Silverstein names his own overseer. -- Reconstructing Iraq. -- Local and international architects chomping at the bit for a shot at new Winnipeg museum. -- Underwater Guggenheim may tank. - International shortlist for Armenian museum. -- A Sci Fi museum for Seattle. -- Shopping and skiing at Xanadu Madrid (what would Kubla Khan think?). -- Architect makes new home in L.A. -- St. Louis puts $1.4 billion to good use. -- Preserving Beijing's treasures. -- Harvard approves long-awaited building plan. -- Lowest cost choice often leads to losses for both designers and projects. -- A blow-up basilica - just in time for Easter.

To subscribe to the free daily newsletter, click here.

Silverstein names Ground Zero overseer - Crain's New York

British consultants are in talks with US construction firms over contracts in Iraq - Building (UK)

Tribute to human rights: $270-million Canadian Museum for Human Rights...on Winnipeg's riverfront...architects in are already abuzz...expected to submit proposals - National Post (Canada)

Rio Guggenheim: Grand vision or 'cultural Titanic'? Criticism of the proposed museum is aesthetic as well as political - Jean Nouvel - Chicago Tribune

International Competition Selects Final Three Firms: Winning Firm Will Design $25 Million Modern Art Museum in Armenia - Bernard Tschumi Architects; COOP HIMMELB(L)AU; MVRDV - Armenian News Network

Science Fiction Experience in EMP's near future: Paul Allen's latest plan for the Experience Music Project is out of this world - Seattle Post-Intelligencer

In love with a 'normal city': Austrian-born Raimund Abraham is teaching again, this time in L.A. - Los Angeles Times

Downtown Renaissance: Luring suburban residents back to the city is at the heart of the St. Louis effort to rejuvenate downtown - National Real Estate Investor

New Beijing to combine modern and ancient glories: the city's largest conservation project since 1949 - Shanghai Daily

Harvard Approves New North Yard Science Building - José Rafael Moneo - The Harvard Crimson

Better design worth more in the long run: "lowest cost" instead of "best value", result is usually poor design, virtually no "value adding", spiralling construction budgets and, sometimes for the designers, massive losses - Sydney Morning Herald

Blow-up basilica: British designer has made what he says is the world's first inflatable church - Michael Glick [image] - Sydney Morning Herald

2003 Call For Submissions for Architectural Graphic Standards First Annual: "Architectural Entries, Openings, and Doorways" - ArchNewsNow

WTC Proposals: Who's Saying What Worldwide (updated 04/04/03) - ArchNewsNow

Note: Pages will open in a new browser window. External news links are not endorsed by ArchNewsNow.com. Free registration may be required on some sites. Some sites may expire after a few days.

© 2003 ArchNewsNow.com