Chicago's newest prestige building

The HARTFORD Building

new concept in space and dignity . . .

served by electronically controlled

Haughton Auto-Signamatic
operatorless Elevator System

Destined to become the Chicago landmark, the Hartford Building at 100 South Wacker Drive will provide regal surroundings and facilities for tenants and visitors.

A case in point: thirteen Haughton Operatorless Elevators with the latest automatic electronic controls will speed passengers from floor to floor with silken smoothness. They will be motivated by an amazing electronic brain that anticipates service needs at every moment, day and night, and dispatches cars at the proper times and in proper sequence to meet traffic needs exactly.

Of course, operation of Haughton Operatorless Elevators is simplicity itself. One merely enters the car and presses the numbered floor button. Doors open and close automatically at floor level, with unfailing consideration for passengers. They are controlled by proven devices of ingenious design that help make Haughton Operatorless Elevators the safest mode of floor to floor travel.

The Hartford Building . . . to be occupied in part by the Western Department of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company Group. From its unique exterior, creating a functional design accented by simple charm, to its superb location and superior facilities, this beautifully planned building carries its tasteful design throughout . . . The twenty floors are arranged for purposeful planning and unexcelled utilization of floor space. Windows are shielded from direct sun rays by the canopy effect created in the exterior design, a first in this country . . . The landscaped esplanade and spacious lobby provide an exciting vista, while building features combining the ultimate in fluorescent lights, automatic elevators, year 'round temperature control, under floor ducts for electrical and telephone equipment and other innovations make The Hartford Building an unparalleled office home for any organization.

Specify this striking window beauty for your homes at surprisingly low cost Andersen Beauty-Line* Windows can add excitement and glamour to any room. Their unusually clean, simple lines add beauty to any home. Yet their total installed cost is no more—often less—than many cheap double hungs. And Beauty-Line Windows give your clients exceptional functional advantages.

They provide picture window beauty plus ventilation. They close weathertight to seal out drafts, dust, rain. Their handsome wood sash and frames are up to 1800 times more effective than metal sash and frames in shutting out heat and cold. Penta-treating protects permanently against termites, decay. And Beauty-Lines install easily. Operate trouble-free for life.

Andersen Windows are sold exclusively through lumber and millwork dealers throughout the U.S.A. and Canada. Get full specification data from Sweet's Architectural Files, from the Ohio Andersen Distributors or write: Andersen Corporation, Bayport, Minn.

Great Lakes District Regional Conference

by George Roth, AIA
General Conference Chairman

Impressive looking group lunch together during Conference. Seated from the left are Clifford E. Sapp, executive director of the ASO; Hugh Garriott, AIA, Cincinnati; Ralph Kempton, FAIA, Columbus; Joe Tuchman, AIA, Akron; Harold Goetz, AIA, Middletown; George Schatz, AIA, Cincinnati; Bernard Pepinsky, AIA Cincinnati; and Maurice Leen, attorney, Dayton.

What may be the final Regional Conference of the Great Lakes District of The American Institute of Architects took place in Cincinnati on March 3, 4, 5, with the Cincinnati Chapter as host.

Regional Director Linn Smith, AIA, of Birmingham, Mich., called together chapter presidents and national committeemen for a pre-conference assembly at the Sheraton-Gibson, the Conference hotel. Their program included a business session of which the outstanding discussion centered around the proposed re-organization of the Institute.

The subject of the Conference, "Pleasure in Architecture" was presented in a stage-setting address by Dean Ernest Pickering, FAIA, director of the Department of Architecture of the University of Cincinnati. Dean Pickering, widely known as an authority on urban planning, represented the Department of State as U.S. representative to a Japanese Conference on regional planning in 1958, and is chairman of the Cincinnati Planning Commission.

University of Cincinnati students, under the direction of Professor Robert Dayton, arranged an impressive display of design projects, showing progression in the process of architectural education.

Mr. Philip Will, Jr., FAIA, first vice president of the AIA, offered an interesting discourse on the joys realized and hoped for in the practice of architecture. Mr. Will, partner in the Chicago firm of Perkins and Will, Architects and Engineers, has worked extensively with committees on the civic design and slum clearance of Chicago.

Professor John Walley of the University of Illinois discussed the philosophy and methods of educational programs leading the student to inventiveness and personal discovery of design forms. His lecture was graphically illustrated, presenting structural forms in contemporary building technology. Professor Walley, graduate of the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and other studios, is noted as a muralist, designer of mobiles, furniture and display.

Mr. G. M. Grimes of Louisville, Ky., Mr. Bill Bogart of Cincinnati, Mrs. Grimes, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kastendieck of Gary, Ind., at Ice Breaker sponsored by the Cincinnati Chapter and the Cincinnati Producers Council.

The Saturday morning session included a lecture by Mr. Grady Clay of Louisville, Ky., a columnist of the Louisville Courier-Journal. Mr. Clay's writings on urban redevelopment have led to his designation as recipient of one of the 1960 journalism awards presented by the Institute. He is the Louisville correspondent for the New York Times, Architectural Forum and House & Home. Mr. Clay's illustrated lecture derived many lessons from the design of the famous Tivoli Gardens of Copenhagen.

Also on the program was Professor G. Holmes Perkins, FAIA, dean of the School of Fine Arts, University of Pennsylvania. A graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Graduate School of Design, Professor Perkins served on the National Housing Commission and was consultant to the United Nations. He is chairman of both the Philadelphia Zoning Advisory Commission and the Philadelphia Planning Commission. Professor Perkins' presentation, beautifully illustrated, displayed the great pleasures good architecture offers as values over and above the functional necessities of building technologies; a plea for the re-introduction of the fine arts in architecture.

the Conference. Mr. Richards gave the principal address of the evening, surveying the activities of the president of the Institute and the practitioner, stressing his personal hopes for the re-appearance of the artistic pleasures in architecture. The assembled guests stood in tribute and appreciation for the great service to the architects of the nation given through the years by this team, Mr. and Mrs. John Noble Richards.

One of the outstanding successes of the Conference was the "Student Workshop," called together by Mr. Charles Belinki, AIA, of the Octagon staff. To this student and faculty meeting came delegates from nine schools of architecture of the Great Lakes District. The University of Michigan, The Ohio State University, Notre Dame University, Miami University, University of Kentucky, Western Reserve School of Architecture, Ohio University, the University of Detroit, and the host school, the University of Cincinnati were represented.

In charge of the arrangements for the Conference were Richard H. Wheeler, AIA, president of the Cincinnati Chapter; George F. Roth, Jr., general Conference chairman; and Mrs. Benjamin Dombar, president of the Cincinnati architects wife's group.

Reception line at cocktail party honoring the Richards includes Mr. and Mrs. John Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kastendieck, Mr. and Mrs. Linn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goetz, Mr. Dick Wheeler, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marr.

AIA President John Richards Speaks at Regional Conference

The address of AIA President John N. Richards, FAIA, at the final banquet of the Great Lakes District Conference is here condensed and reprinted for Ohio Architect readers.

Pleasure in architecture; there is much, so much to be said about this theme. I find it hard to organize the thoughts that well up in me.

As for architects, I believe that we take pleasure in architecture because it affords us an opportunity to create something lasting which gives pleasure to others.

Perhaps this is the definition of an artist. For isn't pleasure just another word for muse.

"Life is not life at all without delight," the English Poet Pat Moore said.

Architecture is not architecture at all without delight, as Vitruvius so well knew. To me Vitruvius' definition still contains it all. Architecture can never be a commodity or function alone, nor can it be merely commodity and firmness—that is engineering. Architecture is an art and therefore efficiency alone is not enough.

Joseph Conrad has said, "Efficiency of a practical, flawless kind may be reached naturally in the struggle for bread. But there is something beyond—a higher point, a subtle and unmistakable touch of love and pride beyond mere skill; almost an inspiration which gives to all work that finish that is almost art—which is art."

There is no real architecture without art to give us delight, or call it pleasure. And I am glad that art and delight are coming back into the architecture of today and tomorrow.

Surely we had gone overboard in days of beaux-arts eclecticism. In those days we tried to express art by imitation and, as we all know, ended up by practicing archaeology.

Then came the great rebellion—the machine for living—and the banner of that revolution had "function" spelled all over it.

Like most revolutions this one was necessary, highly necessary. It was time that emphasis was again put on commodity and firmness. A new technology, a new age demanded a new expression.

But like all revolutions, this one went overboard too. To be sure, its leaders—the great masters of modern architecture—taught us that proportion and beauty and structure for its own sake can have a beauty all of their own. But I for one believe that they went too far in rationalizing that the only key to architectural delight is structural necessity. It is true in the hands of a master, but it is true only up to a point.

Then we talked about integrating art and architecture. But since we wanted to be modern or—if you object to that word—contemporary, we had to use contemporary art, and there was none.

I am not saying that the studios on the Left Bank of Paris or in Greenwich Village weren't full of exciting, artistic experiments. But the public, our clients, were not ready to accept them. I don't believe that 30, or 20, or even 10 years ago you could have put a ceramic mural by Miro on the streets of Cincinnati and gotten away with it.

Who am I to say that modern art has come of age. Only history will tell. But I do say that the art of our time has now been accepted; and if you will look around you, there is much today that you can put on the streets of Cincinnati and be praised for it. And I think we ought to find it and put it there.

The pendulum has again swung back from pure, flat-chested functionalism to a richer, more decorative, more human architecture.

I have just come back from an exciting trip to Mexico where I had the pleasure of representing you at a meeting of the Mexican Society of Architects.

I told our Mexican friends that we all envied them a little bit for being able to work amidst a people and for a people who love color and ornament and artistic richness in their buildings. And I told them that our people are learning to love and appreciate these things as well.

I told them that Latin American architecture has inspired us all. I got very bold and said "Brazilian and Mexican architecture has helped us a great deal to liberate our own architecture in the United States from the purely ascetic or severe functional boredom."

You may not agree with this statement, but I am sure you will agree that our architecture is moving toward more decorative forms and colors and textures. There is more emphasis on pleasure and delight.

Now this is easy to say. We know we want more human architecture, but do the people and our clients know it?

Here is one of our greatest responsibilities. We have said many times that we must be businessmen, accountants, sociologists, engineers, planners and a host of other things to be the master builders of our new environment. I will add another job. We must also be the taste-makers.

Public tastes don't just happen. They are made. And if we don't set the pace in our own chosen field, someone else will—the stylists, the package designers and the persons whose only motive is to wrap the product in such a way that it will sell a little better.

But a culture can never be built on salesmanship. It can never be built on simply catering to the lowest common denominator.

Now how do we become leaders? In the first place, we must want to be leaders. In the second place, we must have convictions. We must know where we want to lead. We must know who we are and what we want to be.

There is a lot of talk about the image of the architect. But before we can expect others to have the right image of our profession, we have to design the image we ourselves want to live up to. To some extent, each architect must do this for himself and his firm.

But to a larger extent, this job must be done jointly in the association of the entire profession—through The American Institute of Architects.

As I see it, AIA has three fundamental jobs.

First, to make itself into an effective and efficient instrument to continuously maintain the highest standards of ethics and professionalism.

Two, to make itself an effective and efficient instrument to raise the professional competence of its members.

Three, to make itself an effective and efficient instrument to make the voice of the architect heard in our communities, the building industry, government and society as a whole.

These three jobs are never done. Like an airplane in flight, we can never stand still or we crash.

How well are we doing? As to the first point, I believe we have every reason to be satisfied. I think we are mature and dignified as a profession, and we have professional standards and ethics second to none.

Professional competence is of course a relative term. It is closely related to my third point—the position and effectiveness of the architect in our changing society. We will not be effective if we aren't respected, and we won't be respected if we aren't competent.

Competence means doing a job well. To judge the competence of a man, therefore, you have to know what his job is.

There is no question that the vast majority of registered architects today is entirely and highly competent in terms of a simple definition of their jobs.

But the job description—as it is called in government—is changing. The demands of our clients are changing. The need for architectural services is changing. The industry in which we work is changing.

We have to face the fact that our clients want a far more comprehensive service than many of us are prepared to render. If this were not so, the package dealers would not be in business.

We have to face the fact that architecture is no longer a matter of individual buildings, but of whole building complexes, of neighborhoods, communities, technical and cultural centers and the renewal and rehabilitation of entire cities, or certainly large parts thereof.

And we all know that the building process has become so complex that the nature and services of the contractor and his subcontractors, the various kinds of engineers, the building products manufacturers, and all the rest of them are far different from what they were twenty years ago.

Our professional competence must be measured in these terms.

Your Board of Directors has appointed a Committee on the Profession to do just that.

This committee, under the able chairmanship of James M. Hunter, FAIA, of the Colorado Chapter, has just submitted its report. It is a most thoughtful document which made a deep impression on all who have read it and will soon be available to all of you.

The aims contained in this report cannot be accomplished over night. But the Board will soon recommend to the membership specific measures by which the scope of the architectural services and the competence of architects can be increased.

Quite likely we will have to revise some of the basic AIA documents to achieve the former. Undoubtedly, we will have to stimulate the programs of education, training and development for graduate architects through our chapters. We, like any other profession today, will have to make real efforts to keep up with a rapidly developing technology and the changing nature of our business.

Undoubtedly too, we need more research in architecture—and we will get it.

Now to my third point. To be an effective voice in national and building industry affairs, the Institute itself must be efficient. Under my administration as your President, we have taken two decisive strides toward meeting the increased needs of the membership.

You are all aware of our proposal for a new organizational structure. We have made every effort to acquaint all of our members with this proposal. We feel that its adoption by the membership at convention assembled should vastly improve our effectiveness as a professional organization.

Secondly, we have reorganized our headquarters staff. This reorganization is based on the recommendations of a professional management consultant firm, Handy Associates, Inc. of Philadelphia. It promises greater efficiency in serving the membership and attaining our objectives.

Under this reorganization, our very able executive director, Ned Purves, will continue to be responsible to the Board, and through the Board to the membership, for implementing AIA policies. I assure you this is not an easy task. If you have recently visited the Octagon you will know that it is a proverbial beehive of activity. It would take me all evening to relate in detail the many duties our headquarters staff must carry out day by day.

Through our staff and the efforts of our hard-working committees, we are continuing to make progress in the difficult and never ending task of maintaining satisfactory relations with all agencies of the Federal government.

The number of governmental design bills is dwindling. We are vigorously fighting bureaucratic architecture, and I am glad to report that we have enjoyed considerable success in these engagements.

However, there are sad exceptions. The Interior Department, for instance, being faced with a budget cut, has taken away the design of schools for the Bureau of Indian Affairs and turned it over to a staff architectural bureau. But I don't consider this skirmish lost.

I recently again placed the Institute on record in favor of the establishment of a Federal Advisory Council on the Arts. In this connection you will be interested to know that the Board approved support of a policy that a fixed percentage of the total cost of Federal buildings be allocated for painting, sculpture or other forms of artistic decoration. I was very glad to see the other day that the city of Philadelphia now requires that one per cent of the cost of any building financed in part by the city, shall be devoted to the fine arts.

We have made considerable progress in an area that is of foremost interest to me, and I assume to all of us—effective cooperation between all elements of the building industry.

The special edition of the AIA Journal devoted to Architect-Home Builder collaboration has, for instance, received enthusiastic comments, not only from home builders and architects, but also from building editors, public officials and construction industry leaders. This issue, by the way, has been distributed to almost ten thousand home builders.

We have met repeatedly with the Associated General Contractors. I will address their convention again in a few days.

In our many meetings we have emphasized the importance of close liaison between the architect and the general contractor and have done considerable spade work in eliminating misunderstanding.

We have come to terms—at least to a considerable extent—with the difficult problem of retained percentages. And adjustment of AIA policy on this matter has, I believe, done a great deal to advance cooperation between our profession and the contractors and subcontractors without whom we could not make our living.

I have attended several meetings with various groups of engineers and the AIA-Engineers Joint Council committee is working very hard to promote inter-professional cooperation.

Our greatest progress, perhaps, is in a field which I consider most vital for the future of our country—more vital perhaps than the race to the moon—the planning for community building and rebuilding.

Your Board of Directors has said in a statement which was given national publicity, "the decay of our cities is overtaking our limited on-again, off-again renewal efforts. Our national pride, the continuation of our high standard of living and our leadership of the free world demands sound and continuing redevelopment programs based on proper planning and design."

In many cities, Kansas City, Detroit, Nashville, Memphis, Indianapolis and Toledo, among others, AIA chapters have already given effective leaderships in redesigning their communities.

Architects elsewhere must follow these examples by actively contributing to the improvement of our environment, and by rallying the support of the public and of our local, state and Federal governments.

This is both a challenge and an obligation.

Meeting this obligation means getting pleasure out of doing architecture, by making architecture pleasurable for others.

For the architect, pleasure in architecture is in the words of Pietro Belluschi, "To be the humanizers of society, the artists with the will to make the earth a fitting place in which to live."

Annual Architectural Exhibit and Awards Of the Cincinnati Chapter, AIA

Princeton High School

Architects Potter, Tyler, Martin & Roth

Mt. Washington Branch Library

Architects Harry Hake & Harry Hake, Jr.

To make the citizens of Cincinnati aware of the architect and to create an interest in design by both members of the Chapter and the general public were the objectives of the Cincinnati Chapter in reviving its Annual Architectural Exhibit and Awards.

Twelve firms, representing both large and small offices of the Cincinnati area, exhibited in this year's competition. At least five of these firms contributed more than one entry.

Only buildings completed after December, 1957, were eligible for the competition, and judging was based solely on architectural design. Jurors were a panel of faculty members from the University of Cincinnati, Miami University and The Ohio State University. Three certificates representing the Gold, Silver and Bronze Awards were presented.

The Gold Certificate was awarded to Potter, Tyler, Martin & Roth for the Princeton High School. The Silver Award was won by Hake & Hake for the Mt. Washington Branch of the Public Library. And the Bronze Certificate went to Champlin and Bogart for the R. M. Kash residence. The winning exhibits were displayed for two weeks in the Public Library along with other exhibits representative of the competition.

It is hoped by the Chapter that the Cincinnati award exhibit will become a state-wide competition with an annual exhibit in Columbus displaying entries from all the state chapters.

Official Roster of Architects

The following alphabetical roster of architects, registered and licensed to practice in Ohio, is correct as of April 1, 1960. The list has been checked carefully with official state records as of the date given.

In order to keep this Roster up-to-date OHIO ARCHITECT periodically will publish address changes, new architect registrations, and license restorations. This is possible because the ASO is located in Columbus and has daily access to official records.

BOIARDI Floor and Wall PAVÉ TILE

For Churches, Banks, Schools
Restaurants, Offices, Homes

The classic Tile with the efficiency and beauty of all-marble . . . at a fraction of the cost

ROMAN

BOIARDI PAVÉ TILE is a compressed tile of natural marble, both imported and domestic, with white or gray portland cement, and mineral pigments colored to harmonize with the marble. The compression process delivers a tile of enduring physical performance.

IT IS PRODUCED in our own Cleveland plant by a technique and process imported from Italy, resulting in the most desirable features . . . appearance, serviceability, wearability and ease of maintenance . . . of 100% marble itself.

BOIARDI PAVÉ TILE is available in 10 marbles and 7 standard styles incorporating aggregates in various shapes and sizes. Tile sizes are 8" x 8" x 5/8", 6 x 12" x 7/8", 12" x 12" x 7/8", and 16" x 16" x 1 1/8". Two finishes are available; Smooth for floor and wall, and Facet for walls and design areas. Facet is made only in sizes 6" x 12" x 1", and 12" x 12" x 1".

BOIARDI PAVÉ TILE is designed for use wherever a permanent, beautiful, easy-to-maintain surface is desired — on the wall and on the floor. Installing it is simple and easy following the accepted tile setting methods.

Write Dept. OA-460 for colorfully illustrated brochure.

Frateral Twins?

Yes,
they look alike, but are DIFFERENT — INSIDE.

Block "A" is Autoclaved, cured by high heat and pressure. A new chemical structure has been created internally for more strength, less shrinkage and volume change, and it is drier.

STOKER CARE?

... just a "look-in at lunch"

with Will-Burt's firing and control system!

A Will-Burt Firing and Control System will bring coal from bin to stoker... feed coal to the fire at any of three adjustable rates... automatically adjust air supply, minute by minute, according to fuel bed needs... and operate one, two, or more stokers on a pre-set cycle, according to hourly temperature requirements.

What could be more automatic... or more sensible?

W-B Automatic self-adjusting Air Control... part of every W-B Stoker.

W-B Coal Conveyor... power-reversing to clear obstructions... operates at any angle.

Take our word for it, it's economical. Write direct — or ask your Will-Burt Stoker Specialist for bulletins and help on selection and installation.

It takes the Light touch to keep an office on its toes!

If you've designed a "modern" office, but the lighting is "Not-So-Modern", you're giving your client only part of the service he expects. Modern lighting can help build profits. Studies prove that it reduces errors, lessens employee fatigue, and heightens morale. It shows up on the P & L Statement—in the Profit column! Yet, the low cost of proper lighting will appeal to anyone's sense of economy.

Why not get the whole office lighting story? If you're in the Northeast Ohio area, a phone call to CHerry 1-4200, line 898, will reserve a showing of The Illuminating Company's new film, "Profit and Light" for you and your associates. If you like, we'll send a lighting specialist out to your office. And in either case, there's no obligation, of course.

The Illuminating Company
ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE IN THE BEST LOCATION IN THE NATION

BUSINESS IS A PLEASURE WHEN IT HAS THE LIGHT TOUCH!

QUALIFIED DEALERS TO SERVE YOU

IDEAS . . . and Armco Steel Buildings

When you design with Armco Buildings, you gain maximum freedom of treatment. For example, you get the world's widest selection of clear-span widths, lengths, wall heights, roof slopes, covering materials, and accessories. As a result, you have more freedom in design of the complete structure. Your client gets the most for his money—in both appearance and function.

For more information see our catalog in Sweet's Architectural File (2j/Ar), Plant Engineering File (7a/Ar), or Industrial Construction File (2a/Ar). Armco Drainage & Metal Products, Inc., 1820 Northwest Boulevard, Columbus 12, Ohio. Offices also in Middletown, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Service building, All Saints Cemetery of the Catholic Archdiocese of Chicago. Architect for this project: R. E. Johnson, Evergreen Park, Illinois.

If your code requires a lead closet bend, adapter #1801-2-L makes the connection with copper tube easy. The 3" x 3" x 4" Tee #1811 connects the 4" closet waste to the 3" stack.

Sanitary Tee #1811-2 provides fitting-to-fitting connection, eliminating a short nipple and a soldering operation.

Double long turn T-Y #1836 eliminates the double Y-branch and 45° elbows combination.

For back-to-back waste lines, fitting #1835-3-3 lets you install threaded nipples prior to plastering.

Here's new time-saver—required by some codes — #1870. Note center line of side inlets is above center line of the main 3" inlet.

A FEW TYPICAL EXAMPLES OF TIME-SAVING ANACONDA FITTINGS.

THERE IS A "RIGHT" ANACONDA FITTING FOR EVERY CONNECTION. With solder-joint fittings, a copper tube drainage system is roughed in quickly and easily—even when the work is overhead or in tight quarters. And there are many Anaconda fittings that save you still more time, effort and cost because they eliminate the need to assemble several fittings or a combination of fittings and short nipples. Do you have our Catalog C-12 "Anaconda Copper Tube Fittings and Valves"? Every size (from $\frac{3}{16}$ " through 12") and type you need for general plumbing, heating, air-conditioning and refrigeration is listed for ready reference and ordering. Write: The American Brass Co., Waterbury 20, Conn. Ohio District Sales Offices: 101 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati 2; 2200 West 117 Street, Cleveland 11; 395 East Broad Street, Columbus 15.

design with MARIETTA precast and prestressed concrete elements

(Left) Long, clear spans with clean-lined grace and shallow depth make maximum use of floor and overhead space while retaining the esthetic characteristics of good design.

(Below) Basic structure for this 60,000 square foot building was erected in just 11½ days.

Unshackled by old fashioned concepts, Marietta concrete elements offer a crisp, new approach to architectural design. The unusual versatility made possible by precasting and prestressing, with unusually high-strength concrete, affords the imaginative architect the flexibility and freedom of expression he needs to develop distinctive structures. Marietta concrete elements meet the demand for beauty, economy and speed of construction under all weather conditions. Marietta's complete line of structural elements includes Twin Tees for long roof and floor spans, slender, graceful columns and beams and roof slabs. And, a wide variety of textured and colored Marzaic wall panels offers freedom of selection to contrast or harmonize with any architecture.

Competent assistance from experienced Marietta personnel is available from design concept to building dedication, backed by a continuing laboratory and field testing program that insures uniformly high quality in every element.

Design with Marietta precast and prestressed concrete elements to achieve beauty and originality with economy. For complete details, write today.

1800 Tons of GAS-Powered Air Conditioning Serve Western Electric

Western Electric's new Columbus plant is one of the finest anywhere. Its 1,600,000 square feet include a four-floor office, a single-story factory and a separate service building.

Gas-fueled boilers generate the steam for space heating, manufacturing processes, and operation of steam-turbine-driven centrifugal refrigeration machines which provide 1800 tons of dependable air conditioning.

ARCHITECT Charles T. Main

GENERAL CONTRACTOR Turner Construction Company

WESTERN ELECTRIC Plant Design & Construction Div.

COLUMBUS PLANT • WESTERN ELECTRIC COMPANY, INC

Remember, Gas provides low-cost, maintenance-free air conditioning for every type commercial and industrial installation. For specific information concerning the cooling needs of your client, contact the Industrial Engineers at your Gas Company Office.

OHIO ARCHITECT

Announcing a new product of United States Plywood research...

THE WELDWOOD WOOD-FACED ACOUSTICAL DOOR

For economical sound control in all interior and exterior applications

EFFECTIVE SOUND CONTROL.

Tested as an operating door at Riverbank Acoustical Laboratories and certified to have the highest decibel rating, based on comparable tests of leading 35 db 1 3/4" soundproof doors. (ASTM E-90-55.)

BEAUTIFUL REAL WOOD FACES.

Available in a wide range of fine domestic and imported wood faces that blend beautifully with other wood doors, paneled walls and woodwork. The handsome flush faces have the appearance of regular flush doors—there are no visible gaskets or other soundproofing devices.

SURPRISINGLY LOW COST.

For the first time, an effective sound-retarding door with beautiful wood faces is available at a reasonable price. Doors are practical for applications that could not justify the higher cost of earlier types of sound-retarding doors.

STANDARD FLUSH DOOR SIZES.

Stock doors are 1 3/4" thick. You may specify thicker doors on special order. Doors are available in all normal door sizes up to 4/0 x 8/0. The weight of the 1 3/4" door is 6 1/2 lb./sq. ft. Available with light openings up to 40% of door area without diminishing acoustical effectiveness.

EASY TO INSTALL.

All accessories on Weldwood Acoustical Doors are designed for easy fitting and efficient performance. Doors are furnished complete with automatic threshold sealing device, gaskets, stops, and stop adjuster.

GUARANTEED FOR THE LIFE OF THE BUILDING.

Like its famous companion Algoma-made doors—Weldwood Stay-Strate® and Weldwood Fire Doors—the Weldwood Acoustical Door is unconditionally guaranteed by United States Plywood against warping, twisting, or manufacturing defects for the life of the installation, when it is accorded treatment which is considered good practice as far as storage, installation, and maintenance are concerned. If any Weldwood Acoustical Door fails to meet these standards, it will be replaced without charge, including all labor costs of hanging and refinishing involved.

- Faces are 3-ply hardwood bonded directly to stiles, rails, and Novoply® core.

- Novoply—made only by United States Plywood—is a patented 3-ply board of resin-impregnated wood flakes and chips. It is warp-free, strong, and retards sound transmission.

- Unique concealed bottom-closing device eliminates exposed metal parts, is reversible for either lefthand or righthand doors.

For information, drawings, specifications, and decibel loss rating table on Weldwood® Acoustical Doors, write United States Plywood, Dept. OA 4-60, 55 W. 44th St., N. Y. 36, N. Y.

TO THE POINT

LOS ANGELES SCHOOL BURNING TEST WIDELY MISINTERPRETED

The Recent School Burning in California to test building design and fire protection equipment under carefully controlled conditions has caused a great deal of comment . . . pro and con. Some interpretations of the test findings are highly questionable, and in complete conflict with the objectives and results of the tests. One such statement is that "fire doors didn't retard the spread of fire or smoke." Actually, the test was conducted with stairwells open for three stories.

Fire experts already knew before starting "Operation School Burning" that most fire doors aren't kept closed in ordinary use—and this is the problem! Open or wedged fire doors are about as useful as a sprinkler system with the valves closed. The official report, "Operation School Burning," did not say stairwell enclosures (i.e., fire doors, Fire Barriers) are undesirable. No fire door can do its job if it's open. Many states have enacted criminal laws with fines as high as $300.00 for anyone found wedging a fire door open. There's still nothing more effective than a fire door for stopping smoke and the spread of fire and keeping evacuation routes open.

A Recent Complaint from one of our hollow metal door customers was quieted somewhat when we explained the function of our new Customer Service Department. While our firm delivery policy is first in, first out, we recognize there are occasions when we can meet a customer's urgent needs and still fulfill our other production commitments. Our Manager of Customer Service sees to it that Overly's scheduling is "sales-minded." The best policy any manufacturer can offer is fast, immediate service while maintaining honest service to our other customers. In the long run, this policy favors all our customers.

KINDS OF L·O·F PLATE GLASS FOR CURTAIN WALLS

POLISHED PLATE GLASS

Produced under our rigid manufacturing specifications for grinding and polishing, the consistently high quality of L·O·F polished plate glass does much to contribute to better building design and to meet the architect's discriminating taste. Polished plate glass provides reflections that are more true, produces undistorted vision and adds a depth dimension to buildings. These characteristics are most important to consider as size of glass areas increase.

Applications of Various Thicknesses

- $\frac{1}{8}$ "—Suitable for small panes.
- $\frac{1}{4}$ "—Windows of public and office buildings, residences and apartment buildings, mirrors, storefronts, showcases, shelving, table and desk tops.
- $\frac{3}{8}$ " through $\frac{1}{2}$ "—For exceptionally large window areas, to provide greater strength.
- $\frac{3}{8}$ " through 1"—Shelves, furniture, desk and table tops, aquarium tanks, noise reduction, decorative panels, screens, etc.

PARALLEL-O-PLATE®

A superior quality twin-ground plate glass which provides maximum uniformity of thickness and surface parallelism, making possible more perfect reflection and freedom from distortion.

HEAT ABSORBING polished plate

$\frac{1}{4}$ "-thick heat absorbing glass (bluish-green color) transmits only 46.3% of the total solar radiation (heat) as compared with a transmission of 79.9% by regular plate glass of same thickness. Produces a cooler atmosphere inside. Also reduces sun and sky glare.

PARALLEL-O-GREY®

A neutral grey polished plate. Provides a reduction of glare and brightness through its lower light transmission. Provides good color integrity. Parallel-O-Grey is also a heat absorbing glass.

TUF-FLEX® tempered plate

Tuf-flex is tempered polished plate which is 3 to 5 times stronger than plate glass of the same thickness. Ideal for glazing windows where hazard of breakage is great. L·O·F also makes frame-free glass doors of Tuf-flex in a variety of sizes.

VITROLUX® for curtain walls

Vitrolux is a heat-strengthened, $\frac{1}{4}$ "-thick polished plate glass with ceramic enamel color fused to the back. The thickness of the glass imparts added depth to the color. Available in 16 standard colors, plus black and white. Also nonstandard colors, subject to manufacturing limitations.

General Applications

Vitrolux is used as spandrels or for entire facades in conjunction with metal framing of curtain-wall design and in construction for storefronts and shopping centers, schools, office buildings, industrial plants, hospitals, laboratories, clinics, hotels, motels, banks, theatres, terminals, showrooms and gas stations.

Dimensions

Maximum standard size: 72" x 108"; thickness: $\frac{1}{4}$ " polished plate glass (tolerance +1/64", -1/32")

PANELS

Modern building materials have created a bright new world for architects, and one of the most versatile materials is Alsynite! These translucent fiberglass panels open up sparkling vistas . . . unlimited design possibilities . . . as fences, walls or partitions . . . indoors or out.

Alsynite's Superglaze process locks in the decorator colors and assures carefree lasting beauty. Only soft, diffused light is transmitted by Alsynite. An exclusive heat-block, Filtron 25, controls heat and glare, makes Alsynite perfect for patio covers.

Whatever your design, there's just the right Alsynite panel to fit it: flat, corrugated, decorative embedment and the exciting new shape —

Ridgeway. Superglazed Alsynite's color, strength and surface are guaranteed in writing for 10 years. Ohio Representatives will be happy to serve you.

STEEL durable - versatile - economical

Steel framework for plant expansion at Lempco Products, Inc., Bedford, Ohio

ARCHITECT & ENGINEERS

Arthur E. Rowe & Associates
Cleveland, Ohio

GENERAL CONTRACTOR

The Dunbar Construction Co.
Cleveland, Ohio

The structural steel used in the expansion of plant facilities of Lempco Products, Incorporated was completely fabricated and erected by the Mooney organization.

Steel being so adaptable lends itself to an extensive variety of application in all types of construction. Mooney fabricates and erects everything in structural steel from brackets to buildings, with speed, economy, and efficiency.

nothing performs like Clay Pipe for Air Conditioning Systems

No other material is so easy and inexpensive to install . . . so efficient in its performance.

Ease of installation keeps material and labor costs at a minimum . . . requires no special skills. New longer lengths speed up the job. And Clay Pipe ducts don't float or squash out during slab pouring.

The very qualities of clay itself make first costs the last. Clay Pipe—and only Clay Pipe—is completely rust, rot, and corrosion-proof. Its smooth vitrified surface won't flake off or collect dirt and odors, making it equally efficient for carrying either heated or cooled air.

Protect your reputation . . . cut your costs. Install Clay Pipe heating and air-conditioning ducts. Write for free Heating Duct Installation Manual.

Third Scholarship Is Awarded by ASO

Ronald E. Miller, Barberton, is winner of ASO Third Annual Scholarship.

Ronald E. Miller, 17-year-old from Barberton, has been selected to receive the Third Annual $2500 Scholarship of the Architects Society of Ohio.

The winner from the Eastern Ohio Chapter area, Mr. Miller competed with the student winner from each of the other five chapter areas for the architectural scholarship. The selection was made by the Awards and Scholarship Committee of the ASO.

A senior at Barberton High School, Mr. Miller ranks second in his class of 339. Besides maintaining high academic and attendance records he has been active in the Art Club, Student Council, National Honor Society, the stage crew and is co-editor of the yearbook.

Mr. Miller has participated in Barberton's Junior Achievement program for two years, serving as a company president and as a delegate to the National Conference at Indiana University. The organization recently awarded him a $300 scholarship for college study.

In the fall Mr. Miller will enter the University of Cincinnati to begin his architectural training. He has said

The curving of Wooster Super-Grit and Safe-Groove Safety Treads is just one of many exacting operations necessary to meet specific requirements of our customers.

The know-how, experience and skill of our veteran craftsmen is the personal factor that stands behind every Wooster tread and threshold, guaranteeing that each step in our manufacturing process receives the care and precision required to produce quality products.

Residence of Mr. & Mrs. Orville H. Bauer

Architect Orville H. Bauer

There are no wasted corners, and no blockades to hide a magnificent view in the newly-completed home of Toledo Architect Orville H. Bauer, who solved a difficult topography problem to build his own house.

Mr. Bauer, partner in the firm of Bellman, Gillett & Richards, architects and engineers, used the only perfect form known to man to solve his problem—the circle.

The Bauer home, located just south of Perrysburg about 10 miles from Toledo, rises from a small heavily wooded knoll overlooking the Maumee River.

For more than a year Mr. Bauer and his family planned carefully what they wanted in a house. Foremost in their minds was a wish to take full advantage of their beautiful site, with its tall trees, small waterfall and winding stream in the rear and broad frontal view of the river over an expanse of farmland. Mr. and Mrs. Bauer wanted separate areas for their two young daughters, a bedroom suite for themselves, a living room for entertaining which would be apart from working areas, a summer recreation room and patio and ample storage space.

All of this has been incorporated in a two-level red-wood frame structure consisting of two circular areas joined by a small hall.

Within the larger circle, 46-feet in diameter, Mr. Bauer has a gracious foyer, bedrooms for his six and eight-year-old daughters, an adult bedroom suite with adjoining study and a large dining room, all of which revolve around a central core of work space including two adjoining bathrooms and a large wedge-shaped kitchen.

The lower level of the large wing, embedded into the hill by a stone wall, is a large summer activities room with its own kitchen, two storage rooms and a two-car garage.

Almost completely separated from the main wing is another circular structure 25 feet in diameter, which stands on steel columns rising from a concrete patio below.

An eight-foot hall joining the two circular wings contains a small sun balcony on one side and built-in bar, hi-fi set and bookcases on the other. The large circle is wood frame and the small circle is steel frame. Heating is by perimeter forced air.

The outside walls of all bedrooms, the study, dining room and living room are surrounded by ceiling to floor insulating glass, allowing the Bauers to take full advantage of outdoor living the year around.

They enjoy a complete change of decor each season, as the upper level windows are at foliage level with the same tall trees which give them cooling shade in the summer activities areas.

The home is replete with movable wooden doors which ensure privacy or expansiveness at will. The Bauer daughters' bedrooms easily merge into a large inside play area; the master bath and dressing room can be divided; the kitchen in the center core can be closed from the adjoining dining area to hide pots and pans from guests.

When the Bauers entertain in their living room, the children in the large wing are not disturbed. Guests are warmed by a curved stone fireplace with a fire dish made from the top of an oil drum hanging beneath a custom-built steel hood. The fireplace wall also helps to anchor the house to the steep hillside.

Recessed pin spot lights provide the only artificial illumination. Reostat controls regulate the mood by fingertip control as the lights play down on groupings of brightly colored furniture.

There is no area which cannot be made private by a touch of the finger or twist of the wrist. Even the main bathroom is divided to permit visitors to use half as a powder room or guest bathroom.

Nature itself decorates the Bauer home which has neither pictures nor tall lamps. Despite an enormous amount of glass, the hillside site and trees give the Bauers considerable privacy.

Furnishings are for the most part of extremely simple modern design. Since the architecture of a home should be designed solely for the persons who live in it, Mr. Bauer said he made no provisions for decorative objects which might rise above the eye level of a seated person.

"I have tried to use limited space to the greatest advantage—and yet give my family every convenience possible in a modern home," Mr. Bauer explained.

This is an architect's dream come true—a triumph of imagination in design to capture the rugged beauty of the hillside, forest, river and stream and bring it into the heart of the home.

Walter Rapp Receives Certificate of Award

The February meeting was the 90th Anniversary celebration of the Cincinnati Chapter of the AIA. The Chapter was first officially recognized in 1870.

In connection with the meeting a Certificate of Award was presented to Walter L. Rapp in recognition of his devoted service to the Chapter and the Institute. Mr. Rapp recounted the history of the Chapter as he has seen it in his 54 years of membership. He was joined by a chapter "choirster," Edgar Tyler, in singing Stuffa d'Italia, a song composed by Chapter members many years ago.

Walter Rapp was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1900. He started his career with his father as George W. Rapp & Son. Shortly thereafter John Zettel joined the firm, which was changed to Rapp, Zettel & Rapp. It was later Zettel & Rapp when the older Rapp was appointed building commissioner of Cincinnati.

In 1931, after Mr. Zettel retired, Mr. Rapp and his son-in-law, Standish Meacham, formed a partnership. Mr. Meacham died in 1948.

Mr. Rapp is noted for several outstanding architectural commissions. Among these are the Krohn Conservatory, Proctor Memorial wing at Children's Hospital, Jenny Porter High School, Hillsdale and Lotspeich Schools, Lincoln National Bank and buildings for the Fifth Third Union Co., R. K. Le Blond Machine Tool Co., Cincinnati Milling Machine Co. and the Trailmobile Co.

His firm also was associated with five other architects in the design of Laurel Homes and the Lincoln Court housing projects. Among larger residences designed by the Rapp firm are homes for R. K. LeBlond, Frederick V. Geier and Dr. William T. Semple.

Columbus Chapter Donates Film To Columbus Schools

The Columbus Chapter of the AIA recently donated a film on architecture to the public school system of Columbus in an effort to help facilitate the counseling of Columbus youngsters.

The sound film outlines the interests and educational preparation necessary for a career in architecture and discusses the meaning and elements of the profession.

Richard Eiselt, AIA, chairman of the Chapter Public Relations Committee, (left) presents the film to Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of the Columbus School System, and E. F. Reichelderfer, director of student counseling. Mr. Reichelderfer hopes that such films will be donated by other representative organizations to help strengthen student counseling.

Architect Explains Profession To Grade School Children

Columbus Architect William Gilfillen, AIA, talks with the third graders of Cranbrook Elementary School, Columbus. The purpose of his visit is to explain to the children what an architect is and the role he plays in our society. He used the films WHAT IS A HOUSE and A SCHOOL FOR JOHNNY as visual aids with his talk. Pictured with Mr. Gilfillen are Mrs. Mildred Lilly, third grade teacher, and Miss Lynda Chapman, a senior at The Ohio State University who is doing her student teaching at Cranbrook.

D'Orazio Receives Design Award For Blessed Sacrament Church, Warren

P. Arthur D'Orazio, AIA architect, Youngstown, has received notification from Fred E. Kane, president of Catholic Property Administration, Greenwich, Conn. that he has received "Distinctive Design Award" on Blessed Sacrament Church, Rev. Arthur M. Nist, pastor, Warren, Diocese of Youngstown, in the Sixth Annual 1960 Architectural Awards Program in Catholic Institutional Design conducted with the co-operation of the Wisconsin Chapter of the American Institute of Architects. The selection of the jury was conducted by the Wisconsin Chapter of the AIA.

The Award is for a church in Category No. 1, seating 500. The church will be exhibited in Wisconsin at the National Catholic Education Association Convention. The primary feature of the church is its simplicity of design. It has a folded plate type roof making use of glass and space.

Blessed Sacrament Parish is a new Parish in Warren. Construction of the school and auditorium will begin in the Spring.
