Sprawl May Harm Health, Study Finds: ...a link between the world of strip malls, cut-de-sacs and subdivisions and a broad array of ailments. - Washington Post

Study: Suburban sprawl unhealthy: "...one way to improve our health is to build cities where people feel comfortable walking and are not so dependent on cars." Scripps Howard News Service

A study of the ecological impact of the FA Cup Final is set to help architects design more efficient sports grounds. - BBC News

Douglas Cardinal's dream: Although some of its boldest gestures were compromised when a new firm completed it, the Canadian architect's National Museum of the American Indian is a powerful accomplishment. By Lisa Rochon - Polshek Partnership - Globe and Mail (Canada)

No, the Conquistadors Are Not Back. It's Just Wal-Mart: ...an ugly cinderblock building rising from the earth...near the ancient ruins of Teotihuacán. - New York Times

Lucky Berlin a city AND a province: There are many lessons Toronto can learn from Berlin: some tell us what to do, others what not to do. "...it is a landscape of exposed nerve-endings...in a constant state of becoming." By Christopher Hume - Toronto Star

Grand plan for the national museums in Norway: ...four institutions are to be merged into one super museum, with an emphasis on the contemporary...hope for an architectural competition later this year. - The Art Newspaper

Grand dame re-emerges as a fashion hub: ...fire-ravaged Melbourne GPO...undergoing a renaissance... - Walter Burley Griffin (1919); Williams Boag; Williams Burke [before/after images]; The Age (Australia)

Bank of Scotland's historic HQ [in Edinburgh] starts trip back to the future - David Bryce (1871); Malcolm Fraser Architects - The Scotsman (UK)

Architects find fame is fleeting: Should Kansas City's sports palace be an architectural statement of a creative genius named Frank Gehry? Or...a showcase for our own world-renowned sports architecture firms? ...it really doesn't matter all that much who gets the job. - Kansas City Star

The new sheltered housing: if architect Sean Godsell had his way, a bus shelter wouldn't be just a place to wait for a bus...trvd of self-funded designs exploring homelessness. [image] - The Age (Australia)

Taliesin West hosting green-building event: "Taliesin West: Building in Harmony With Nature," Oct. 20-23...will ponder Wright's concepts in light of today's environmental challenges - Arizona Republic

Curious tale of designers and architects 'sleeping together': McConnville Architecture + CuriousOranj = CuriousGroup...more than a strategic alliance but much less than a merger. - Sunday Herald (Scotland)

James Dyson resigns seat at Design Museum; Jonathan Glancy on a clash of styles and ideology. - Guardian (UK)

"The Urban Cliff Revolution" argues that cliffs and rock shelters have played a vital role in the origin, evolution and development of the entire human habitat, including modern cities. Why are penthouse apartments the most coveted and expensive? - Newwise

State's 500G geniuses: New York glass sculptor James Carpenter, who helped design a breakthrough transparent exterior for 7 World Trade Center, winner of $500,000 MacArthur Foundation grant. - NY Daily News

INSIGHT: Ticking the Right Boxes: In today's quest to add value at all costs, are we not losing sight of the most important aspect of all - the architecture itself? By Austin Williams - ArchNewsNow

Metamorphosis and Transcending Hype: Observations from the Field: The Venice Biennale offers a message of optimism and exuberant anticipation for architecture in a post-9/11 world -- for the most part. By Margaret Helfand, FAIA [images] - ArchNewsNow