THE NCMH LEGAL DEFENSE FUND

- Do you think it's OK for the City or Raleigh to issue a building permit after the owner has gotten all the approvals then revoke that permit, condemning a almost-completed house? This very situation is happening now in Oakwood, and you can join with the the NCMH Legal Defense Fund (LDF) to actively defend this and other Modernist houses under threat.

- 24 architectural adventurers went on the NCMH Washington Modernist Tour this past weekend and you won't believe what they got to see!

HOUSE ALERTS!

By a unanimous vote, the California State Historical Resources Commission voted to support the nomination of Richard Neutra's Connell House as eligible for listing on the State Registry. This is a step to getting on the National Register of Historic Places. The bad news: that status can't be given without the owner's consent -- which is not going to happen. The owner is determined to tear it down and build a new 11,000sf house. Left to right: Some of the Connell team members in attendance, including Karen Lesney, Neutra's son Raymond Neutra, Neutra expert Barbara Lamprecht, Sally Aberg, Jeffrey Becom, Mike Dawson and Judy MacClelland.
