Today's News - November 28, 2006

Good news/bad news/green news day: Cloepfil wins Denver's Still museum, - Maye wins Paris tower to rival Eiffel (capped with a field of wind turbines, too). - The Whitney - and Piano - head to the High Line. - Consensualists call Gehry's towers for Hove seafont "garish, harsh, and unfriendly." - Protests and public votes for Gazprom City tower in St. Petersburg (not that either will count). - Ada Carmi returns to Jerusalem, but Zendiberg will design it with "a little more modestly, humidity, sense of proportion and environmental awareness." - It's majestic vs. practicality as Grimshaw's dome for Lower Manhattan transit hub gets whittled down a little bit more (again). - Wolfe does more than whittle away at NYC Landmarks Preservation Commission ("a bureau of the walking dead"). - Green buildings mushroom as more states and cities make environmentally friendly building mandatory. - Ski resorts go green on white slopes. - An inspiring exhibition in Cleveland of affordable, green houses by architects you've never heard of. - Call for entries for ASLA 2007 landscape design awards. - (ASLA)

Strong buildings are no barrier: Allied Works' Cloepfil has experience designing near major statements. - Clyfford Still Museum will house about 95 percent of the noted abstract expressionist painter's work. - By Mary Voelz Chandler -- Diller Scofidio + Renfro; Ohlhausen DuBois Architects - Rocky Mountain News (Denver)

Paris skyscraper to rival tower: The city of Paris has chosen an American architect to build the capital's tallest new building [La Phare/the lighthouse] since the Eiffel Tower. - Thom Mayne/Morphosis beat out rivals as prestigious as the UK's Norman Foster and France's own Jean Nouvel. - BBC News

Op-Ed: The (Naked) City and the Undead: ...the Landmarks Preservation Commission has been de facto defunct for going on 20 years. Today it is a bureau of the walking dead... By Tom Wolfe - New York Times

Building idealism with 'green,' affordable home designs: Cleveland Institute of Art...showing an outstanding exhibition of plans for affordable and environmentally sensitive homes...by architects you've never heard of..."Home House Project"...demolish the idea that affordable housing has to look mean, nasty and punitive. By Steven Litt -- Financial Times (UK)

Going green on the white stuff: ...with climate change becoming regarded as a direct economic threat to the industry, there is a growing movement among ski resorts to provide sustainable solutions to the problem... - Financial Times (UK)

To subscribe to the free daily newsletter click here

Strong buildings are no barrier: Allied Works' Cloepfil has experience designing near major statements. - Clyfford Still Museum will house about 95 percent of the noted abstract expressionist painter's work. - By Mary Voelz Chandler -- Diller Scofidio + Renfro;

Ohlhausen DuBois Architects - Rocky Mountain News (Denver)

Paris skyscraper to rival tower: The city of Paris has chosen an American architect to build the capital's tallest new building [La Phare/the lighthouse] since the Eiffel Tower. - Thom Mayne/Morphosis beat out rivals as prestigious as the UK's Norman Foster and France's own Jean Nouvel. - BBC News

Strong buildings are no barrier: Allied Works' Cloepfil has experience designing near major statements. - Clyfford Still Museum will house about 95 percent of the noted abstract expressionist painter's work. - By Mary Voelz Chandler -- Diller Scofidio + Renfro; Ohlhausen DuBois Architects - Rocky Mountain News (Denver)

Paris skyscraper to rival tower: The city of Paris has chosen an American architect to build the capital's tallest new building [La Phare/the lighthouse] since the Eiffel Tower. - Thom Mayne/Morphosis beat out rivals as prestigious as the UK's Norman Foster and France's own Jean Nouvel. - BBC News

The Israeli architectural genome: ...Ada Carmi is returning to Jerusalem. - The Avi Chai Foundation [and] Schechter Institute of Jewish Studies are another link in the genealogical chain...has reproduced fossilized, archaic, threatened architectural styles from this code; ethnocentric rhetoric and a sense of messianism almost always accompany this effort. By Esther Zandberg - Ha'aretz (Israel)

Majesty vs. Practicality in Planning Downtown Subway Station: "We are not building cathedrals here." domed station had been redesigned at least three times already because costs of other parts of the project had escalated. - Grimshaw - New York Times

Russian Window on the West Reaches for the Sky: A plan by Russia's state energy company for Gazprom City towers along the Neva River has drawn protests from critics who say the project will overshadow the old city. - Nouvel; Fuksas; Herzog & de Meuron; Koolhaas/OMA; RMJM London; Libeskind [images, links] - New York Times

The Tipping Point: ...across the U.S., the number of certified green buildings built each year has mushroomed...getting an extra push from state and local governments that could vastly accelerate the movement, making energy-efficient and environmentally friendly building techniques all but mandatory. - National Real Estate Investor (NREI)

Going green on the white stuff: ...with climate change becoming regarded as a direct economic threat to the industry, there is a growing movement among ski resorts to provide sustainable solutions to the problem. - Financial Times (UK)

The greening of Grand Avenue: Considered an heir to the gracious and civic-minded Frederick Law Olmsted, Laurie Olm is pacing the area that will become the ambitious Grand Avenue Project... - Frank Gehry; Mark Ross; Brenda Levy - Los Angeles Times

Call for entries: ASLA 2007 Awards; registration deadlines: February 9, 2007 (Professional); May 18, 2007 (Students) - American Society of Landscape Architects (ASLA)

The green revolution: Considered an heir to the gracious and civic-minded Frederick Law Olmsted, Laurie Olm is pacing the area that will become the ambitious Grand Avenue Project... - Los Angeles Times

In the footsteps of Gilbert Scott: Richard Grifftis Architects add to the gothic fantasy of London's St. Pancras Hotel! It is, however, subtly different. By Hugh Pearman -- RHWL Architects [images] - HughPearman.com (UK)

Frocks and Blocks: Fashion meets architecture in Los Angeles...Architecture critics have already started to grumble about the tenuous nature of the connections. The clothing in "Skin & Bones" is perhaps most akin to architecture in its appropriation of the body as a site... - Tsao & McKown; Tschumi; Dubbeldam; To; Gehry; Hadid; Barn; Peter Testa; Davyn Weiser; Ando; OMA/Rem Koolhaas; Herzog & de Meuron; etc. - New Yorker

OMA/Rem Koolhaas: Seoul National University Museum, Seoul, South Korea

Note: Pages will open in a new browser window.
External news links are not endorsed by ArchNewsNow.com.
Free registration may be required on some sites.
Some pages may expire after a few days.

Yesterday's News

© 2006 ArchNewsNow.com