HEAT GUN...THE EASIEST, SAFEST WAY TO REMOVE PAINT

The electric heat gun softens paint in a uniform way so that it can be scraped off with a knife. Some clean-up with chemical remover is required, but the volume needed—and the mess—is vastly reduced.

Heat Gun is safer: It avoids the hazards of methylene chloride vapors present in paint removers. Operating temperature is lower than a propane torch, avoiding danger of lead poisoning and fire. See article in November 1979 OHJ for operating details.

The Master HG-501 Heat Gun is #1 in paint removing. More than 3,000 are in use by OHJ subscribers...and the testimonials to its effectiveness come in every day. It is a heavy-duty industrial tool operating at 500-700 F. and draws 14 amps at 120 volts. Rugged all-metal construction; no plastics! See ad in the Nov. 1979 OHJ Emporium for full list of product features.

There's a two-month replacement guarantee: If the unit should fail for any reason within 60 days of purchase, return it to The Old-House Journal and we'll provide a free replacement.

Price of $62.96 includes: (1) Pedestal stand worth $6.75; (2) Same-day shipping via United Parcel Service; (3) The Old-House Journal replacement guarantee. Telephone orders accepted on VISA or COD. (There's a $2 charge for COD.)

REVIEWS

“... a handsome and commendable contribution to the study of Victorian architecture . . .”

AIA Journal, May 1977

“... The superb photographs by Carol Otwell immediately qualify this as an excellent coffee-table book. It is, however, much more than just a picture book . . . the table of contents reads like a late 19th century’s builder’s catalog . . . Judith Waldhorn imparts an abundance of information about this period . . . without dwelling on scholarly distinctions which the layman might find tedious . . .”

Smithsonian, May 1978

HEAT GUN...THE EASIEST, CLEANEST WAY TO REMOVE PAINT

The electric heat gun softens paint in a uniform way so that it can be scraped off with a knife. Some clean-up with chemical remover is required, but the volume needed—and the mess—is vastly reduced. Heat Gun is safer: It avoids the hazards of methylene chloride vapors present in paint removers. Operating temperature is lower than a propane torch, avoiding danger vaporizing lead. See article in November 1979 OHJ for operating details.

The Master HG-501 Heat Gun is #1 in paint removing. More than 4,000 are in use by OHJ subscribers...and the testimonials to its effectiveness come in every day. It is a heavy-duty industrial tool operating at 500-700 F. and draws 14 amps at 120 volts. Rugged all-metal construction; no plastics!

There's a two-month replacement guarantee: If the unit should fail for any reason within 60 days of purchase, return it to The Old-House Journal and we'll provide a free replacement.

Price of $62.95 includes: (1) Pedestal stand worth $6.75; (2) Same-day shipping via United Parcel Service; (3) The Old-House Journal replacement guarantee. Telephone orders accepted on VISA or COD. (There's a $2 charge for COD).

If Selling Old Houses is your business...

...then you'll want to see the special package The Old-House Journal has developed to acquaint your customers with the unique joys and problems of old house living.

The Old-House Journal Real Estate package contains sample copies of The Old-House Journal, plus three supplementary brochures:

1) Inspection Checklist for Vintage Houses
2) How to Date an Old House
3) Field Guide to Old-House Styles

What does the package cost?--Nothing! The editors of The Old-House Journal feel that the more people know about old houses the less likely they are to unwittingly "remuddle" priceless architectural treasures. And, of course, it helps us.

Some Real Estate Salespersons have also been giving subscriptions to The Old-House Journal as housewarming presents to people who have purchased old houses from them.

As a result of this growing practice, we have created a special Business Gift Discount. It's available through a Discount Gift Form that we can send to you.

If you would like bulk copies of The Old-House Journal as housewarming presents to people who have purchased old houses from them, send us a line at the address below.

THE EASIEST, CLEANEST WAY TO REMOVE PAINT
THE MASTER APPLIANCE HEAT GUN
MORE THAN 4,000 IN USE BY OLD-HOUSE JOURNAL SUBSCRIBERS

There's no PLEASANT way to remove paint. But if you have a large amount of paint to strip, the fastest, safest and most economical way is with the Master Appliance electric heat gun.

The Master heat gun has been collecting raves from readers ever since Patricia and Wilkie Talbert's original letter in the April 1976 issue of The Old-House Journal. Since then, more than 4,000 OHJ subscribers have purchased heat guns. The raves are still coming in. Master Appliance is the #1 maker of heat guns in the U.S.; they sell more because their heat gun has a proven track record of long life and reliability. When The Old-House Journal decided to make these hard-to-find tools available directly to our readers, we naturally turned to the #1 heat gun.

Of special interest are the safety factors. The heat gun avoids the hazards of methylene chloride vapors that are given off by most paint removers. And because it operates at a lower temperature than a propane torch, there's no danger of vaporizing lead the way a torch will. (Of course, you should observe normal precautions in handling the scrapings of any lead-based paint.) Too, the fire danger is lower than with a propane torch or blowtorch. (But because it is a heat-generating tool, caution should be observed with wall partitions that contain dust.)

The heat gun is NOT recommended for: (1) Removing shellac and varnish; (2) Stripping paint on window muntins (possible cracking of the glass from heat); (3) Stripping the entire exterior of a house (too slow); (4) Stripping Early American milk paint (only ammonia will do that).

The electric heat gun softens paint in a uniform way so that it can be scraped off with a knife. Some clean-up with chemical remover is required, but the heat gun will remove about 98% of the paint—vastly reducing the amount of chemical needed and the consequent mess. See article in the November 1979 OHJ for additional details on operation.

Because it is a high-quality industrial tool, the Master heat gun isn't cheap. But with paint remover around $12 per gallon, the gun only costs as much as 5-6 gallons of remover. In some communities, groups of neighbors are buying a heat gun to share.

Price of $62.95 includes: (1) Pedestal stand worth $6.76; (2) Same-day shipping via United Parcel Service; (3) The Old-House Journal replacement guarantee. Telephone orders also accepted on VISA or via COD (there's a $2 charge for COD).
