It's not the amount of energy you use, it's how you use it.

Ingenuity. It's the rare quality that separates those who soar in the business world, and those who struggle mightily just to get by. Unfortunately, it's not something you can just walk into a store and buy off a shelf. But you can acquire it. By calling a Duke Power Energy Specialist. Our people have a knack for generating ideas that have a measurable impact on a business's bottom line. For example, a program we co-created with a medical center is currently saving over $150,000 a year in energy costs. And a cool storage system we recommended to a leading computer company has cut $100,000 a year off their energy bills. For more details, call 1-800-473-4000. And start profiting from our ingenious ideas. Without exerting much energy at all.

Elliptical SYSTEMS

Elliptical Systems from Litecontrol feature high performance, high quality indirect and direct/indirect products. The Xe-39, a clean, sleek extruded product, delivers glare-free indirect lighting in a variety of lamping choices for design flexibility. For direct/indirect applications, the LC-91, in steel, and LC-92, an aluminum extrusion, use a precision designed reflector system to produce widespread indirect illumination for smooth ceilings and create a low-glare environment with its semi-specular, low iridescence baffles.

Litecontrol's Elliptical Systems:
high performance and versatility to meet your most demanding lighting requirements.

IF YOU FORGET TO SPECIFY CAST IRON,

Architecture by Meyer-Greenson.

YOU'LL HEAR ABOUT IT!

During the first dinner party in your new home, would you want conversation interrupted by the noise of waste water in your plumbing system cascading across the ceiling and dripping down the wall? Of course not.

Few construction upgrades will give as much satisfaction as Charlotte's quiet cast iron waste piping. Why? Cast iron systems provide a lifetime of quiet performance.

But what about cost and availability? In a typical residential application, installing cast iron costs only fractionally more than using alternative piping materials — a small price for lasting peace. And you can join Charlotte's cast iron No-Hub pipe and fittings with our plastic pipe and fittings for use in the vent lines to reduce cost. Charlotte's cast iron and plastic pipe and fitting systems are readily available from local plumbing suppliers.

Is installation of cast iron piping a problem? No. Cast iron No-Hub piping actually requires slightly less space in a stud wall than plastic piping. Experienced plumbers recognize that cutting and joining cast iron No-Hub pipe is a snap.

Here's the bottom line, literally a cast iron guarantee: use Charlotte cast iron pipe and fittings and we guarantee you won't have noise problems in your waste plumbing system.

You are assured that your new home will be a high-quality, Quiet House.™

The Investment Of An Architect

A user's guide to architectural services.

No matter what type of structure you are planning to build, you are embarking on a journey that will take you through a maze of design options, building codes, zoning laws and contractors.

You may be building a private residence, office complex, religious center or laboratory. Your construction plans may include an industrial plant or public facility such as a school or hospital. Or you may be interested in a restoration project.

To achieve the best possible building design for your budget and time frame, it is advisable to hire an architect.

The Architect Designs for Quality

The architect is naturally a generalist. In an age of specialization, the architect must consistently see the "big picture" while at the same time have a grasp on the smallest detail. An architect considers all building requirements — technological, artistic, functional and humanistic. Through the "process of design," the architect generates a total environment which makes dynamic use of space and satisfies functional needs.

Through formal training and experience, architects are equipped to solve problems. With their broad knowledge of design and construction, architects can show you alternatives and options you might never think of on your own.

What an Architect Contributes to the Design

Think of an architect's services as a wise investment, not an added cost to your building project. The following examples of architectural services explain why.

- A well-conceived project can be built more efficiently and economically. Architects plan the project with you. Working as a team, you and your architect can create a plan that will work best for your personal situation and requirements. As your ideas evolve, changes can be made to the plan much less expensively than later on when the building construction is underway. Detailed plans also help contractors accurately price and build your project.
- Energy-efficient buildings can save you money on fuel bills. An architect can design a building that maximizes heating from the sun and lets in natural light, thus reducing heating, cooling and fuel bills.
- Architects can work with your budget and help you select materials and contractors at fair prices. Using the drawings and specifications an architect provides, you can accurately receive construction bids which are based solely on your requirements. Furthermore, an architect can assemble and supervise the contracting team for you.

- Architects can help you choose cost effective materials and finishes. By selecting materials that are both durable and attractive, you will save money you could have spent on frequent maintenance and replacement costs. For example, architects keep abreast of advances in the roofing, masonry, flooring and painting industries, and they are familiar with the wide range of materials available.
- A building with a good design pays off. A well-designed house has much higher resale value. A well-designed store attracts more customers, and a well-designed workplace appeals to good employees and increases productivity.
- The architect can help reduce the stress you may face during the building process. Building is a long process that can be disorderly and disruptive. Architects work to reduce the disruption and look for ways to make the process run more smoothly.
- If your project requires the services of an engineer or other design services, such as a landscape architect, the architect can coordinate this team of experts for you. Architects can sort through complex building codes and find qualified allied design professionals for you, based on your project requirements. As part of your contractual agreement, architects can visit the construction site to verify the project is being built according to specifications.

The Selection Process

Architectural firms come in a variety of sizes and types. Architectural firms, typically, are small businesses. Two of every three North Carolina firms have four or fewer employees. Some larger firms may include in-house engineering, landscape architecture, planning, urban design and interior design services. As a result, each architectural firm brings a different combination of skills, expertise, interests and values to a project.

When selecting an architect you will inevitably face many new situations that will provoke numerous questions. The following are some of the more common inquiries.

- When should I bring an architect into the picture? The earlier the better. Architects can help you define your project. They can do site analyses and secure planning and zoning approvals.
- How do I find potentially suitable firms to contact? It is helpful to contact other owners who have built similar facilities to what you are planning to build. Ask them whom they interviewed and hired. Look at buildings you admire and appreciate, then find out who the designers were. Using the AIA North Carolina Directory, you can review the types of design services offered and past project lists.

■ Should I look at more than one firm? The option is yours. It makes sense to stay with an architect you have worked with in the past, and it is helpful to look at architects that have been recommended to you. If you don't already have a relationship with an architect you know and trust, it is best to interview between three to five firms. This will help you recognize the range of possibilities without being confused by a bombardment of options.

■ What information should I request from firms I may potentially hire? Ask prospective firms to show you examples of their work that have similar features to your project. Look for similarities in size and type, and review projects that have addressed similar issues such as function. Ask them to indicate how they will approach your project and who will work on it. Get a list of references you can contact.

■ What should be covered in the interview? In the interview, state what you want and need. The firm will present its services and experience. If the firm hasn't had the opportunity to discuss the project with you, don't expect a detailed design suggestion right then. During the interview, be frank. Tell the architect what you know and expect; however, be sure to ask for an explanation of anything you don't understand.

■ On what should I base my decision? Rely on your instincts; personal confidence in the architect is first priority. Look for a balance between technical competence, professional service and design ability. After you determine which firm is most qualified, negotiate a fair and equitable fee. If an agreement can't be reached, negotiate a fee with the next most qualified firm.

■ What do I do when I have selected an architect? Put in writing your terms of agreement regarding the scope of work, services, schedule, construction budget and architect's compensation. AIA North Carolina sells a variety of standard contract forms which are used industry-wide. For a list of the contract documents available, call (919) 833-6656.

As construction activity continues to increase, the architect naturally maintains a unique set of skills that enables him or her to solve problems and assist clients in realizing their objectives. Architects can transform undefined concepts into a design, through plans and specifications, and offer many intangibles including technical knowledge and aesthetic judgment.

An architect can guide your way through your construction journey and direct you toward solutions you may have never considered. Through your partnership with your architect, you will receive a building project that meets your needs, expresses your individuality and provides enjoyment for everyone who uses it.

Portions of this overview were adapted from two lengthier publications published by the American Institute of Architects, "A Beginner's Guide to Architectural Services" and "You and Your Architect." Copies of these publications may be ordered by calling AIA North Carolina at (919) 833-6656.

20 Questions to Ask Your Architect

1. What does the architect see as important issues or considerations in your project? What are the challenges of the project?
2. How will the architect approach your project?
3. How will the architect gather information about your needs, goals, etc.?
4. How will the architect establish priorities and make decisions?
5. Who from the architecture firm will you be dealing with directly? Is that the same person who will be designing the project? If not, who will be designing the project?
6. How interested is the architect in this project?
7. How busy is the architect?
8. What sets the architect apart from the rest?
9. How does the architect establish fees?
10. What should the architect expect the fee to be for this project?
11. What are the steps in the design process?
12. How does the architect organize the process?
13. What does the architect expect you to provide?
14. What is the architect's design philosophy?
15. What is the architect's experience and track record with cost estimating?
16. What will the architect show you along the way to explain the project? Will you see models, drawings, or sketches?
17. If the scope of the project changes later in the project, will there be additional fees? How will these fees be justified?
18. What services does the architect provide during construction?
19. How disruptive will construction be? How long does the architect expect it to take to complete your project?
20. Do you have a list of past clients that your firm has worked with?

President's Message

A message from Paul Davis Boney, AIA, the AIA North Carolina President.

AIA North Carolina president Paul Davis Boney, AIA, with daughters Ali and Jessica.

I would like to thank our members for the opportunity to serve as the 1996 president of AIA North Carolina. There are many distinguished architects that have served as president and their legacy has made AIA North Carolina our strong professional organization of today. This year, the board of directors and I will continue to strengthen AIA North Carolina and its value to the membership.

In 1995, I had the privilege of serving as chairman of the committee that developed the long-range plan for AIA North Carolina. Until the year 2000, this five-year plan will be used as our guide. It was developed with the help of a diverse group of volunteers from a cross-section of our membership.

AIA North Carolina has a very responsive professional staff and Tim Kent is an outstanding executive vice president. Tim and his staff are dedicated to implementing the goals and policy set by the AIA North Carolina board of directors. They cannot accomplish this mission by themselves. I challenge our members to become involved in their professional organization.

The 1996 board of directors established several goals at our recent planning retreat. I would like to briefly outline some of these priorities.

A public awareness committee has been created and will move forward with a program to help the general public recognize the value of the services provided by architects. We also hope to position ourselves to once again be the true leader of the construction team. To achieve this, we must be willing to embrace new ideas from the construction industry and adapt to alternate delivery methods for design services. In addition, we need to embrace those architects currently practicing in non-traditional roles. AIA North Carolina must provide an outlet for this growing segment of our membership.

Our magazine is a vital marketing tool for AIA North Carolina and our profession. We must be sure that we utilize the magazine to its maximum potential. Our advertisers are very important to its success. Please tell them each time you see them how important their support is to AIA North Carolina.

Our legislative agenda will be challenging again this year. Your contribution to the AIA-PAC can make a big difference.

The implementation of AIA's new continuing education program will be an issue again this year and we will try to do everything possible to provide meaningful programs that are of real value for the time that you invest.

I hope there will be a continued emphasis on the strengths of the eight local sections. The work of the sections is very important to the success of our organization.

The AIA South Atlantic Region Convention will be held in Charlotte on Oct. 3-6. This is an opportunity to display the unique architecture of the Charlotte area. The new convention center will provide state-of-the-art accommodations for our group and ample space for vendors from the region.

I hope all of our members will become involved in AIA North Carolina. I encourage you to attend your section meetings. Join a committee or participate in a community-wide program. Our members are the strength of our organization and I look forward to working with each of you in the coming year.

— Paul Davis Boney, AIA

American Institute of Architects

The North Carolina Chapter of the American Institute of Architects is the recognized advocate for the architectural profession in this state.

With a membership of 1,570, AIA North Carolina includes nearly 80 percent of the state's architects. Membership has increased dramatically, from 215 in 1955 and 695 in 1975.

The advantage in membership lies in the breadth of service provided. AIA North Carolina publishes North Carolina Architecture, a magazine distributed to the state's architects, engineers, contractors, elected officials, civic leaders and decision-makers. AIA North Carolina also publishes a newsletter for its members, AIA North Carolina Architext.

The Chapter staff, headquartered in Raleigh, organizes a number of meetings, highlighted by the AIA North Carolina Summer Design Conference. On Oct. 3-6, 1996, AIA North Carolina will host the 1996 AIA South Atlantic Region Convention at the New Charlotte Convention Center. Architects from a three-state region will attend. Beginning in 1995, continuing education is a requirement of AIA membership. Seminars, lectures and workshops are provided through a variety of sources. Members may also receive credit through a program of self-directed study.

AIA North Carolina has become increasingly involved in public policy development and legislation. AIA North Carolina opinions and positions are actively sought by lawmakers when dealing with legislation affecting architecture, building codes, construction and planning.

In January 1993, AIA North Carolina was honored for having the best overall government affairs program of any AIA component in America.

AIA North Carolina members work and live in every corner of the state, practicing in firms ranging from one to 200 persons. The membership is divided into geographical sections, located in Asheville, Charlotte, Durham/Chapel Hill, Eastern North Carolina, Piedmont (Greensboro/High Point), Raleigh, Wilmington and Winston-Salem.

AIA North Carolina offers its members an opportunity to participate in a variety of committees dealing with topics such as historic preservation, continuing education, environmentally-sensitive design and government affairs.

The mission of AIA North Carolina is to serve its members by enhancing and promoting the profession of architecture.

History of AIA Tower

AIA Tower Vital Statistics

Built: 1887

Size: 85 feet tall
25 feet in diameter

3-foot-thick walls

Materials: The lower 30 feet are granite while the upper 55 feet are hand-made brick.

Celebrating its 109th anniversary as a landmark for downtown Raleigh, the AIA Tower serves as the headquarters for the North Carolina Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

An interior renovation project is just the latest change in the face and function of this proud structure which is listed in the National Register of Historic Places and designated for preservation as a Raleigh Historic Site.

The Tower's courtyard offers a welcome respite from city sidewalks with its brick-paved design, shade trees, flowers and benches. Located within one-half block of the State Capitol building, the AIA Tower is a frequent stop for downtown Raleigh visitors who are fascinated by its enormous dimensions and unique design.

The Tower was built in 1887 by the Raleigh Water Works, a private business which had the franchise to supply Raleigh with water. The water source was Walnut Creek, south of Raleigh, from which the water was fed by wooden trough to a mud-bottom pond and then conveyed through metal pipe to the 30-foot high iron tank atop the Tower.

In 1901, the Wake Water Works took over the property and operated the water supply until the property was purchased by the City of Raleigh in 1913. Soon after, the water supply became inadequate and the Tower was abandoned.

In the early 1930's, William Henley Deitrick, FAIA, learned that the Raleigh City Council was considering turning the property over to the WPA for demolition. Deitrick, realizing the value and potential of the property, purchased the Tower from the city.

Deitrick remodeled the front and back buildings to be suitable for architectural quarters. Several generations of Raleigh architects were trained here under Deitrick's tutelage.

On May 27, 1963, Deitrick, a former president of the North Carolina Chapter of The American Institute of Architects, deeded the property to the Chapter in return for private office space until his death in 1974.

AIA North Carolina Awards Program

The 1996 AIA North Carolina Design Awards will be presented the evening of June 22 during a special event at Thalian Hall in Wilmington.

Each year, a distinguished panel of independent judges selects the best design work submitted by AIA North Carolina members. Entries are judged for excellence in function, execution of a complex program in a distinguished manner and aesthetic and structural creativity.

The winning entries will receive widespread publicity and be featured in the fall issue of North Carolina Architecture.

AIA North Carolina Leadership

Each year, the membership of the North Carolina Chapter of the American Institute of Architects elects officers and a board of directors to oversee the organization's operations. Here are brief biographies of the officers, directors and other important leaders for AIA North Carolina.

Paul Davis Boney, AIA
President

Paul Davis Boney, AIA, is vice president of operations in the firm of Boney Architects, with offices in Wilmington, Raleigh and Charlotte. He received a bachelor of environmental design in architecture degree from N.C. State in 1977 and is a graduate of the Young Executive Institute at UNC-Chapel Hill School of Business Administration.

In addition to having served as president of the Wilmington Section, Boney served as the 1991 Summer Design Conference chairman and previously as director, secretary and treasurer of AIA North Carolina. Boney is also a past chairman of the National AIA Committee for Educational Facilities, chairman of the board of directors for the Committee of 100 in Wilmington and was treasurer of the 1992 North Carolina Azalea Festival.

Boney was appointed by Gov. James B. Hunt, Jr., to serve on the Schools Capital Construction Study Commission.

William G. Monroe III, AIA
President-Elect

William G. Monroe III, AIA, is president of WGM Design Inc. He has previously served as president and treasurer for the Charlotte Section and as secretary and treasurer for AIA North Carolina. His community activities include appointments to the Historic District Commission of Charlotte and the board of directors of Providence Day School. He is a past board member of the National Association of Industrial and Office Parks for the Charlotte region.

Monroe received his master and bachelor of arts degrees from N.C. State and was the recipient of the AIA School Medal and the Certificate of Merit from the Henry Adams Fund of the American Institute of Architects.

James H. Boniface, AIA
Treasurer

James H. Boniface, AIA, is a managing principal of FreemanWhite Architects, Inc., in Charlotte. Boniface received both his bachelor and master of architecture degrees from the University of Virginia. He served on the faculties of two schools of architecture and gained experience with several prominent design firms and as principal of his own firm before joining FreemanWhite in 1986. He has been active in AIA for over 15 years and served as the co-chair of the National Intern Development Program Coordinating Committee. Since joining AIA North Carolina, he has served as chair of the Chapter's Political Action Committee (AIA-PAC) and as director of the Charlotte Section. Boniface co-chairs the AIA North Carolina Government Affairs Committee.

Herbert P. McKim, FAIA
Secretary

Herbert P. McKim, FAIA, is a principal with BMS Architects in Wilmington. He received his bachelor of architecture degree from N.C. State in 1950.

McKim has previously been a member of the N.C.S.U. Design Foundation Board of Directors, N.C. Board of Architecture and N.C. Code Officials Qualifications Board. He has also served as the past president for the National Council of Architectural Boards and AIA North Carolina's Eastern Section.

John Bowles Knox, AIA
Immediate Past President

John B. Knox, AIA, is a principal with the Smith Sinnett Associates, P.A., in Raleigh. He received his bachelor of architecture degree from N.C. State in 1963 and was a founding partner in Smith Sinnett Associates in 1976.

Knox has served as secretary, vice president and president of the Raleigh Section. In 1988, he served as director of the AIA North Carolina board. He spent two years on the AIA North Carolina Public Relations committee and served as the state coordinator of the Intern Development Program. Knox served two years as AIA North Carolina treasurer.

Kerry Alan Kane, AIA
Director (one-year term)

Kerry Alan Kane, AIA, principal of Small Kane Architects, PA, in Raleigh, received a bachelor of arts from Harvard University and a master of architecture from N.C. State where he received an AIA Certificate of Achievement Award for his work.

Kane, who has taught at N.C. State's School of Design, served as president of the Raleigh Section in 1990 and as director in 1988-1991. Kane also served on the AIA North Carolina board of directors in 1989-1990.

His community activities include serving as chairman of the City of Raleigh Appearance Commission in 1993-94.

Carl P. Myatt, AIA
Director (one-year term)

A native of Mississippi, Carl P. Myatt, AIA, received a bachelor of building technology from Auburn University, a bachelor of architecture from N.C. State and additional summer studies at Harvard University. He is principal of his Greensboro firm that was established in 1976. Myatt served as president of the Piedmont Section in 1984 and 1993. His community activities include appointments to the Greensboro Planning Board and the Greensboro Historic Commission.

Prior to his appointment at N.C. State, Malecha served for 12 years as the dean of the College of Environmental Design at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona.

Malecha has served as president of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture and the California Council of Architectural Education. He has also served as a master juror for the National Council of Architectural Registration Board (NCARB) and on the National Architectural Accrediting Board. As an architect, he gained experience working with the firm of Hugh Stubbins and Associates in Cambridge, Mass. He continues to maintain a consulting practice while acting as an academic administrator.

Samuel H. Johnson, Esq.
Legal Counsel

Sam Johnson has served as legal counsel for AIA North Carolina since 1985. He is senior partner in the Raleigh law firm of Johnson, Mercer, Hearn & Vinegar.

A past member of the North Carolina General Assembly, Johnson is consistently ranked among the most effective lobbyists at the General Assembly. He is past chairman of both the House Appropriations Committee and the House Judiciary Committee, and he has served as a UNC Board of Trustees member.

Johnson received his bachelor and law degrees from the University of North Carolina.

South Atlantic Regional Council

The leadership of AIA North Carolina, along with representatives from AIA Georgia and AIA South Carolina, participates in AIA's South Atlantic Regional Council (SARC).

SARC enables the AIA components in the South Atlantic Region to share ideas and also maintain liaison with national activities of the Institute.

South Atlantic Region directors serve rotating three-year terms with representation shared equally among the three states. SAR directors attend all Institute Board meetings and also travel the three-state region as a means of communicating and sharing information with AIA members.

SARC convenes at least three times a year. Every two years, SARC hosts a regional convention. The most recent SARC convention was in Highlands, N.C., in September 1994. The October 1996 SARC event will be in Charlotte.

The South Atlantic Region has two representatives who serve on the Institute Board of Directors. In 1996, those individuals are:

James A. Neal, AIA
South Atlantic Region Director

James A. Neal, AIA, is president of Neal-Prince & Partners Architects in Greenville, a 14-person firm that includes seven registered architects. He received a bachelor of architecture degree from Clemson University in 1959. After opening his own practice in 1969, Neal returned to Clemson to serve a two-year term as a visiting faculty member for third year design.

Neal's service to the Institute includes active AIA work at the section level by serving on committees and in all positions up to president. At the state level, he has served on the state AIA board as design commissioner, secretary, vice president and president from 1989 through 1991.

Danie A. Johnson, AIA
South Atlantic Region Director

Danie A. Johnson, AIA, is the principal of Danie A. Johnson, AIA/Architect in Asheville. He received a bachelor of architecture degree from the College of Architecture at Clemson University.

Johnson was president of AIA North Carolina in 1992, previously serving the state chapter as president-elect, treasurer and director. In 1987, he was president of AIA Asheville.

Johnson has served on the Board of Directors of various civic organizations, including the Asheville Area Chamber of Commerce and Leadership Asheville Alumni Association. In 1991, Johnson completed a five-year term on the Asheville Planning and Zoning Commission.

AIA Charlotte Hires Local Staff

AIA Charlotte, a Section of the North Carolina chapter of the American Institute of Architects, now has staff to serve its 500-plus members and the public.

Lynette Dowd Rinker is the executive director of AIA Charlotte, the first person to hold this position. Since graduating from the University of South Carolina with a BA in business and history, she has held positions in South Carolina State Government and private industry relating to architecture, planning and capital budgeting. She has been with AIA for four years, most recently as the executive director of AIA South Carolina. She serves on the AIA Government Affairs Advisory Committee and also serves as committee chairman for the Council of Architectural Component Executives. She resides in the Lake Norman area near Charlotte, with her husband and their three children.

The address for AIA Charlotte is: P.O. Box 561065, Charlotte, NC 28256-1065 and the phone number is: (704) 895-0422.

AIA North Carolina Staff

The AIA North Carolina staff is a knowledgeable resource for members and the public, offering general information on a wide variety of subjects.

Timothy D. Kent, CAE
Executive Vice President

Timothy D. Kent joined AIA North Carolina in June 1990 after serving as executive assistant to the Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives.

In addition to managing and administering AIA North Carolina, Kent is a registered lobbyist at the North Carolina General Assembly and serves as managing editor for North Carolina Architecture. In December 1993, the AIA North Carolina Board of Directors admitted Kent as an Honorary Affiliate member.

Kent received a bachelor of arts degree in journalism at the University of Southern California in 1976 and worked as a television reporter from 1976-1989. He was the political reporter at WRAL-TV in Raleigh from 1983-89.

Kent is a Certified Association Executive (CAE), a professional designation awarded by the American Society of Association Executives to less than 15 percent of its 22,000 members. CAE designation requires professional experience, continuing education and passage of a day-long exam.

Kent is the 1995-96 elected president of Association Executives of North Carolina (AENC), a 600-member organization dedicated to professionalism in association management.

Jo Ellen Mitchell
Business Manager

Jo Ellen Mitchell joined the AIA North Carolina staff in August 1989. Some of her duties as business manager include managing the financial records, processing new members and maintaining the membership database, serving as staff liaison for the annual design awards program and supervising the staff and personnel records.

For five years prior to working with the AIA, Mitchell held a financial position with the Biblical Recorder, the newsjournal for the Baptist State Convention, headquartered in Raleigh.

Mitchell attended business college and received an accounting certificate in 1970. She has previous experience in the fields of insurance and mortgage banking.

Marynell Gehrke
Director of Special Events

Marynell Gehrke joined the AIA North Carolina staff in January 1995 after working since 1992 with Olson Management Group, an association management company. Prior to joining AIA as a staff member, Gehrke helped coordinate the 1993 AIA North Carolina Summer Design Conference through her position at Olson Management Group.

As director of special events, Gehrke will act as staff liaison for the convention (Summer Design Conference) and continuing education committees and handle all AIA North Carolina meeting and conference planning.

Marynell received a bachelor of science degree from the University of North Carolina in industrial relations in 1984.

Patricia Jakobs
Administrative Assistant

Patricia Jakobs joined the AIA North Carolina staff in July 1995. Some of her responsibilities as administrative assistant include managing AIA's contract documents and resume service as well as assisting AIA members who call or visit the Raleigh office.

Prior to joining the AIA North Carolina staff, Jakobs worked as director of quality at Colonial Carton Co. in Clayton, N.C.

In 1987, Jakobs received a bachelor of sciences degree at San Diego State University and an associate of sciences degree at Mira Costa College, both in business administration.

North Carolina Board Of Architecture

"It shall be unlawful for any individual, firm or corporation to practice or offer to practice architecture in this state....unless such person holds a current individual or corporate certificate of admission to practice architecture."

—Chapter 83A,
North Carolina General
Statutes

The North Carolina Board of Architecture, established by the General Assembly in 1915, is responsible for enforcement of the laws and regulations governing the practice of architecture in the state. A major task is to determine the qualifications of applicants who seek to take the registration examination which is registered nationally.

The Board is comprised of seven members appointed by the governor, five of whom are licensed architects appointed for five-year terms. Two of the members of the Board are not licensed architects and represent the interests of the public at large. The public members serve at the pleasure of the governor.

North Carolina requires registered architects to hold a degree in architecture from a college or university where the degree program has been approved by the Board, or professional education equivalents outlined and defined in the Board's Table of Equivalents for Education and Experience. As of July 1, 1991, the professional education qualification shall be a National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB) accredited professional degree in architecture.

Architects are licensed in North Carolina for the express purpose of safeguarding life, health and property. By virtue of their education, professional training and passage of the Architectural Registration Examination, architects are uniquely qualified to perform this vital function.

Officers and board members are: Alan T. Baldwin, AIA, president, Charlotte; Norma DeCamp Burns, FAIA, vice president, Raleigh; Kenneth W. Burnette, AIA, Morehead City; Kiki Teague, public member, Winston-Salem; Kenneth C. Mayer Jr., AIA, secretary, Greensboro; Vinod Goel, public member, Raleigh, and Jeffrey A. Huberman, FAIA, Charlotte.

NCARB

National Council of Architectural Registration Boards.

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards was established in 1920 to assist member boards in carrying out their duties, foster the enactment of uniform architectural laws, develop examinations and establish standards for certification requirements in education and training, to perfect its procedures for verifying the qualifications of applicants and determining their eligibility for certification and establish and maintain reciprocal registration between states having registration laws.

The NCARB is a non-profit corporation with all legally constituted boards of architecture in the United States as members, including the North Carolina Board of Architecture.

To be eligible for NCARB certification, architects must submit satisfactory evidence that they comply with the standard for education, training, examination and character and have been registered by a member board.

The NCARB will, upon request of an individual architect, secure, authenticate, and record factual data of the applicant's education, training, practice and character.

This record will be forwarded to any state board upon request of the applicant.

Certification shall be given to an applicant holding a council record verifying that the applicant has complied with the council's standards of education, training, practice and character; and that the applicant has passed an examination conforming to the council's standards of content, extent and length of time.

Certification by the NCARB is recommendation to all registration authorities that registration be granted to the holder without further examination. Most board members accept NCARB certification as conclusive evidence of an architect's eligibility of registration. It is, however, not a national registration.

Complete information on compiling a council record and obtaining council certification can be obtained from:

North Carolina Architectural Foundation

The NCAF provides scholarships to collegiate students in architecture and administers the Kamphoefner Prize.

Established in 1949, the North Carolina Architectural Foundation promotes and sponsors architectural programs and education. The mission of NCAF is to actively encourage and support quality in the field of architecture and to educate the public about architecture.

The Foundation awards the Kamphoefner Prize of $10,000 to an architect in North Carolina who exhibits excellence in the Modern Movement of architecture. The Prize is funded through an endowment bequeathed by Henry and Mabel Kamphoefner.

During its 42-year history, the Foundation's mission has evolved to adapt to various needs. Originally created to provide financial support for the then-new N.C. State School of Design, NCAF later relinquished that responsibility to the School of Design Foundation. Following the formation of the UNC Charlotte College of Architecture, NCAF began supporting both schools through the presentation of scholarships and book awards to worthy students.

The 1996 president of the North Carolina Architectural Foundation is Douglas R. Campbell, AIA, of ENG/6A in Asheville.

The Kamphoefner Prize

Frank C. Harmon, AIA
1995 Kamphoefner Winner

Henry L. Kamphoefner, the late dean and founder of the North Carolina State University School of Design, is honored through the presentation of the prestigious Kamphoefner Prize. Administered by the North Carolina Architectural Foundation, the $10,000 prize is given to a North Carolina architect for sustained contribution to the Modern Movement in architecture. The 1996 Prize will be presented June 22 in Wilmington.

Henry Kamphoefner worked closely with NCAF to create the Prize. The Prize is funded through an endowment bequeathed by Kamphoefner and his wife, Mabel. Considered the godfather of architectural education in North Carolina, Kamphoefner died in 1990 at the age of 82.

During his 25-year tenure as founder and dean of the N.C. State School of Design, the School rose to international prominence in architectural and design education.

Born in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1907, Kamphoefner received his B.S. in Architecture from the University of Illinois in 1930 and his M.S. in Architecture from Columbia University in 1931. He opened his own private practice in Iowa in 1932, began to teach at the University of Oklahoma in 1937 and served as the Director of the School of Architecture at Oklahoma from 1942-44. He became dean of the new School of Architecture and Landscape Design at N.C. State College in 1948 and immediately reshaped the School of Design, as he called it, to encompass not only architecture and landscape design but also textile, product and graphic design.

Kamphoefner was recognized for, among other things, the quality and creativity of the faculty he brought to N.C. State and his innovative visiting lecturer program. He retired in 1973 and received the Topaz Award in 1977 from the American Institute of Architects.

WITH THE RIGHT CONNECTIONS BUSINESS WILL HEAT UP FAST.

And heating with natural gas will cut energy bills by 40% or more. Today's gas-fired heating equipment sets the market standard in efficiency, economy and engineering. Our natural gas packaged heating/cooling equipment offers a high degree of flexibility and provides individual or zone controls and energy management systems. While other heating systems may cost less for initial installation, natural gas offers longer equipment life and lower maintenance costs. Maintain dialogue between AIA North Carolina and the N.C. Architectural Foundation on issues of mutual interest and concern.

AIA Political Action Committee

Since its formation in 1986, the AIA North Carolina Political Action Committee (AIA-PAC) has become increasingly active and successful in the political arena.

The AIA-PAC was established to assist the architects of North Carolina in gaining access to state legislators for the purpose of establishing an effective forum on issues facing the profession. Its mission is to work to create an environment in the North Carolina General Assembly and Council of State which is conducive to accomplishing the goals of the architectural profession.

Three specific objectives guide the activities of the AIA-PAC. These are:

- To solicit contributions.
- To make contributions to candidates who will be influential in determining the future course and the practice of architecture in North Carolina.
- To generally educate or inform the membership of AIA North Carolina concerning legislative and political issues affecting the profession.

The AIA-PAC is organized and operated on a voluntary, non-partisan basis to preserve and promote the status of architecture through the pursuit of its objectives. All active members of AIA North Carolina who contribute to AIA-PAC are eligible for membership in the organization.

The organization is governed and supervised by a Board of Directors composed of 21 members of the AIA-PAC, with a minimum of one member from each section of AIA North Carolina. Each Director is appointed to a term of three years, with no Director being appointed to more than two consecutive terms.

Recognized as one of the most successful architect-PACs in the country, the AIA-PAC has achieved high success rates in terms of its contributions to winning candidates and its ability to influence legislation. It has played a prominent role in enhancing the image of AIA North Carolina among state legislators and in establishing architects as a respected source of information for legislators.

To maintain established levels of candidate contributions and ensure the continued effectiveness of AIA North Carolina's Government Affairs Programs, AIA-PAC needs increased financial support from members and friends of the profession.

The 1996 AIA-PAC chair is Roy W. Johnson, AIA, of Odell Associates in Charlotte.

The AIA-PAC assists North Carolina architects in gaining access to state legislators for the purpose of establishing an effective forum on issues facing the profession.

Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct

Members of The American Institute of Architects are dedicated to the highest standards of professionalism, integrity and competence. They apply to all professional activities, wherever they occur. They address responsibilities to the public, which the the profession serves and enriches; to the clients and users of architecture and in the building industries, who help to shape the built environment; and to the art and science of architecture, that continuum of knowledge and creation which is the heritage and legacy of the profession.

The Code is arranged in three tiers of statements: Canons, Ethical Standards and Rules of Conduct. The Canons are broad principles of conduct. The Ethical Standards are more specific goals toward which members should aspire in professional performance and behavior. The Rules of Conduct are mandatory, the violation of which is grounds for disciplinary action by the Institute.

The Code of Ethics was published in its entirety in the 1994 Directory issue. For a copy of the Code or questions, please call (919) 833-6656.

Architectural Education

Two universities in North Carolina offer programs accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board – North Carolina State University in Raleigh and the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

• N.C. STATE UNIVERSITY •

The Department of Architecture at N.C. STATE UNIVERSITY was established in 1948 as one of two original academic components in the School of Design. Under the guidance of founding dean Henry L. Kamphoefner, the School of Design experienced a long period of development, establishing a reputation for innovation.

The School is presently led by Dean Marvin J. Malecha, FAIA, who was appointed to the position in August 1994. Christos A. Saccopoulous, AIA, was appointed department head in August 1992.

The architecture department has enlarged its mission and curricular offerings over the years to include programs leading to the following three degrees:

• Bachelor of Environmental Design in Architecture (BEDA)

A four-year pre-professional curriculum that serves as the foundation for the two advanced programs. The curriculum includes a balance of general studies (English, mathematics, science and humanities), design studio courses and architectural support courses (history, technology, methods and theory).

• Bachelor of Architecture (B. ARCH)

A one-year professional curriculum that builds on the four-year BEDA or other equivalent program.

• Master of Architecture (M. ARCH)

Three tracks lead to the professional M.ARCH degree: Track I is a two-year program for holders of the BEDA or equivalent four-year pre-professional degree; Track II is a three-semester second professional degree program for holders of the B. ARCH degree.; Track III accepts students with degrees in non-architectural fields into a four-year program.

Both the B. ARCH and M. ARCH are professional degrees accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board. The most recent accreditation action took place in 1995, extending accreditation of both programs for five years.

The School of Design annually admits 100 to 120 freshmen and transfer students to the common first-year "Design Fundamentals" program. Students begin their architectural studies in the second year. For information about undergraduate admissions standards and procedures, contact the School of Design, N.C. State University, Box 7701, Raleigh, NC 27695-7701.

Admissions to the B. ARCH and M. ARCH programs are by application to the Department of Architecture. For additional information, contact the Department of Architecture, School of Design, N.C. State University, Box 7701, Raleigh, NC 27695-7701.

• UNC CHARLOTTE •

The College of Architecture at UNC CHARLOTTE was founded in 1969 and graduated its first students with professional degrees in 1976, the same year Charles C. Hight, FAIA, was named dean. In July, 1994, the school received its fourth consecutive full term accreditation from the National Architectural Accrediting Board.

The curriculum provides a balance between theory and application, and general and professional education. The program is structured so a person may develop a double major or minor in another field such as engineering, earth science, business, computer or behavioral science. The curriculum is organized into two sections:

• The Foundation Program

In the first three years, students are enrolled in general education and architectural courses. The studios and seminars, which occur each semester, enable students to acquire the fundamentals of visual design, problem solving, conceptualization and environmental influences. The third year studios focus upon building designs which are site specific. In addition, student extend their knowledge of architectural history and technology while having the opportunity to pursue individual interests through architectural and general elective seminars.

• Advanced Program

In the fourth and fifth years, students select design studios and seminars in accordance with their individual study plan they developed at the end of their third year. In addition, to the design thesis, students have the opportunity to enroll in studios and seminars which focus on topics such as design theories, programming, architectural materials and technology, lighting design, acoustics, wood and metals design/making, community design, computer-aided design, advanced studies in architectural history, graphic explorations and other design issues.

The Bachelor of Arts is awarded at the end of the fourth year and the professional degree, Bachelor of Architecture, is awarded in the fifth year.

Many students in the Advanced Program choose one of the college's European studio options: Spain, Italy, London and Copenhagen. In addition, non-studio architectural options are available in The Netherlands, Paris, Montana and other pertinent locations.

Students who do not desire to obtain the professional degree, may pursue a highly specialized or a general study program in the fourth year.

The College accepts transfer students for advanced standing from other NAAB schools.

More detailed information may be obtained by writing the College of Architecture, UNC Charlotte, Charlotte, NC 28223.

AIA Continuing Education Requirements For Membership

Continuing education is now a membership requirement for the American Institute of Architects. Developed to demonstrate AIA members' lifelong commitment to learning, the AIA Continuing Education System (CES) enhances knowledge, competency and competitiveness.

In summary, the Institute's plan includes the following:

- By October 1997, members must earn 36 Learning Units (LU) in order to renew membership in 1998. LUs earned during the AIA/CES pilot program phase, which took place in 1993 and 1994, can be applied to the October 1997 requirement. AIA North Carolina participated in this pilot program.
- Members must accrue 36 LUs each year after October 1997 in order to maintain AIA membership. After October 1997, members will not be able to "stockpile" LUs for use at future membership renewal dates.

AIA members can participate in a variety of learning programs and activities through CES. Members receive LUs for each program in which they participate based on the length of the program or activity and its educational level, called quality level (QL). The following summarizes how QLs are determined.

• Quality Level 1 - Passive learning

Members earn 1 LU for each hour of involvement in an activity with a clearly defined professional purpose.

• Quality Level 2 - Interactive learning

Courses at this level offer significant interaction between the instructor (or learning resource) and student. Members earn 2 LUs for each hour of involvement.

• Quality Level 3 - Interactive learning with feedback

In addition to meeting the QL2 requirements, this course includes a method of receiving feedback on the material actually learned. Members earn 3 LUs for each hour of involvement.

How LUs Are Earned

- Members can attend seminars or programs sponsored by an AIA/CES registered provider to receive LUs. In this manner, the provider is responsible for reporting the attendance to the AIA/CES recording center.
- Members may participate in self-directed study, including reading books, watching videos or listening to audio cassettes on architectural topics. Members who earn LUs in this manner are responsible for reporting their participation. AIA North Carolina members may obtain AIA/CES Self Report forms by calling (800) 617-FAXX and requesting document #3000.

Where AIA CES Records Are Kept

The CES recordkeeping is performed under contract by the University of Oklahoma, Continuing Education, AIA/CES, 1700 Asp Avenue, Room B4, Norman, OK 73072-6400. Call (202) 626-7353 for questions or comments on AIA/CES records.

This recordkeeping center monitors LUs earned by AIA members and keeps track of registered providers. Transcripts regarding LUs earned will be issued annually to AIA members.

Is CES a Requirement for Licensure?

CES is not yet a requirement for licensure in North Carolina; however, the North Carolina Board of Architecture is looking at this possibility. Four states, including Alabama, Florida, Iowa and Louisiana, now have continuing education as part of architectural licensure. Requirements for continuing education in those four states range between 12 and 20 hours per year.

Where To Find Seminars

The eight local sections of AIA North Carolina offer AIA/CES programs at their meetings. For an updated list of qualifying programs in the region, call (800) 617-FAXX and request document #2000.

The AIA Continuing Education System (CES) was developed to demonstrate AIA members' lifelong commitment to learning and to enhance knowledge, competency and competitiveness.

Deitrick Service Medal

S. Scott Ferebee, Jr., FAIA
1995 Deitrick Medal Recipient

On June 22, 1996, AIA North Carolina will present the William Henley Deitrick Medal for Service.

The medal will be presented to an AIA North Carolina member who exhibits extraordinary service to the community, profession or AIA North Carolina. The medal is named in honor of the late William Henley Deitrick, FAIA, a former president of AIA North Carolina. The AIA Tower, headquarters for AIA North Carolina, previously served as Deitrick's architectural studio and offices.

Categories

One medal will be presented each year. The selection will be made from one of the following categories:

Service to the Community

This category recognizes the work of architects who serve as elected officials, public administrators or institutional leaders and establish and contribute to the development of laws, regulations and policies that promote excellence in architecture.

Service to the Chapter

This category recognizes the work of architects that, by their skill, professionalism, dedication, ability and commitment, have consistently advanced the common goals of AIA North Carolina.

Service to the Profession

This category recognizes the work of architects who have had a significant impact on the profession of architecture and its public perception as a profession.

Eligibility

Any AIA North Carolina member, group of members, component, or committee may nominate candidates for this award.

Architects registered in North Carolina and members of AIA North Carolina are eligible for this honor.

Submission Requirements

All exhibits must be submitted in a binder, not to exceed 20 8 1/2" x 11" pages. To obtain a binder, contact AIA North Carolina at (919) 833-6656.

Each submission shall contain the following:

- A nomination letter by the AIA member, group of members, component or committee.
- A biography of the nominee, not to exceed two pages, including a list of offices, positions, honors, publications and presentations that relate to the award's purpose.
- Five letters of support that give testament to the achievement presented.
- Exhibits, if appropriate for the nominee, to illustrate accomplishments that relate to the award's purpose.

All submissions must be received no later than May 31, 1996. Send submissions to the AIA Tower, 115 West Morgan Street, Raleigh, NC 27601.

Selection of Award

A jury of five members, appointed by the AIA North Carolina Board of Directors, will serve for a three-year staggered term. Jury members are not eligible for the medal during their term of service.

AIA North Carolina Hosts 1996 South Atlantic Region Convention

AIA North Carolina will host the AIA South Atlantic Region Convention (SARC) on October 3-6, 1996, in Charlotte. Most of the meetings, seminars and events will be held at the New Charlotte Convention Center with accommodations at the Omni Hotel in uptown Charlotte.

SARC will include AIA members from a three-state region — North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. The highlight of the event comes Saturday evening October 5 with the presentation of the AIA South Atlantic Region Design Awards.

The SARC event is held every other year and the responsibility for hosting SARC is rotated among the three states. The last time AIA North Carolina hosted SARC was in 1990 at the Grove Park Inn in Asheville.

AIA members who attend SARC will be able to choose from a wide variety of continuing education seminars. A major products fair and exposition is planned in conjunction with SARC. For information on SARC, contact Marynell Gehrke at (910) 549-6931.

SARC will be the major event of the year for AIA North Carolina so the always-popular Summer Design Conference will be held earlier than usual and on a reduced scale. The Summer Design Conference is scheduled for Saturday, June 22 in Wilmington, following a Friday evening social event. AIA members will be offered a half-day of continuing education. The AIA North Carolina Design Awards and Kamphoefner Prize will be presented on the evening of June 22 at Thalian Hall in Wilmington.

AIA National Design Awards

A total of nine projects, located in North Carolina, have received the AIA's highest recognition of design excellence.

- 1953 Project: N.C. State Fair Pavilion (Dorton Arena), Raleigh
Architect: William H. Deitrick, FAIA, with Matthew Nowicki, designer
- 1954 Project: Double Oaks Elementary School, Charlotte
Architect: Arthur G. Odell Jr., FAIA
- 1957 Project: Wilson Junior High School, Charlotte
Architect: Arthur G. Odell Jr., FAIA
- Project: Residence/studio, Raleigh
Architect: George Matsumoto, FAIA
- 1971 Project: NCNB (NationsBank) Branch Office, Charlotte
Architect: Wolf Associates
- 1974 Project: NCNB (NationsBank) Branch Office, Charlotte
Architect: Wolf Associates
- 1980 Project: Southern Service Center for Equitable Life, Charlotte
Architect: Wolf Associates
- 1983 Project: Mecklenburg County Courthouse, Charlotte
Architect: Wolf Associates
- 1984 Project: R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. building, Winston-Salem Architect: Croxton Collaborative with Hammill-Walter

Since 1949, the American Institute of Architects has recognized design excellence through its National Honor Awards program.

National AIA Presidents From North Carolina

- 1964-1965 Arthur G. Odell, Jr., FAIA, Charlotte
- 1972-1973 S. Scott Ferebee Jr., FAIA, Charlotte

In the 137-year history of The American Institute of Architects, only two North Carolinians have served as Institute president.

National Kemper Award Winners

- 1975 F. Carter Williams, FAIA, Raleigh
- 1982 Leslie N. Boney Jr., FAIA, Wilmington

The Kemper Award is presented for outstanding lifetime service to the Institute and profession.

AIA Fellows

The American Institute of Architects bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, fellowship is the highest honor the AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on members with at least 10 years of continuous membership who have made significant contributions to the aesthetic, scientific, and practical efficiency of the profession; to the standards of architectural education, training, and practice; to the building industry through leadership of the AIA and other related professional organizations; to the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment and to society through significant public service.

Founded in 1952, the College of Fellows includes approximately five percent of the total AIA membership. Those advanced to fellowship can use "FAIA" after their names in recognition of their contributions in design, education, research or public service.

Current members of AIA North Carolina who have been recognized for Fellowship are:

IF YOU'RE PLANNING EVEN A SMALL RENOVATION ...

...PLAN ON SAVING MONEY WITH AN ARCHITECT.

Whether you're adding a bedroom or building a new home, it pays to call an architect. It all starts with your first meeting. By listening carefully to your specific wants and needs, an architect can help you make the most of your space, speed up your renovation, and smooth out the hassles from start to finish.

Architects know how to keep a watchful eye on your budget throughout a project and can help you avoid costly, last-minute changes.

So if you're considering either renovating or building a new home, give us a call.

We can put you in touch with an AIA architect who'll interpret your needs.

And keep a ceiling on your budget.

IT PAYS TO CALL AN ARCHITECT.

On Time. On Budget.

Impossible these days? Well, almost. Until DPIC came up with a breakthrough approach to project insurance that changes the impossible to the achievable.

How? With Partnered TeamCover™—project-specific professional liability insurance that not only provides the best coverage for your entire design team, it gets the whole construction team working together, as partners, to make your project successful. In fact, DPIC is so sure this concept will work for you, we'll even help you pay for the partnering.*

So don't give up on your dream of a smooth project that comes in on time and on budget. Let DPIC help you make it happen. For more information about the

DPIC program, contact Stuart Thomas at Professional Liability Consultants, Inc.

AIA Documents Make Life Easier ...For Most Of Us.

One of the real benefits of using current AIA Documents is you can save time and money by eliminating the need to draft a completely new document for every transaction. Documents are court tested and are updated regularly to reflect changes in industry and construction practices, technology, insurance, and legal precedent. You can choose from more than 120 contracts and forms that help to clarify your rights and obligations and those of the client, contractor, and consultant. It's no wonder AIA Documents are accepted throughout the construction industry. They make life so much easier ... for most of us. Contact us for details.

YOU MAY NOT KNOW
WHAT AAMA 605 IS
BUT YOU'LL BE GLAD WE DO.

The new Marvin Clad Sliding French Door combines beauty and performance in a highly functional sliding door. Our clad sliding French door features an extruded aluminum, low maintenance exterior. It meets and exceeds the toughest coating specification in the industry, AAMA 605. On the inside you'll be impressed by our wood interior, no nail hole design, and elegant door handles. And, while all sliding doors slide, no other door slides as smoothly, freely, and as quietly as ours. Visit your local Marvin dealer for a test-slide.
