RALEIGH
STRUCTURES
FOR INCLUSION 16

Most people will never hire an architect. But we are all affected by architects and design. How can we make buildings and spaces better places for everyone? The 16th annual Structures for Inclusion (SFI) Conference in Raleigh, March 18-20, features the best public interest design from around the globe. SFI brings together and shares the best ideas and practices reaching those currently unserved by architecture. Details and tickets.

On USModernist Radio this week: Every year, Sarasota Mod in Sarasota FL throws a great conference on mid-century modern and this year was focused on Paul Rudolph, an architect who made his name in exciting coastal architecture before moving on to become Dean of Architecture at Yale. Rudolph's work is recognized around the world for bold, progressive masses. People are polarized around his work. Modernists praise his visionary designs of concrete and steel, others see them as cold and impractical. Stephanie Grosskreutz works with Visit Sarasota, the folks who want you to go and stay, dine, tour, and take in the scenery. George Smart talks with Stephanie about how Modernist architecture has impacted Sarasota and draws people from all over the world to visit.

Thursday, March 17, 6-8pm, NCMH's monthly Thirst4Architecture design networking party at Beyond Blue Interiors, North Hills Mall in Raleigh. T4A design networking events are sponsored by Emilie

RED ALERT! The 1951 A. M. and Ruth Fleishman Residence, 2614 Morganton Road, Fayetteville NC. Designed by Greensboro's Edward Loewenstein. Jim Brandt was the draftsman. Built by Ed Rynick. The house has recently been cleaned up and looks really good! Still, it's going to be a labor of love for the right person. Details in the Endangered Section.

Dead Mod Walking: Milton Small's masterful 3515 Glenwood building was sold last fall to the Bank of North Carolina. The Bank will replace it with a larger, typical office building, not nearly-so-masterful. Here's a recent post on the building and Milton Small by Victoria Bell. Help monitor when the demolition permit is approved online here. If you want the Small building saved, let the Bank President, Rick Callicutt, know what you think: rcallicutt@bankofnc.com. It would make a fabulous bank office building, no?
