

Today's News - Monday, April 15, 2002

An intriguing new show is opening this week at the Canadian Centre for Architecture - a literal "laboratory" of spaces designed by six young firms from Montreal. Today's feature presents the computer renderings and models of the architects' visions. Beginning Thursday, and through mid-September, you can see the real things. Breaking news this morning: Australian architect Glenn Murcutt has won the 2002 Pritzker Prize

- the first sole practitioner to do so. There were reports from all over; we selected two: The Sydney Morning Herald (an obvious choice), and the Los Angeles Times, which we found offered the most in-depth coverage of the architect and his work.

To subscribe to the free daily newsletter click here

"Laboratories" at the Canadian Centre for Architecture: Six young architectural firms take over CCA galleries to explore the shape of things to come. - ArchNewsNow Feature

[The Aussie tin shed is now a world-beater: Glenn Murcutt recipient of the 2002 Pritzker Prize \[image\]](#) - Sydney Morning Herald

Elevating the Natural: Architecture's top honor goes to Glenn Murcutt of Australia, who blends Modernism with a love of the environment. By Nicolai Ouroussoff - Los Angeles Times

Obituary: Sir Peter Shephard, 88, Urban architect with a lifelong vision of the natural world - The Guardian (UK)

Competition: 20th Space Magazine Prize for International Students of Architecture and Interior Design. Deadline: July 31, 2002 - Korea Times

Commentary: The Key Role of Universities in Our Nation's Economic Growth and Urban Revitalization - By Richard M. Rosan, President, Urban Land Institute - Urban Land Institute

A Plan Without a Master: Master builders of urban planner Robert Moses' ilk will probably not be a part of the redevelopment of Lower Manhattan. - New York Times

No Building Consensus: On Capitol Hill, an Office Project Divides a Neighborhood - Kevin Roche John Dinkeloo and Associates - Washington Post

[When Art Puts Down a Bet in a House of Games \[Guggenheim Las Vegas\] By Herbert Muschamp](#) - Rem Koolhaas - New York Times

[Architecture commentary: Graves' CTC \[Children's Theatre\] design a mismatch: cloying design...is a desecration...will maim a monument.](#) - Star Tribune (Minneapolis)

Commentary: It's time for our big cities to grow up - The Guardian (UK)

The Architecture of Air Travel By Michael Sorkin - New York Times

Stockholm teaches how to plan for future - Toronto Star

Utzon's unfinished symphony: Sydney Opera House - The Age (Australia)

Note: Pages will open in a new browser window.
External news links are not endorsed by ArchNewsNow.com.
Free registration may be required on some sites.
Some pages may expire after a few days.

Yesterday's News