Hello Everybody and Good Morning!

As part of improvements as suggested by our excellent Advisory Council, you'll see many changes put in place this week.

First, to reduce people's e-mail, the TMH newsletter will go out only once a week, generally on Mondays, with extra issues only as needed for special events. The TMH website already a totally new look and feel with new navigation and soon, the addition of 100 more houses. The TMH store is now open with cool, environmentally sustainable logo products. And if you run a design-oriented business, the Sponsor page is a highly informative, one-stop destination to support the TMH community through house tours, architecture movies, and this site.

Thanks to your support – the DC Art+Architecture trip on June 18 is a go! We made the minimum and the folks going are really, really, I mean really happy about that.

Coming next week, I'll start wrapping up registration for the May 22 Charlotte IKEA and Design Within Reach trip, only $49, or less if you're a Mod Squad Member.

NEW ICON of MODERN: William Morgan, with tremendous thanks to Max Eternity for curating this nearly 50-year collection of exceptional Florida houses, almost all still standing.

←Interested in having your house (or you) photographed? Today only, f8 Photo Studios of Raleigh offers a one-hour on-location photo shoot with $50 to Spend on Prints – for only $75. That’s an exceptional deal and 80% off the regular price. Learn more here.

News from Historic Charlotte: Preservation Month kicked off on May 1st by celebrating and promoting awareness of an often overlooked segment of local historic interest - our eclectic and iconic vintage neon and wall signs associated with local businesses and the vanishing roadside Americana in the Charlotte region. Taken down in 2009 The Copal Grill sign ( along with other neon signs and sign-inspired art by more than a dozen local artists) is on display at Artevation Mill this coming weekend. All events are free and open to the public. A portion of the proceeds will go directly to support Historic Charlotte and its mission of preservation in the region. One key element of the Preservation Month celebration is artEVATION (art +preservation). Preservation Month events and activities are at Atherton Mill, 2000 South Boulevard, and are free and open to the public. They include: May 7th at 4:00 – 10:00pm & May 8th at 10:00am – 4:00pm. The 3rd Annual artEVATION: Save Our Signs multi-media invitational art show featuring a dozen local and regional artists celebrating local signage, vanishing Americana and the emerging urban landscape. May 25th – Launch of The New Roadside Wonders Driving Tour Brochure – featuring the history of iconic signage and roadside “wonders” in and around Charlotte.
