has grabbed headlines, the city took another major step toward reinventing streets...with the release of NYC’s first Street Design Manual, a “playbook” of guidelines for creating new streets and retrofitting old ones. [link to manual]- The Architect's Newspaper

How High: Are taller ceilings yet another example of wretched architectural excess? Not necessarily. In fact, it is low ceilings that are the aberration. By Witold Rybczynski- Slate

Association for Community Design 2009 Annual Conference: “Shrinking Cities: Growing Communities” June 4 - 7, Rochester, New York- Association for Community Design (ACD)

2009 Honor Award: A Salute to Visionaries in Sustainability: Mayor Richard M. Daley and the City of Chicago; S. Richard Fedrizzi/U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC); Majora Carter/Sustainable South Bronx/Majora Carter Group; Louis R. Chênevert/United Technologies; gala celebration June 4- National Building Museum

Call for entries: Sunset's Western Home Awards: Entries must be located in and be the work of registered architects in 13 Western states and western Canada; earlybird deadline (discounted entry fee): July 17; deadline: August 17- Sunset magazine

-- Nearing completion: Asymptote Architecture: The Yas Hotel, Abu Dhabi, UAE
-- Exhibition: "Frank Lloyd Wright: From Within Outward," Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, New York City

Note: Pages will open in a new browser window. External news links are not endorsed by ArchNewsNow.com. Free registration may be required on some sites. Some pages may expire after a few days.