

Today's News - August 22, 2002

First things first...our thanks to all who sent notes of congrats for ANN making PLANetizen's Top 50 list! We've lost another talent: interior and furniture designer Paul Tuttle. The woman in charge of the WTC memorial answers questions. The future of San Jose's fire-ravaged Santana Row, now priced at $750 million, is up in the air (and foul play is not ruled out). Downtown Washington, DC is hoping to become a Mecca of culture and nightlife. South London streetscapes are given artistic life. An architect practically lives for baseball. In Australia, paying a corrupt piper gets the job done. Atlanta has three (very wealthy) angels...and a bit more.

To subscribe to the free daily newsletter click here

Obituary: Paul Tuttle, 84; Designer's Furniture Exhibited as Art- Los Angeles Times

[A Conversation With Anita Contini, director of memorial, cultural and civic programs for the Lower Manhattan Development Corporation \[transcript\]](#)- Gotham Gazette

Sorting out rubble of Santana Row: Plans for charred complex up in the air- San Francisco Chronicle

At Convention Center Site, a Convergence Of New Possibilities: City Gearing Up to Determine Look, Feel Of Downtown Mecca for Living, Night Life ...will issue request for proposals for a development partner- Washington Post

Water and Woe for the Czechs' Cultural Gems- New York Times

[After visiting downtown, architects are "charged up" about convention center: \$80 million project would \[include\] Marriott Hotel and museum - Cooper Carry](#)- Lancaster New Era (Pennsylvania)

Road show: Zandra Rhodes and Antony Gormley are among the local creative talents helping to cheer up a deprived area of south London by putting art on the streets of Peckham- The Guardian (UK)

A major player in the lives of 2 baseball cities: Boston's historic Fenway Park is next up for the creative force behind Camden Yards. Architect Janet Marie Smith vs. the Green Monster- Baltimore Sun

Building giant wrote cheques 'under duress' to get job done- Sydney Morning Herald

[Movers and shakers have plans that would shape downtown: a world-class aquarium \[designed by Thompson, Ventulett, Stainback & Associates\], new World of Coca-Cola and the children's museum](#)- Atlanta Journal-Constitution

Growth plan: Several years before opening its Australia exhibit, the National Aquarium nurtures the exotic creatures that will populate it. - Chernyeff, Sollogub and Poole- Baltimore Sun

INSIGHT: Art in Architecture: Ancient Simpatico By Gordon Huether- ArchNewsNow

Note: Pages will open in a new browser window.
External news links are not endorsed by ArchNewsNow.com.
Free registration may be required on some sites.
Some sites may expire after a few days.

Yesterday's News