NCMH is a North Carolina 501C3 nonprofit educational archive for the documentation, preservation, and promotion of Modernist houses.
Visit NCMH at www.ncmodernist.org.

THE NEWS

- Milton Small's masterful 3515 Glenwood building was sold October 13 to the Bank of North Carolina. According to Triangle Business Journal, the bank plans to destroy it later this month for a three-story 75,000 square foot replacement, second photo. Please help NCMH monitor when the demolition permit is issued online here. Is the end near? We'll know soon.
- Architect Ralph Crump, formerly of Winston-Salem, passed away last month in Maryland. See some of his early residential work here.
- 33 architecture book recommendations. Hat tip to Consuelo Marshall.
- A restaurant made from shipping containers in Asheville.

- Eero Saarinen's Gateway Arch in St. Louis celebrates 50 years. See other entries for the design competition for what is officially called the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial. Above is George Matsumoto's entry.

- The Sunnylands/Annenberg Retreat near Palm Springs also celebrates 50 years. A. Quincy Jones was the architect.
- Coming soon to the NCMH Masters Gallery archives: E. Fay Jones of Arkansas.
- The Chicago City Council approves the George Lucas Museum in a prime spot.

Snøhetta is one of the most prominent architecture firms in the world, famous for the new Library of Alexandria in Egypt, the new Oslo Opera House in Norway, and the new addition to the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art. Join hosts George Smart and Frank King as they talk with co-founder Craig Dykers along with Greg Raschke, Associate Director for Collections & Scholarly Communication at NC State University. Greg was deeply involved in the construction of the Hunt Library that Snøhetta designed. You may recall he's a great friend of the show, having binge-listened earlier this year - and survived! Subscribe free on iTunes, or play or download free via Libsyn to any Android or desktop PC or Mac. Produced with support from Greg Kelly of ModboxUSA and Sarah Sonke of MoHo Realty. Don't know how to get podcasts on your iPhone or iPad? Watch our helpful, badly filmed, one-minute instructional video!
