolina, previously served as Deitrick's architectural studio and offices.

Categories

One medal will be presented each year. The selection will be made from one of the following categories:

Service to the Community

This category recognizes the work of architects who serve as elected officials, public administrators or institutional leaders and establish and contribute to the development of laws, regulations and policies that promote excellence in architecture.

Service to the Chapter

This category recognizes the work of architects that, by their skill, professionalism, dedication, ability and commitment, have consistently advanced the common goals of AIA North Carolina.

Service to the Profession

This category recognizes the work of architects who have had a significant impact on the profession of architecture and its public perception as a profession.

Eligibility

Any AIA North Carolina member, group of members, component, or committee may nominate candidates for this award.

Architects registered in North Carolina and members of AIA North Carolina are eligible for this honor.

Submission Requirements

All exhibits must be submitted in a binder, not to exceed 20 8 1/2" x 11" pages. To obtain a binder, contact AIA North Carolina at (919) 833-6656.

Each submission shall contain the following:

- A nomination letter by the AIA member, group of members, component or committee.
- A biography of the nominee, not to exceed two pages, including a list of offices, positions, honors, publications and presentations that relate to the award's purpose.
- Five letters of support that give testament to the achievement presented.
- Exhibits, if appropriate for the nominee, to illustrate accomplishments that relate to the award's purpose.

All submissions must be received no later than May 31, 1995. Send submissions to the 1995 Deitrick Service Medal chairman Paul Davis Boney, AIA, Boney Architects, 120 South Fifth Avenue, Wilmington, NC 28402.

Selection of Award

A jury of five members, appointed by the AIA North Carolina Board of Directors, will serve for a three-year staggered term. Jury members are not eligible for the medal during their term of service.

AIA NORTH CAROLINA AWARDS PROGRAM

The 1995 AIA North Carolina Design Awards will be presented the evening of August 12 during the 1995 AIA North Carolina Summer Design Conference in Asheville.

Each year, a distinguished panel of independent judges selects the best design work submitted by AIA North Carolina members. Entries are judged for excellence in function, execution of a complex program in a distinguished manner and aesthetic and structural creativity.

The winning entries will receive widespread publicity and be featured in the fall issue of North Carolina Architecture. Those winners are also displayed at various locations around the state as part of a traveling exhibit.

AIA FELLOWS

The American Institute of Architects bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, fellowship is the highest honor the AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on members with at least 10 years of continuous membership who have made significant contributions to the aesthetic, scientific, and practical efficiency of the profession; to the standards of architectural education, training, and practice; to the building industry through leadership of the AIA and other related professional organizations; to the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment and to society through significant public service.

Founded in 1952, the College of Fellows includes approximately five percent of the total AIA membership. Those advanced to fellowship can use "FAIA" after their names in recognition of their contributions in design, education, research or public service.

IF YOU'RE PLANNING EVEN A SMALL RENOVATION...

...PLAN ON SAVING MONEY WITH AN ARCHITECT.

Whether you're adding a bedroom or building a new home, it pays to call an architect. It all starts with your first meeting. By listening carefully to your specific wants and needs, an architect can help you make the most of your space, speed up your renovation, and smooth out the hassles from start to finish.

Architects know how to keep a watchful eye on your budget throughout a project and can help you avoid costly, last-minute changes.

So if you're considering either renovating or building a new home, give us a call.

We can put you in touch with an AIA architect who'll interpret your needs.

And keep a ceiling on your budget.

IT PAYS TO CALL AN ARCHITECT.

ANOTHER REASON TO BUY A PELLA® WINDOW

Just because our windows are extraordinary, doesn't mean our prices are too.

Pella ProLine® products offer an exceptional value in a wood window. And wood has 1,500 times more thermal resistance than metal and is 70% more resistant than hollow vinyl.

Our wide selection of standard shapes and sizes can be combined to achieve custom combinations others can't.

*Energy-saving double-coated low-E InsulShield™ glass saves up to 24% on heating and cooling bills.

*Computer simulation average compared to single-pane wood windows. Actual savings may vary.

Only Pella tests every standard operable window for air infiltration. If it doesn't pass, it doesn't ship.

Pella Corporation is a Sponsor of
The National Arbor Day Foundation

Any rumor you may have heard about the exceptional quality, performance, and beauty of a Pella® Window is true. The one about our price, isn't.

Our ProLine® windows, in fact, are priced less than other brands you might be considering—with the same exceptional solid wood construction, beautiful craftsmanship and unmerciful testing of every other Pella product.

So while it's true that you can't buy a better window, you won't find a better value, either. See for yourself at The Pella Window Store® or select building products center near you.

Quality like this only comes from Pella.
