Versatile, Efficient, Resilient. PRECAST DELIVERS!

The Proximity Hotel was the first hotel in the U.S. to achieve LEED Platinum Certification and showcases that high performance, sustainable construction can be cost effective on a life cycle basis. The precast concrete envelope of insulated sandwich wall panels contributed to a 39.2% reduction in energy use. The wall system is a unitized, thermally efficient envelope system with several finishes incorporated in the wall panels, inside and out, which also serve as the final interior finish. The mass wall system incorporates a 3.5-inch core of edge-to-edge continuous insulation that exceeds ASHRAE 90.1 energy standards, and provides a rain, air and vapor barrier, as well as excellent acoustics with an estimated STC rating of 54. Prefabrication of the precast envelope saved three months off the construction schedule and provides a versatile, efficient and resilient building exterior for years of high performance operation.

Polished Face

As Johnson Concrete's most distinguished product, Polished Face blocks are produced in the same manner as Ground Face blocks but undergo additional buffing by diamond tipped polishing heads to accentuate the natural beauty of the exposed aggregates. The sheen on our polished face units is natural and does not fade over time or require reapplication like acrylic sealers.

Ground Face

Our engineers have spent years perfecting the mix designs for Ground Face blocks, carefully selecting aggregates that are naturally beautiful but also meet the gradation and strength requirements for high performance masonry. The distinct color of each aggregate creates a variegated look similar to limestone or marble but with the much greater cost effectiveness of concrete masonry.

Split Face

Split Face blocks are made by mechanically splitting two full sized units which are made together in half. This process produces a rich, textured unit with exposed aggregates resembling the look of a natural split stone. Split face blocks are available in a range of shapes and colors allowing lots of design flexibility.

ProBlock

ProBlock has become a revolution in the concrete masonry industry. It is a patented concrete masonry wall system created by Johnson Concrete that has benefits for everyone from the masonry contractor to the owner. The extremely low weight of the unit increases mason speed of construction. The reduced cross web area of ProBlock improves the energy efficiency of the wall system.

Structural Strength. Fire Resistance. Code Compliance.

A single panel that gives you what you need in multiple applications.

Patented non-combustible Pyrotite® layer bonded to the OSB.

Designed to meet codes in multiple applications, FlameBlock is an ideal choice for multifamily, zero lot line and roof deck applications. Combine its versatility with its strength, ease of installation and Class A Flame Spread Rating for a panel that fits the needs of a wide variety of designs in North Carolina.

Founded in 1857, the American Institute of Architects is the recognized advocate for the architectural profession in the United States.

With a membership of nearly 81,000 architects, interns and students, the AIA actively promotes the highest standards of professional ethics and advances the professional development of its members through continuing education. Speaking with a unified voice, the AIA represents architects in governmental and regulatory decisions that impact professional practice and the quality of life.

The North Carolina Chapter of the American Institute of Architects (AIA North Carolina) was founded in 1913 and is the largest statewide AIA chapter in the United States, with over 2,200 members. The membership of AIA North Carolina includes about three-quarters of the architects who live in this state.

AIA North Carolina members work and live in every corner of the state, practicing in firms ranging in size from one person to 400 people. The membership is divided into seven geographical sections, located in Asheville, Charlotte, Eastern North Carolina, Piedmont (Greensboro/High Point), Triangle, Wilmington and Winston-Salem.

AIA North Carolina focuses its resources on five key areas, including:

Government Affairs

With its current offices located in close proximity to the State Capitol, AIA North Carolina is well-positioned to represent the architect's view in legislation and public policy development. AIA North Carolina's opinions and positions are actively sought by lawmakers when dealing with legislation affecting construction, building codes and planning. Through a separate organization, AIA North Carolina maintains a well-funded political action committee.

Public Awareness of Architecture and the Profession

Working through several volunteer committees and its local sections, AIA North Carolina actively pursues a concerted effort to help the public become more aware of architecture and the positive impact architects have on the built environment. The chapter's annual Design Awards program is a prime opportunity to highlight to the public the finest work by North Carolina architects. Additionally, AIA local sections declare one week each year Architecture Week, hosting a wide variety of activities intended to engage and stimulate the public.

Continuing Education and Professional Development

Continuing education is a requirement for licensure renewal and for ongoing membership in the AIA. In 2015, the chapter will offer affordable and accessible programs dedicated to health-safety-welfare subject material. AIA North Carolina will also offer online classes through its OWLS (On-Demand Webinar Learning Series) program that will be accessible to members all across the state. AIA members can participate in Knowledge Communities that specifically target career and practice needs ranging from health care facilities to historic preservation. In 2015, AIA North Carolina held the AIA NC Design Conference, which took place in Durham, North Carolina, September 24-26. The theme, Revitalize, provided architects with hands-on continuing education, professional development and networking among members from all across the three-state region.

Member Services

Publications and information are among the most valuable services available to AIA members. Members receive subscriptions to national publications such as ARCHITECT and many digital editions such as Eco-Home and Eco-Structure, along with the AIA North Carolina News and Notes newsletter. Websites are maintained at www.aianc.org and www.aia.org.

The AIA NC Center for Architecture and Design

AIA North Carolina is proud to now be located in the Center for Architecture and Design at 14 E. Peace St. in Raleigh, North Carolina. This building was made possible by donations from AIA members and firms. Find more information about the building at www.cfadnc.org.

Collateral Organizations

AIA North Carolina maintains and develops relationships with a host of organizations that impact the architectural profession, including construction trade associations, state regulatory agencies, accredited schools of architecture and other licensed design professionals.

Mission Statement

The mission of AIA North Carolina is to serve its members by enhancing and promoting the profession of architecture.

2015 AIA North Carolina President's Message

2015 has been a transformational year for AIA NC! Your Board of Directors and AIA NC staff are implementing a number of initiatives that will provide unique and innovative services to our members. We will be strengthening our organization at all levels and working to expand our Center for Architecture and Design “brand” through activities in multiple sections throughout the state. All of our work will further our mission to be “the voice of the architectural profession and a resource for its members in service to society.” Here are some of this year's highlights:

- New Three-Year Strategic Plan: In 2014, the Board undertook an update of AIA NC's Strategic Plan. Unlike previous plans, this plan is a three-year, highly action-oriented plan, with specific elements targeted for implementation in each of the three years. The plan elements dovetail with changes being driven by AIA National that are further described below. You can view the Strategic Plan on AIA NC's website at: www.aianc.org/2015strategic-plan.
- “Repositioning”: AIA National is implementing its new organizational structure and approach to how it delivers member services nationally. This “repositioning” is also flowing down through the other AIA Components — chapters and sections — and our organizational structure and delivery of services will change accordingly.
- Member Services Plan: By the end of the year, AIA NC and its seven sections must adopt a detailed plan for how we will deliver services to our members. This plan will be comprehensive and will detail which component (local section or AIA NC) is best positioned to provide specific services to our members. AIA NC Secretary Thad Rhoden is leading a Task Force focused on this initiative. AIA NC Board Member Rod Lindsey is serving as vice chair for this effort. The first step in developing the plan was a statewide meeting held on May 28 at CFAD. This meeting, which was facilitated by our consultant Jay Younger, resulted in a number of key questions that the Task Force will work on. A follow-up meeting, where proposals will be presented and adopted, will be scheduled later this year. You can find more information about this process on the AIA North Carolina website at: www.aianc.org/memberserviceplan.
- Continuing Education: Board Member Hunt McKinnon and his committee are leading a transformation in how AIA NC delivers continuing education to our members. Already, the new online “OWLS” program has been implemented to great success. Expansion of our online offerings will continue throughout the year. Later this year, a new collaborative program being developed with the North Carolina Board of Architecture will be introduced — a program that will hopefully become a “must-attend” for our members every year.
- Government Affairs: 2015 is a very active year in the General Assembly. AIA NC staff members and Board member Chuck Travis are representing our members' interests well in a fluid legislative environment. We are an integral part of coalitions focusing on issues such as capital funding and restoration of key tax credits that impact our profession.
- Emerging Professionals: Under the leadership of Board members Juliane Kuminsky and Rebecca McCormick, our focus on emerging professionals is increasing. This focus is also occurring at each local section.
- CFAD Capital Campaign: When the economic downturn hit in 2008, AIA NC suspended its CFAD Capital Campaign until our profession was once again in a growth mode. The Board decided that the Campaign would restart in 2015; and under the leadership of Steve Schuster, FAIA, it is moving forward. The remaining goal is $300,000, which we plan to have raised by the end of 2016. We need your help to complete this Campaign!

Our Design Conference — with the theme of Revitalize! — was held September 24-26 in Durham, North Carolina. This year, we chose to focus the conference on hands-on learning experiences. We featured talks and associated learning tours that highlighted renovation, restoration and new projects that have helped to revitalize Durham into the vibrant, active city it is today. The keynote addresses were presented as a series of short “TED Talk-style” presentations by individuals who have played a key role in Durham's revitalization. Board member Jim Williams again organized an exciting Design Awards program for both residential and nonresidential projects.

Your Board of Directors and AIA NC staff have a full agenda for 2015! We trust our members will see positive results as our initiatives are implemented.

Code of Ethics & Professional Conduct

Ethics

From the Office of General Counsel

Preamble

Members of The American Institute of Architects are dedicated to the highest standards of professionalism, integrity, and competence. This Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct states guidelines for the conduct of Members in fulfilling those obligations. The Code is arranged in three tiers of statements: Canons, Ethical Standards, and Rules of Conduct:

- Canons are broad principles of conduct.
- Ethical Standards (E.S.) are more specific goals toward which Members should aspire in professional performance and behavior.
- Rules of Conduct (Rule) are mandatory; violation of a Rule is grounds for disciplinary action by the Institute. Rules of Conduct, in some instances, implement more than one Canon or Ethical Standard.

The Code applies to the professional activities of all classes of Members, wherever they occur. It addresses responsibilities to the public, which the profession serves and enriches; to the clients and users of architecture and in the building industries, who help to shape the built environment; and to the art and science of architecture, that continuum of knowledge and creation which is the heritage and legacy of the profession.

Commentary is provided for some of the Rules of Conduct. That commentary is meant to clarify or elaborate the intent of the rule. The commentary is not part of the Code. Enforcement will be determined by application of the Rules of Conduct alone; the commentary will assist those seeking to conform their conduct to the Code and those charged with its enforcement.

Statement in Compliance With Antitrust Law

The following practices are not, in themselves, unethical, unprofessional, or contrary to any policy of The American Institute of Architects or any of its components:

- (1) submitting, at any time, competitive bids or price quotations, including in circumstances where price is the sole or principal consideration in the selection of an architect;
- (2) providing discounts; or
- (3) providing free services.

Individual architects or architecture firms, acting alone and not on behalf of the Institute or any of its components, are free to decide for themselves whether or not to engage in any of these practices. Antitrust law permits the Institute, its components, or Members to advocate legislative or other government policies or actions relating to these practices. Finally, architects should continue to consult with state laws or regulations governing the practice of architecture.

CANON I

General Obligations

Members should maintain and advance their knowledge of the art and science of architecture, respect the body of architectural accomplishment, contribute to its growth, thoughtfully consider the social and environmental impact of their professional activities, and exercise learned and uncompromised professional judgment.

E.S. 1.1 Knowledge and Skill:

Members should strive to improve their professional knowledge and skill.

Rule 1.101 In practicing architecture, Members shall demonstrate a consistent pattern of reasonable care and competence, and shall apply the technical knowledge and skill which is ordinarily applied by architects of good standing practicing in the same locality.

Commentary: By requiring a "consistent pattern" of adherence to the common law standard of competence, this rule allows for discipline of a Member who more than infrequently does not achieve that standard. Isolated instances of minor lapses would not provide the basis for discipline.

E.S. 1.2 Standards of Excellence:

Members should continually seek to raise the standards of aesthetic excellence, architectural education, research, training, and practice.

E.S. 1.3 Natural and Cultural Heritage:

Members should respect and help conserve their natural and cultural heritage while striving to improve the environment and the quality of life within it.

E.S. 1.4 Human Rights:

Members should uphold human rights in all their professional endeavors.

Rule 1.401 Members shall not discriminate in their professional activities on the basis of race, religion, gender, national origin, age, disability, or sexual orientation.

E.S. 1.5 Allied Arts & Industries:

Members should promote allied arts and contribute to the knowledge and capability of the building industries as a whole.

CANON II

Obligations to the Public

Members should embrace the spirit and letter of the law governing their professional affairs and should promote and serve the public interest in their personal and professional activities.

E.S. 2.1 Conduct:

Members should uphold the law in the conduct of their professional activities.

Rule 2.101 Members shall not, in the conduct of their professional practice, knowingly violate the law.

Commentary: The violation of any law, local, state or federal, occurring in the conduct of a Member's professional practice, is made the basis for discipline by this rule. This includes the federal Copyright Act, which prohibits copying architectural works without the permission of the copyright owner. Allegations of violations of this rule must be based on an independent finding of a violation of the law by a court of competent jurisdiction or an administrative or regulatory body.

Rule 2.102 Members shall neither offer nor make any payment or gift to a public official with the intent of influencing the official's judgment in connection with an existing or prospective project in which the Members are interested.

Commentary: This rule does not prohibit campaign contributions made in conformity with applicable campaign financing laws.

Rule 2.103 Members serving in a public capacity shall not accept payments or gifts which are intended to influence their judgment.

Rule 2.104 Members shall not engage in conduct involving fraud or wanton disregard of the rights of others.

Commentary: This rule addresses serious misconduct whether or not related to a Member's professional practice. When an alleged violation of this rule is based on a violation of a law, or of fraud, then its proof must be based on an independent finding of a violation of the law or a finding of fraud by a court of competent jurisdiction or an administrative or regulatory body.

Rule 2.105 If, in the course of their work on a project, the Members become aware of a decision taken by their employer or client which violates any law or regulation and which will, in the Members' judgment, materially affect adversely the safety to the public of the finished project, the Members shall:

- (a) advise their employer or client against the decision,
- (b) refuse to consent to the decision, and
- (c) report the decision to the local building inspector or other public official charged with the enforcement of the applicable laws and regulations, unless the Members are able to cause the matter to be satisfactorily resolved by other means.

Commentary: This rule extends only to violations of the building laws that threaten the public safety. The obligation under this rule applies only to the safety of the finished project, an obligation coextensive with the usual undertaking of an architect.

Rule 2.106 Members shall not counsel or assist a client in conduct that the architect knows, or reasonably should know, is fraudulent or illegal.

E.S. 2.2 Public Interest Services:

Members should render public interest professional services, including pro bono services, and encourage their employees to render such services. Pro bono services are those rendered without expecting compensation, including those rendered for indigent persons, after disasters, or in other emergencies.

E.S. 2.3 Civic Responsibility:

Members should be involved in civic activities as citizens and professionals, and should strive to improve public appreciation and understanding of architecture and the functions and responsibilities of architects.

Rule 2.301 Members making public statements on architectural issues shall disclose when they are being compensated for making such statements or when they have an economic interest in the issue.

CANON III

Obligations to the Client

Members should serve their clients competently and in a professional manner, and should exercise unprejudiced and unbiased judgment when performing all professional services.

E.S. 3.1 Competence:

Members should serve their clients in a timely and competent manner.

Rule 3.101 In performing professional services, Members shall take into account applicable laws and regulations. Members may rely on the advice of other qualified persons as to the intent and meaning of such regulations.

Rule 3.102 Members shall undertake to perform professional services only when they, together with those whom they may engage as consultants, are qualified by education, training, or experience in the specific technical areas involved.

Commentary: This rule is meant to ensure that Members not undertake projects that are beyond their professional capacity. Members venturing into areas that require expertise they do not possess may obtain that expertise by additional education, training, or through the retention of consultants with the necessary expertise.

Rule 3.103 Members shall not materially alter the scope or objectives of a project without the client's consent.

E.S. 3.2 Conflict of Interest:

Members should avoid conflicts of interest in their professional practices and fully disclose all unavoidable conflicts as they arise.

Rule 3.201 A Member shall not render professional services if the Member's professional judgment could be affected by responsibilities to another project or person, or by the Member's own interests, unless all those who rely on the Member's judgment consent after full disclosure.

Commentary: This rule is intended to embrace the full range of situations that may present a Member with a conflict between his interests or responsibilities and the interest of others. Those who are entitled to disclosure may include a client, owner, employer, contractor, or others who rely on or are affected by the Member's professional decisions. A Member who cannot appropriately communicate about a conflict directly with an affected person must take steps to ensure that disclosure is made by other means.

Rule 3.202 When acting by agreement of the parties as the independent interpreter of building contract documents and the judge of contract performance, Members shall render decisions impartially.

Commentary: This rule applies when the Member, though paid by the owner and owing the owner loyalty, is nonetheless required to act with impartiality in fulfilling the architect's professional responsibilities.

E.S. 3.3 Candor and Truthfulness:

Members should be candid and truthful in their professional communications and keep their clients reasonably informed about the clients' projects.

Rule 3.301 Members shall not intentionally or recklessly mislead existing or prospective clients about the results that can be achieved through the use of the Members' services, nor shall the Members state that they can achieve results by means that violate applicable law or this Code.

Commentary: This rule is meant to preclude dishonest, reckless, or illegal representations by a Member either in the course of soliciting a client or during performance.

E.S. 3.4 Confidentiality: Members should safeguard the trust placed in them by their clients.

Rule 3.401 Members shall not knowingly disclose information that would adversely affect their client or that they have been asked to maintain in confidence, except as otherwise allowed or required by this Code or applicable law.

Commentary: To encourage the full and open exchange of information necessary for a successful professional relationship, Members must recognize and respect the sensitive nature of confidential client communications. Because the law does not recognize an architect-client privilege, however, the rule permits a Member to reveal a confidence when a failure to do so would be unlawful or contrary to another ethical duty imposed by this Code.

CANON IV

Obligations to the Profession

Members should uphold the integrity and dignity of the profession.

E.S. 4.1 Honesty and Fairness:

Members should pursue their professional activities with honesty and fairness.

Rule 4.101 Members having substantial information which leads to a reasonable belief that another Member has committed a violation of this Code which raises a serious question as to that Member's honesty, trustworthiness, or fitness as a Member, shall file a complaint with the National Ethics Council.

Commentary: Often, only an architect can recognize that the behavior of another architect poses a serious question as to that other's professional integrity. In those circumstances, the duty to the professional's calling requires that a complaint be filed. In most jurisdictions, a complaint that invokes professional standards is protected from a libel or slander action if the complaint was made in good faith. If in doubt, a Member should seek counsel before reporting on another under this rule.

Rule 4.102 Members shall not sign or seal drawings, specifications, reports, or other professional work for which they do not have responsible control.

Commentary: Responsible control means the degree of knowledge and supervision ordinarily required by the professional standard of care. With respect to the work of licensed consultants, Members may sign or seal such work if they have reviewed it, coordinated its preparation, or intend to be responsible for its adequacy.

Rule 4.103 Members speaking in their professional capacity shall not knowingly make false statements of material fact.

Commentary: This rule applies to statements in all professional contexts, including applications for licensure and AIA membership.

E.S. 4.2 Dignity and Integrity:

Members should strive, through their actions, to promote the dignity and integrity of the profession, and to ensure that their representatives and employees conform their conduct to this Code.

Rule 4.201 Members shall not make misleading, deceptive, or false statements or claims about their professional qualifications, experience, or performance and shall accurately state the scope and nature of their responsibilities in connection with work for which they are claiming credit.

Commentary: This rule is meant to prevent Members from claiming or implying credit for work which they did not do, misleading others, and denying other participants in a project their proper share of credit.

Rule 4.202 Members shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that those over whom they have supervisory authority conform their conduct to this Code.

Commentary: What constitutes "reasonable efforts" under this rule is a common sense matter. As it makes sense to ensure that those over whom the architect exercises supervision be made generally aware of the Code, it can also make sense to bring a particular provision to the attention of a particular employee when a situation is present which might give rise to violation.

CANON V

Obligations to Colleagues

Members should respect the rights and acknowledge the professional aspirations and contributions of their colleagues.

E.S. 5.1 Professional Environment:

Members should provide their associates and employees with a suitable working environment, compensate them fairly, and facilitate their professional development.

E.S. 5.2 Intern and Professional Development:

Members should recognize and fulfill their obligation to nurture fellow professionals as they progress through all stages of their career, beginning with professional education in the academy, progressing through internship and continuing throughout their career.

Rule 5.201 Members who have agreed to work with individuals engaged in an architectural internship program or an experience requirement for licensure shall reasonably assist in proper and timely documentation in accordance with that program.

E.S. 5.3 Professional Recognition:

Members should build their professional reputation on the merits of their own service and performance and should recognize and give credit to others for the professional work they have performed.

Rule 5.301 Members shall recognize and respect the professional contributions of their employees, employers, professional colleagues, and business associates.

Rule 5.302 Members leaving a firm shall not, without the permission of their employer or partner, take designs, drawings, data, reports, notes, or other materials relating to the firm's work, whether or not performed by the Member.

Rule 5.303 A Member shall not unreasonably withhold permission from a departing employee or partner to take copies of designs, drawings, data, reports, notes, or other materials relating to work performed by the employee or partner that are not confidential.

Commentary: A Member may impose reasonable conditions, such as the payment of copying costs, on the right of departing persons to take copies of their work.

CANON VI

Obligations to the Environment

Members should promote sustainable design and development principles in their professional activities.

E.S. 6.1 Sustainable Design:

In performing design work, Members should be environmentally responsible and advocate sustainable building and site design.

E.S. 6.2 Sustainable Development:

In performing professional services, Members should advocate the design, construction, and operation of sustainable buildings and communities.

E.S. 6.3 Sustainable Practices:

Members should use sustainable practices within their firms and professional organizations, and they should encourage their clients to do the same.

RULES OF APPLICATION, ENFORCEMENT, AND AMENDMENT

(2) Formal charges are filed directly with the National Ethics Council by Members, components, or anyone directly aggrieved by the conduct of the Members.

(3) Penalties that may be imposed by the National Ethics Council are:

Amendment

The Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct may be amended by the convention of the Institute under the same procedures as are necessary to amend the Institute's Bylaws. The Code may also be amended by the AIA Board of Directors upon a two-thirds vote of the entire Board.

2012 Edition. This copy of the Code of Ethics is current as of September 2012. Contact the General Counsel's Office for further information at (202) 626-7348.

AIA Fellows

The American Institute of Architects bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, fellowship is the highest honor the AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on architects with at least 10 years of membership in the AIA who have made significant contributions in the following areas: the aesthetic, scientific and practical efficiency of the profession; the standards of architectural education, training and practice; the building industry through leadership in the AIA and other related professional organizations; advancement of living standards of people through an improved environment; and to society through significant public service.

Founded in 1952, the College of Fellows includes approximately 5 percent of the total AIA membership. Those advanced to fellowship can use "FAIA" after their names in recognition of their contributions in design, education, research or public service.

Continuing Education Mandatory for Licensure and Membership

North Carolina architects must fulfill a program of continuing education each year in order to renew their licenses. Continuing education has been a membership requirement for the American Institute of Architects for several years now. The two requirements are slightly different but compatible.

Here's the bottom line: AIA architects in North Carolina should obtain a total of 18 learning units per calendar year. Of these 18 hours, at least eight hours must be in subjects designated as Health, Safety, and Welfare (HSW). Special note: As of January 2013, Sustainable Design (SD) is no longer required by the AIA.

State Licensure Requirements

Each year, North Carolina architects must complete a verifiable program of 12 contact hours of continuing education. The contact hours must be in health-safety-welfare subject material. Contact hours may not be carried over from one calendar year to the next. HSW Programs provided by AIA registered providers will be accepted by the North Carolina Board of Architecture. The licensing board will also accept an AIA member's continuing education transcript as evidence of continuing education fulfillment.

AIA Requirements

Developed to demonstrate AIA members' lifelong commitment to learning, the AIA Continuing Education System (CES) enhances knowledge, competency and competitiveness. In summary, the Institute's plan includes the following:

- Members must have 18 hours of continuing education per year in order to maintain membership.
- The 18 hours must include 12 contact hours in health/safety-related subject matter.

AIA North Carolina Continuing Education Academy

AIA North Carolina has successfully launched an aggressive effort to provide its members affordable, accessible and relevant continuing education. The AIA North Carolina Continuing Education Academy is the winner of the 1999 AIA/CES Award for Excellence. AIA North Carolina was the only AIA chapter or component in America to win this prestigious award for excellence in continuing education programming and member service.

In 2015, AIA North Carolina plans to offer seminars at various locations around the state. The North Carolina Design Conference, Revitalize, is scheduled for September 24-26 in Durham, North Carolina, will be a unique opportunity to obtain learning units with hands-on tours of the city of Durham.

New in 2015 is also the start of the online education program called O.W.L.S. (On-Demand. Webinar. Learning. Series.). These online classes, held on the second Tuesday of every month offer 1.5 hours of learning credits on a variety of credits. These classes are free for members and have a nominal fee for non-members, and can be accessed by any architect for a fee at any time after they are recorded.

Visit the AIA North Carolina website at www.aianc.org for an updated listing of continuing education programs in the Southeast. In addition, the seven local sections of AIA North Carolina typically offer AIA/CES programs at their meetings.

Where AIA CES Records Are Kept

The CES record-keeping is performed at the AIA National Headquarters in Washington, D.C. Call (800) 242-3837, ext. 3, for questions or comments on AIA/CES records. This recordkeeping center monitors contact hours earned by AIA members and keeps track of registered providers. AIA members may monitor their continuing education progress and transcripts by visiting AIA Online at www.aia.org/education/index.htm.

Architectural Education

N.C. State University

The Department of Architecture at N.C. State University was established in 1948 as one of two original academic components in the School of Design. The School of Design experienced a long period of development, establishing a reputation for innovation. In the fall of 2000, the department was given school status, and the school was granted college status.

The college is presently led by Dean Marvin J. Malecha, FAIA, who was appointed to the position in August 1994. Robin Abrams, PhD, AIA, was appointed head of the School of Architecture and leads the school as the first woman to hold that position.

The School of Architecture has grown its mission and curricular offerings over the years to include programs leading to the following three degrees:

Bachelor of Environmental Design in Architecture (BEDA)

A four-year pre-professional curriculum that serves as the foundation for the two advanced programs. The curriculum includes a balance of general studies (English, mathematics, science and humanities), design studio courses and architectural support courses (history, technology, methods and theory).

Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch.)

A one-year professional curriculum that builds on the four-year BEDA or other equivalent program.

Master of Architecture (M.Arch.)

Three tracks lead to the professional M.Arch. degree: Track I is a two-year program for holders of the BEDA or equivalent four-year pre-professional degree; Track II is a three-semester second professional degree program for holders of the B.Arch. degree; Track III accepts students with degrees in nonarchitectural fields into a three-and-a-half-year program.

Both the B.Arch. and M.Arch. are professional degrees accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board. The most recent accreditation action took place in 2006, extending accreditation of both programs for six years. The College of Design annually admits 130 freshmen and transfer students into one of five studio-based programs. Following an interdisciplinary fall semester, students begin their architectural studies in the spring semester of the first year. For information about the undergraduate admissions standards and procedures, contact the College of Design, N.C. State University, Box 7701, Raleigh, NC 27695-7701.

Admissions to the B.Arch. and M.Arch. programs are by application to the School of Architecture. For additional information, contact the School of Architecture, College of Design, N.C. State University, Box 7701, Raleigh, NC 27695-7701.

UNC Charlotte

The School of Architecture within the College of Arts + Architecture at UNC Charlotte graduated its first students with professional degrees in 1976. In 2010, the school received its seventh consecutive full-term accreditation from the National Architectural Accreditation Board (NAAB). The college is led by Dean Kenneth Lambla, AIA, and the School of Architecture is led by Director Christopher Jarrett. The curriculum provides a balance between theory and application and general and professional education. Students may pursue a double major or minor in another field such as urban design, urban studies, art, construction management and business/real estate development. The curriculum is organized as follows:

Undergraduate Programs

- Bachelor of Arts in Architecture (B.A. in Arch.)
- Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch.)

The Bachelor of Arts in Architecture (B.A. in Arch.) is the pre-professional, four-year undergraduate program in architecture. In the first three years, students are enrolled in general education and core architecture courses, including architectural design studio in the first year. In design studios and seminars, which occur each semester, students acquire the fundamentals of visual and spatial design, problem-solving, conceptualization, technology and environmental influences. In the fourth year, students select design studios and seminars related to topical interests such as energy and sustainability, digital design methods, urban design, and conceptual themes. In addition, students extend their knowledge of architectural history and technology while having the opportunity to pursue individual interests through architectural elective seminars. The B.A. in Arch. is awarded at the end of the fourth year.

In the fall semester of the fourth year, students may elect to pursue one of two professional degrees in architecture granted by the school: (1) the Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch.) is the professional "undergraduate-level program" leading to the NAAB-accredited Bachelor of Architecture degree; or (2) the Master of Architecture (M.Arch.) is the professional "graduate-level program" leading to the NAAB-accredited Master of Architecture degree.

For the B.Arch. degree, students complete an additional one-year curriculum consisting of a comprehensive architectural design project coupled with advanced courses in building technology, professional practice and architectural electives. The Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch.) is awarded at the end of the fifth year.

Graduate Programs

- Master of Architecture (M.Arch.)
- Master of Urban Design (M.U.D.)

The Master of Architecture (M.Arch.) is the professional "graduate-level program" in architecture leading to the NAAB-accredited Master of Architecture degree. The M.Arch. provides flexibility for both students who have a degree in a field other than architecture (MI-track) as well as those who have an undergraduate degree (B.A. or B.S.) with a major in architecture (MII-track).

MI-track students complete a three-year curriculum that begins in the second session of the summer semester. In the first year, students acquire the fundamentals of visual and spatial design, problem-solving, conceptualization, and environmental influences. In addition to design studio, they take introductory coursework in architectural history and theory, building technology, and visual skills. In the second year, MI-track students are aligned with the curriculum for MII-track students, completing a two-year curriculum consisting of a comprehensive architectural design project and advanced graduate design studios coupled with courses in contemporary theory, design methodology, building technology, professional practice and architectural electives. The final year provides an opportunity for advanced, focused design exploration and research.

The Master of Urban Design (M.U.D.) is a 12-month, three-semester program focusing on cities and suburbs that are being reshaped by shifting demographics, global capital, information technology, and environmental sustainability. The M.U.D. Program is located off-campus, in the University's Center City Building in Uptown Charlotte. Dual degrees with geography and business are available for both the M.Arch. and M.U.D. degree programs.

Within the school, there are several research centers and laboratories that provide a point of contact for students to engage in funded research projects with the faculty. Research in high-performance building and optimization protocols, daylighting and energy analysis, digital design and interactive visualization, and urban design takes full advantage of the school's advanced computing, software and digital fabrication facilities.

The school's International Summer Study programs travel to diverse destinations that have recently included China, Italy, Spain, Portugal and Switzerland, with an upcoming trip planned for Eastern European capital cities. The SoA regularly hosts exchange students, and SoA students have opportunities to study abroad at other institutions in China, the Netherlands, Denmark, Germany, Finland, England, Mexico and Australia.

The School accepts transfer students for advanced standing from other NAAB-accredited schools. More detailed information may be obtained by going to www.soa.uncc.edu or by writing the School of Architecture, UNC Charlotte, Charlotte, NC 28223.

N.C. Board of Architecture

The North Carolina Board of Architecture, established by the General Assembly in 1915, is responsible for enforcement of the laws and regulations governing the practice of architecture in the state. A major task is to determine the qualifications of applicants who seek licensure in this state.

The Board is comprised of seven members appointed by the governor, five of whom are licensed architects appointed for five-year terms. Two of the members of the Board are not licensed architects and represent the interests of the public at large. The public members serve at the pleasure of the governor.

In order to qualify for a license to practice architecture in North Carolina, an applicant must meet the following minimum requirements:

- 1) An accredited professional degree in architecture
- 2) Three-year internship
- 3) Pass all divisions of the ARE (Architectural Registration Examination)

The current board members are:

National Council of Architectural Registration Boards

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards was established in 1920 to assist member boards in carrying out their duties, foster the enactment of uniform architectural laws, develop examinations and establish standards for certification requirements in education and training, to perfect procedures for verifying the qualifications of applicants and determining their eligibility for certification, and establish and maintain reciprocal registration between states having registration laws.

The NCARB is a nonprofit corporation with all legally constituted boards of architecture in the United States as members, including the North Carolina Board of Architecture. To be eligible for NCARB certification, architects must submit satisfactory evidence that they comply with the standard for education, training, examination and character and that they have been registered by a member board.

The NCARB will, upon request of an individual architect, secure, authenticate and record factual data of the applicant's education, training, practice and character. This record will be forwarded to any state board upon request of the applicant.

Certification shall be given to an applicant holding a council record verifying that the applicant has complied with the council's standards of education, training, practice and character and that the applicant has passed an examination conforming to the council's standards of content, extent and length of time.

Certification by the NCARB is recommendation to all registration authorities that registration be granted to the holder without further examination. Most board members accept NCARB certification as conclusive evidence of an architect's eligibility of registration. It is, however, not a national registration.

Complete information on compiling a council record and obtaining council certification can be obtained from:

AIA Political Action Committee

The AIANC-PAC has achieved high success rates in terms of its contributions to winning candidates and its ability to influence legislation. It has played a prominent role in enhancing the image of AIA North Carolina among state legislators and in establishing architects as a respected source of information for legislators.

Legislative Success

Since its formation in 1986, the AIA North Carolina Political Action Committee (AIANC-PAC) has become increasingly successful in the political arena and has been of major assistance to AIA North Carolina in advancing its legislative agenda.

A long string of legislative victories have been achieved by AIA North Carolina in the last decade, including:

- Protection for architects in the selection of design/build teams for public projects
- Qualification-based selection for architects on public projects
- Greater flexibility for single-prime contracting on public projects
- Statutory strengthening of the Architectural Practice Act (G.S.83A)
- Passage of a $1.8 billion statewide bond issue for school construction
- Qualified immunity for architects as volunteers in declared emergencies
- Clarification of a seven-year statute of repose
- Securing the single prime contracting option on government projects
- Passage of $3 billion higher education bond for construction
- Protecting architect lien rights
- Ensuring an open and qualification-based selection process for public design and public-private partnerships

AIA North Carolina has also been successful in defeating or altering legislation that could have a negative effect on the architectural profession. Issues like interior designer licensing, stock school plans and professional service taxes have all been stopped in past legislative sessions.

In addition, AIA architects have been appointed by the governor and legislative leaders to key positions on regulatory and advisory boards and commissions.

Mission of AIANC-PAC

The AIANC-PAC was established to assist the architects of North Carolina in gaining access to state legislators for the purpose of establishing an effective forum on issues facing the profession. Its mission is to work to create an environment in the North Carolina General Assembly and Council of State that is conducive to accomplishing the goals of the architectural profession.

Three specific objectives guide the activities of the AIA-PAC. These are:

- To solicit contributions
- To make contributions to candidates who will be influential in determining the future course and the practice of architecture in North Carolina
- To generally educate or inform the membership of AIA North Carolina concerning legislative and political issues affecting the profession

The AIA-PAC is organized and operated on a voluntary, nonpartisan basis to preserve and promote the status of architecture through the pursuit of its objectives. The organization is governed and supervised by a Board of Directors composed of 21 members of the AIA-PAC, with a minimum of one member from each section of AIA North Carolina. Each director is appointed to a term of three years, with no director being appointed to more than two consecutive terms.

To maintain established levels of candidate contributions and ensure the continued effectiveness of AIA North Carolina's Government Affairs Programs, AIA-PAC needs continued and increased financial support from members and friends of the profession. Records and information about AIA-PAC are maintained at the offices of AIA North Carolina.

North Carolina Architectural Foundation

The North Carolina Architectural Foundation (NCAF) was established for the purpose of promoting architecture as a discipline and a profession in North Carolina. Since 1948, the NCAF has supported architectural scholars, researchers and students and has provided grants for exhibitions and publications about architecture.

The mission of the NCAF is:

- Architectural Research
- Architectural Principles
- Educational Programs
- Architectural Scholarships
- Public Awareness
- Continuing Education
- Historic Preservation

In 2012, the Foundation became a major contributor to the overall programming and success of the AIA NC Center for Architecture & Design.

The Foundation operates on private gifts. Contributions to the NCAF may be sent to:
